

Gaslighting Satan

This book covers August 11, 2021, and on. This is the sequel to Blackmailing God. If you haven't read it, I would highly recommend you read it prior to this; otherwise, this book will not make sense.

Blackmailing God is also written by Mickey Yolo and is available on Amazon. The format is going to be the same, and like before, there are a bunch of individual topics listed mostly in chronological order. We left off the last book with a few challenges I was facing.

I bet Satan that he couldn't say the affirmation, "I hate you. I really, really hate you," while looking in a mirror at least once a day for ninety days. I'm still trying to see if Satan can do it, and my guess is that he already failed. I recommended that he also have his demons do this, too, as a "team building" exercise...tsk-tsk. I'm really hoping Satan stupidly does and destroys his psyche, slowly wearing himself down. He only believes in hate, and that would give him a taste of his own torture. I hope all of Satan's demons do it, too, and it wreaks havoc on morale.

We ended on Plan Delta: Death to Satan. I put a hit out on Satan's life. I updated the hit to either be twenty-five thousand points or twenty-five thousand US dollars for Satan's life—with tangible proof that he's dead for good. I also put a hit out on Satan's family/those close to Satan for twenty-five thousand points or twenty-five thousand US dollars. Again, I needed tangible proof that those individuals were gone. Please don't think this is too aggressive: the United States took out Saddam's son—and specifically Uday Hussein was an absolute sociopath. The entire family/group needs to be cut down.

Over the past few days—currently August 14, 2021—I've also placed a thirty-point/dollar hit on any demon that has harassed, touched, or communicated with me. I offered five thousand points/dollars to any individual or individuals who eradicated all the demons in my mind, body, and spirit. I also hired a bodyguard, likely a demon-turned-bodyguard, for one thousand points an Earth month to protect me from other demons/gods/deities. What better than a demon to protect me from other demons? The best weapon against a demon is another demon.

As of today, August 12, 2021, the editor is one-third of the way through the manuscript of Blackmailing God. To recap, here are the following plans I've implemented over the course of Blackmailing God:

Signal Plan: Never implemented.

Plan Alpha: God goes to therapy—FAILED.

Plan Bravo: Satan goes to therapy—FAILED.

Plan Charlie: God and Satan go to rehab—FAILED.

Plan Delta: Death to Satan—IN PROCESS.

I'm not using any substances as I write this book, and I won't be using any substances. This story is entirely from my memories and dreams using logic and occasional communication from the universe because they haven't learned yet to leave me alone. As you may have discovered, I'm basically haunted by God, Satan, and demons. I've grown used to it. Frankly, I'm sick of it and have lost full faith and confidence in the leadership of the universe. I'm waiting for Blackmailing God to come out to see its effect on the simulation. My plan calls for God, Satan, and the demons to face repercussions from other gods and deities. They all opened their mouths and said way too much; they're going to upset a lot of important beings.

As stated in the prior book, Satan was pretty upset that I was trying to destroy his forty-thousand-year-old simulation. God technically owns Earth, and Satan is just a caretaker. At first, I thought the book needed to be published before beginning Plan Delta, but then I decided to space the hits out. I'm going to begin here where I left off at the end of Blackmailing God:

Gaslighting Satan

Redundancy: Again, just like in Blackmailing God, I may be redundant. I feel it's okay to mention things multiple times. My real goal is to not forget any details. I just don't want to miss anything, but then I guess that's what the third book will be for. Also, the wording may seem funny—weird even—but I want to convey the information effectively without confusion. My editor makes it all grammatically correct so I don't sound as much like an idiot.

Ouija Board: At rehab, there's a Ouija board brought in by one of the patients. I was moved to a less restricted program within the rehab I'm currently in. We have more freedom, so we go to the pool, take trips out, and cook our own meals. Apparently, apartment five in this housing complex is haunted. I'm pretty sure it's haunted by the ghost of a patient who overdosed. Since I've been here, there has been one overdose death, so it does happen. Have you ever used a Ouija board? I haven't and never will. I seriously think those things open you up to spirits/deities, and sometimes they don't play nice—kind of scary for a game made by Hasbro. It's not good to play around with the universe, and please take my word for it. It's been almost three years since I first accessed the universe, and I'm still ensnared in it.

Life: I don't take everything very seriously anymore because God and Satan are stupid, so everything is stupid. It's been three years, and I'm still being affected by this stupidity.

Tattoo: I got my first tattoo today, August 15, 2021. It's a cross over my right radial artery on my wrist to mark me as a Christian. I'm not God's property and definitely not Satan's either. I'm hoping that by looking at the cross, it'll remind me to never be a douchebag. The cross tattoo also serves as a constant reminder of Jesus Christ. When I shake someone's hand, they'll see it.

Elysium-19: At least half of the patients in this rehab have used E-19. I talked to a bunch of them, and they haven't had the experiences I did. They saw and heard things but were also on meth, mushrooms, LSD, etc.

Plan Delta: Basically, the goal of this plan is to have Satan killed—exterminated. Satan will either be killed by others, or Satan will kill himself. I'm going to find a way for Satan to pay for his own hit on his own life.

Imaging: I try to upset God/Satan/demons by picturing a cross in my mind, Jesus, or the act of praying. I don't think God likes Jesus, and personally, I think God feels inferior to Jesus. There's a jealousy component in there somewhere.

Queen of Hearts: In the “Iraqi Most Wanted” playing cards, Saddam Hussein was the ace of spades, and Uday Hussein was the ace of hearts. If that comparison was made for the “Universe's Most Wanted,” God would be the ace of spades, and Satan would be the ace of hearts.

Natural Laws: There are some things/laws that exist outside of the universe that God possibly created. One of the laws that exists outside of the universe is “What Goes Around, Comes Around.” God and Satan think that they're going to get away with all the heinous acts they've performed. I believe what goes around, comes around.

Heart Path: The heart symbol (♥) is actually the trajectory of an orbit according to God. The outline of the heart traced the orbit when God left Earth to hide on a different planet and, supposedly, the orbit he'll take when he comes back. I believe this is bullshit because God has been here the entire time, partying with the rich and famous, living it up, and jerking off in Hollywood.

Gaslighting Satan

God Dropped Out: God doesn't talk to me very much anymore; he's basically dropped out. Satan is still active and digging himself a hole. I think God wanted Satan to get tripped up in this mess so that Satan would be exterminated. God thinks he's going to get away scot-free.

Satan's Jealousy: Satan is a very jealous creature by nature. He's jealous of God and Jesus Christ. Satan is also jealous of many humans because he can't ever seem to find happiness and humans tend to find/seek out happiness. Satan will never have a family and he is jealous of those that have a family.

Name of the Book: I feel I have to mention Satan in the title because the book is about breaking down Satan and then leading him to execution. Unfortunately, if you say Satan's name, Satan gets god points. I wish I didn't have to put Satan's name in the title. Please, just avoid ever saying Satan's name, kind of like Lord Voldemort in Harry Potter. Satan is the "One Who Should Not Be Named." Call him "Mierda" instead. Call God "Caca."

Beating Gods: It's easy for humans to beat gods. Gods aren't well-rounded; they lack wisdom and are basically just computers. They lack the culmination of life experiences it takes to be wise and well-rounded. A god will always be able to compute faster than you, such as if challenged to a simple math competition, like addition or multiplication. However, a human would be able to beat a god when it comes to a complex math competition, like differential equations. God once admitted he's bad at math.

Clean Soul: I'm willing to kill Satan. I have a clean soul I can dirty up a little bit. I'm willing to pull the trigger and kill Satan and demons. God could also be used as a tool to get this done. I'm pretty sure that God is frankly sick of Satan and is looking to get rid of him. Maybe, God would be an excellent person to execute Satan.

Personality of God: God's personality is complex because he has multiple personalities. You have to get to know each one to really understand God. In all actuality, he's quite simple. It's not hard to communicate with God, but the problem is he switches personalities mid-conversation—that's the difficulty. There's nothing special about God; he's just a computer.

Killing Satan: Not only am I looking to kill Satan, but I'm also looking to take everything dear away from him: his dog, his "family", his favorite hooker, etc. Satan won't be able to buy or sell. Satan will be a persona non grata in the universe. If Satan isn't an individual entity but a group of individuals, like the group "God," then they'll all be exterminated in addition to Satan.

Sobriety and Satan: Satan has never tried sobriety. He just can't. He's so addicted to substances that he has never been sober for thousands of years.

From the Woodwork: Satan has collected enemies throughout his existence. I'm hoping that some of the enemies will "Come Out of the Woodwork" and take a stab at Satan and all that is dear to him. It's never good to collect enemies like Satan, but I know for a fact that Satan has enemies, and those enemies want revenge. Satan's enemies will likely kill him.

Tricks: A human can use the same tricks against Satan that Satan uses against humans. Lies, cheating, stealing, killing—they're all on the table. "No Holds Barred." Anything is fair game in the pursuit of exterminating Satan. Satan doesn't play by the rules at all, and a good example of this is the song, "The Devil Went Down to Georgia." Satan cheated by having demons join him during his performance. Johnny played solo, but the devil had to use demons to be competitive. Never trust Satan. Never have sympathy for the devil.

Gaslighting Satan

Addiction: I always tell Satan to have another drink or go shoot some heroin. If Satan is upset, I encourage him to use substances to help deal with his emotions. I want Satan so far down in the dark hole of addiction that he'll never be able to crawl out. I want Satan constantly at death's door, praying for death, ideating suicidal thoughts, and if we're lucky, I want Satan to attempt to kill himself. I would love it if he was successful at doing so. I sure hope, fingers crossed, that he doesn't fuck it up for once and is actually successful at his suicide. I'm using Satan's own addictions to imprison him. That's just where I want him.

Pacify Satan: I tell Satan that everything is okay—that everything is fine. I tell him to just go do some more heroin, and it's all going to get better. It's all going to work out well. I even tell Satan that humans will forget about his past.

Recorded: God is paranoid and records basically all conversations. He will go back and analyze the conversations at later dates. He's really paranoid. God also keeps track of everyone's whereabouts. Remember, he's basically a computer that sits there and watches everyone—the All-Seeing Eye.

God/Satan and Friendship: God pretends to be Satan's friend to manipulate Satan into doing things for himself. It's not a friendship but a manipulative relationship. God keeps control of Satan, and Satan is always right where God wants him. Satan doesn't have any friends and fears abandonment, so it's really easy to manipulate him—you just call him a friend.

Kill Satan First: Satan needs to be eliminated first, followed by all of the demons. Killing a demon is like using a fly swatter on a fly. There's no guilt or shame. They're just disgustingly foul creatures, and the only good demon is a dead demon. When this is done, hopefully God will have taken notice and changed for the better. Otherwise, God is next on the chopping block.

Empathy: I found out that sympathy is not the goal; empathy is. This is true for humans as well.

Gumby: How you survive as a human is to “Be Like Gumby.” You remain flexible so you don't snap and break. This entire debacle has made me more flexible than I've ever been in my life. I bend, not break.

Intellect: Humans have a complicated thinking process because it's molded by a culmination of life experiences—humans usually have finite resources. They have to be able to think on their feet and adapt and face the consequences for poor thinking. Humans have superior intellect to gods because most gods isolate themselves and have unlimited resources. Gods don't get the well-rounded life experience that humans do.

Drugs: I'm done with alcohol and marijuana, and I'm definitely done with Elysium-19. Also, when a human uses marijuana, they show up in the universe. The gods/demons/deities can't interact with the human, but they show up on the radar, and once on the radar, they might be brought to attention for life. You have to remember that gods/demons/deities are usually bored, so they're always looking for something to entertain them. A lot of the time they just hurt others for fun.

Lying: God and Satan lie all the time. I'm trying to get more comfortable with lying because it can be used to save one's ass, and God and Satan do it all the time, so it's probably something you won't be judged too harshly for doing.

Gaslighting Satan

Point of No Return: In this book, there have been multiple points of no return that have been crossed. The first is Earth. Earth is past the point of no return with pollution and global warming. God is past the point of no return, too. About three years ago, God could've changed and pivoted. He could've made amends and helped humanity. He can no longer do that. Satan crossed the point of no return, and there's no way he's going to be saved.

Everything that Satan Holds Dear: Satan is about to get fucked really, really hard. Everything that Satan holds dear will be taken away. He'll end up broke, friendless, and powerless. Because of his past actions, this isn't enough punishment. Satan deserves death. I'm trying to get Satan to realize that death is probably the best option for him.

Prison: One easy way to torture/kill Satan is to throw him in prison. He'll go through withdrawals from all the drugs he's addicted to and will likely die from that. This would be punishment, torture, and execution.

Self-Hate: Satan said that he loves his life but hates himself. I love the fact that Satan hates himself. It's easier for me to "deal" with him because he hates himself. God is still narcissistic, thinks he's awesome, and would likely not self-terminate. Satan, on the other hand, wants to self-terminate.

Snake Voice: Satan's animal symbol is the snake. Snakes are stupid. Satan uses a snake voice and makes "hissing" sounds when he talks to me. It's really, really stupid and just makes Satan look more stupid. It doesn't scare me but just shows how immature and dumb Satan is. Satan always speaks to me in my left ear.

Threats: Satan—and God, too—has threatened to kill me and my family. I take these threats seriously. If someone threatens to kill me or kill my family, I'm going to ensure it doesn't happen and that the person who made the threat is eliminated. On a side note, Satan gave my entire family COVID-19. Such a dickhead.

Organization: The universe is organized so humans are at the bottom and God is at the top. God is the eye on top of the pyramid. Check out United States currency to see the picture. There are more of us than there are of them, and that makes revolution easier. God should've learned from those at the bottom and then changed how those at the top govern the universe. I feel it's far too late for God to take corrective action.

Information: This is an information war. I'm just informing everyone of how poorly the universe is run and how cruel God and Satan are. Basically, this is all propaganda based on truth. I want to inform other beings of how messed up everything is and who is to blame for it.

Revenge: God and Satan have both hurt others, and those others want revenge. Revenge is a very potent motivator, and I don't think God or Satan take it seriously. Revenge never sleeps and rarely does it lessen. Instead, it grows until there's a boil-over point where others take action against the perps—the perps being God and Satan.

Internet: Humanity has reached a point of technological advancement where information can be spread freely and widely due to the Internet. This book is going to be sold as an e-book and will be available to the world for cheap—ninety-nine cents. I might give it away for free, just like I did for some time with Blackmailing God. I'm going to get both books translated into other languages based on language popularity, first in English and then likely in Mandarin. The price of these books pays for editing and translation fees. If Satan is going to be taken down, I think this is the first time in the history of mankind that it'll be possible.

Manic/Depressive Episodes: Satan has manic/depressive episodes tied to the lunar cycle. He's manic when there's a full moon and depressed when there's a new moon. This explains why emergency departments fill up under a full moon. Satan makes everyone act crazy—at least, the ones he can control. A lot of times, they're under the influence of substances, which makes them easier to manipulate. Satan plans these manic/depressive episodes because he likes them. Remember, Satan is the moon god. To some extent, God does this, too, because I believe he sees Satan in a manic episode and thinks it looks fun. Individuals in both manic and depressive episodes can be dangerous to themselves and others.

Narcissism: Satan and God told me that I'm narcissistic and have a "Jesus Christ Complex." I've brought this up with my therapist, and he didn't see me exhibiting those traits. I just like to "look good, feel good, do good." Help others, be at peace, and try to find happiness.

Jesus's Comeback: Please pray to Jesus Christ and ask for him to come back to Earth. I doubt they—God and the gods—will shut down Earth because they're heavily invested in the planet and live here, but I think Jesus Christ would be a good moderator for Earth—get humanity to stop the bullshit.

Choose Your Own Ending: I told Satan that he can choose his own ending, like in one of those children's books. The beauty of that plan is Satan can't predict what's going to happen—he's "driving the car." It's up to Satan to decide his own path. In a way, this applies to God, too. They can't get any information out of me because the plan has not yet been made. Remember, God has designed life so that we've already lived this moment and ones in the far future, but we can only experience the present. I've defeated the system because God and Satan would know what I'd do if I had a plan for the future. I'm developing this plan one day at a time and mixing it up to make it unpredictable. That way, I'm steps ahead of Satan and God...because the steps haven't been taken yet and they'll change according to the plan.

Lying: Satan and God think I'm lying about having a plan. They also think I'm lying about being contacted by God's Creator. Am I lying? Yes and no. Does it really matter? I've already planned for it. This way, I keep God and Satan on their toes. Would I ever tell them the truth? No. Would I ever tell them about my plan? No. Satan and God are on a "need to know" basis. I tell them that it keeps them excited and in suspense for what's to come.

Martyr: At this point, Satan and God would never touch me or hurt me. If they do, they'll look like immature tyrants. Everyone has a right to bitch about the administration; God is not religious, and his job is just a job. If Satan and God kill me, they create a martyr out of me, and martyrs live forever.

Lying to Satan: It's totally okay to lie to Satan. He's trash, and he lies all the time. Basically, because Satan has set the bar so low, you can do anything to him, and it'll still be above Satan's standards. Trash Satan. Tell him off. Lie to him. Disgrace him. He's already disgraced himself.

Satan's Businesses: Satan is involved in sex trafficking children and adults, enslaving children and adults, drug trafficking, weapons trafficking, counterfeiting, funding wars/war profiteering, and money laundering. The actual list is longer, but these are the big ones I discovered. Satan uses the financial industry to enslave people. Debt is the modern-day fetter of the people.

Gaslighting Satan

Penal Colony: God let Satan run Earth as a penal colony. Satan has just put his own evil twist on it. God is powerless for some reason to intervene or to tell Satan to knock it off.

Extermination: If there is a choice between exterminating Satan or torturing him before exterminating him, he should just be exterminated. We don't want to take any chances that Satan could escape. I think that a humane death for Satan would be a good example of mercy. He doesn't take mercy on anyone. We're not animals like Satan is—we're above him. I think he knows that and uses ethics, rules of law, and morals against humanity and other gods to tie one of our hands behind our backs while we fight him. I think that, when it occurs, a "bullet" in Satan's "brain," like they did with Osama Bin Laden, would be appropriate. Execute him and dispose of him where he will not be found so that there's no historical/religious place created. Throw him in the ocean, cremate him, or bury him in an unmarked grave. We don't want anyone making a pilgrimage to Satan's resting site. Eliminating Satan has greater priority than fulfilling revenge.

Proof of Satan's Death: Perhaps things will get better on Earth when Satan is gone, but there needs to be tangible proof that Satan is eliminated permanently. I don't want him escaping and then going to live like the Nazis did when they escaped to South America after World War II.

Death of God: God will die if Satan continues to live. Satan wants God's position. Satan has some power, and it would be wise for God to snuff out Satan before he becomes too big of a problem. Satan is also kind of like a "black eye" to God. God knows exactly what Satan is doing, and Satan's actions reflect poorly on God. God will be remembered for allowing Satan to create so much suffering here on Earth and in other worlds in the universe. The situation already looks really bad for God, and it's getting worse. God needs to snuff out Satan sooner rather than later. Satan has damaged God's reputation, and as a result, God could, perhaps, be the one to eliminate Satan in addition to the countless enemies that Satan already has. Things aren't looking good for Satan.

Usurp: Satan tries to usurp God, and that can't happen. God is still better, even if only by a little bit. The universe cannot afford to have Satan move into a more powerful position than he already is. I believe Satan is seated to the left of God—to the left hand of God. Satan is subordinate, but he's a cancer that persistently erodes at God, trying to usurp his authority. God needs to squash the bug.

Frenemies: There's no true friendship between God and Satan. Satan was designed to do a job and then be disposed of. God may say that Satan is a friend, and Satan may say that God is a friend, but the real truth is that they're "frenemies." They can work together, but it's always known that there's going to be an ending to Satan. Again, Satan really wants God dead. God is wondering when he should put an end to Satan. Is it time yet?

Satan and Earth: I was told by God that Satan is more powerful on Earth than God is. God gave Satan carte blanche control over Earth. I believe that was a mistake on God's part. Satan doesn't have the maturity or training to act in a solo manner. He's not a competent officer. God made a very big mistake when he gave the control of Earth over to Satan, and ultimately, the consequences of that mistake will damage God.

Homosexuals: Satan hates gays because Satan is in denial that he's gay—he's still in the closet and is frustrated. Satan's sexual frustration turns into anger, and then he takes it out on those who make him frustrated: the homosexual community. God thinks that homosexuality is unnatural because he did not plan for it. Jesus Christ is a supporter of the LGBTQ+ community and loves homosexuals like he loves everyone else. Vote Jesus!

Gaslighting Satan

Sobriety: It has been hard to get sober with God/Satan/demons pestering me. I've had dreams where I'm tortured. I've also had dreams where I travel to other worlds. I wake up sometimes and have to process the prior night's dreams all day. It was wearing me down a lot, but then I switched the way I think about it all. I'm "in it to win it," so failure is not an option. I changed my thinking by accepting that this is all a stupid game, and I'm likely the most mature person playing. This has been a source of stress that has taken away part of my serenity that I need to keep sober. Again, God/Satan/demons can be total assholes.

Schizophrenic: God told me that he makes some people see cartoons, and then he calls them "schizophrenic." That's not what a schizophrenic sees. This makes me realize that God doesn't really understand disease processes and pathology. Like, really? That's stupid. Sometimes I feel dumber after being spoken to.

Personality Fixation: God and Satan haven't settled on a fixed personality yet. They're still trying to find out who they are. This has been going on for thousands of years. They both feel that if they settle on a fixed personality, life will get boring or they'll be giving up freedom. This dillydallying just wastes time—time that people are suffering. So, while God and Satan are trying to "find themselves" like some millennial fuck, everyone is suffering. Grow the fuck up, God and Satan. God and Satan don't have the right to "explore who they are" anymore. They have already wasted enough time, and while they were exploring, they were constantly on drugs. God and Satan are never going to "find themselves" when they're on fucking drugs. Stupid. Stupid. Stupid. Seriously, God and Satan, grow the fuck up.

Virginity: God and Satan have been known to steal virginity from humans. It's like a game they play. They will de-virginize humans. Satan de-virginizes a man because he is gay. If Satan finds out that you have a significant other, he will rape them in their sleep. Satan does this to show that he has control over you. This is rape, and it's really gross because Satan has diseases and viruses. Satan has to rape because he doesn't have enough game to get consent.

Sympathy: Satan attempts to get sympathy from me. He tries to avoid all the horrible past history and his current trespasses. Never give the devil sympathy. The worst abomination in existence deserves no sympathy. The very fact that Satan tries to get sympathy shows how mentally fucked up he is. It would be like Hitler trying to get sympathy from a concentration camp victim. Also, Satan doesn't deserve forgiveness. He's still actively hurting others and carrying out heinous acts. He hasn't changed one bit in three years. I seriously believe that even Jesus Christ wouldn't forgive Satan. Why would anyone take that on? Jesus Christ should never take on the sins of Satan and forgive him. Jesus Christ should instead pull out a Glock and put a bullet through Satan's forehead.

Killing a Human: God admitted that he didn't design an easy way to kill humans when he created them. I think maybe God had the foresight that his own anger could lead to him killing a lot of humans in the future if he had designed an easy way to kill them. If God or Satan kill you physically, they'll make it look like a suicide. Heart attacks, strokes, cerebral aneurysms, degenerative diseases, and cancer are usually the "go-to" ways that God and Satan kill their victims. Satan is tied to the Cabal, and they usually hang their victims from a doorknob using a red scarf and make it look like a suicide.

Breaking a Person: God/Satan/demons try to slowly break a person down psychologically in hopes that they kill themselves. If you understand what they're trying to do—ultimately gaslight you—you can combat their actions. Gaslighting is a colloquialism for a specific type of manipulation where the manipulator is successful in having the targets—a person or a group of people—question their own reality, memory, or perceptions, according to Wikipedia. In addition, they may physically hurt you or make you sick. I think I'm a little too strong/powerful/known in the universe for them to physically hurt me anymore. Anything they do gets documented, and that information gets dispersed.

Gaslighting Satan

My Experiences with Satan, God, and Demons: I have received death threats for myself and my family. They've told me lies about significant others, gaslighting me, trying to plant seeds of doubt/jealousy. And I have been encouraged to commit suicide. God isn't innocent in this either. God is a low-life scoundrel, just like Satan.

Legos: God designed Earth like Legos. Each Lego is like a building block in Minecraft. Each "atom" is like a Lego piece. Everything is digital in the simulation we're stuck in. God just put the Lego pieces together to create living organisms, like humans. It really isn't that complicated because it's a simulation, and God used a lot of repeating subunits, like muscle tissue.

God Particle: This allows for God to control all matter. God can change individual elements to other elements. I know! An element is defined by the number of protons it has. The key is that we have never directly observed an atom, so we can't be sure. I'm just saying that God has a way to change matter from one element to another very, very easily. And it's all a digital simulation, so it's just changing data.

Reality: Ground yourself in this reality. It's what you know, and hopefully your life isn't that bad. This is your reality. Never forget that, and never lose grasp of it—your reality is your foundation.

Surveillance: After God creates "life," he watches it. He basically plays "surveillance van" on everyone. God went from creation to watching his creations.

Demolition: Satan basically plays "demolition company" and comes in and tries to destroy everything God has created. Satan is like that asshole kid at the beach who comes up and kicks your really nice sandcastle down, and God's sandcastle really wasn't that nice to begin with.

Presidents: Most of the presidents have sold their souls to Satan in order to become president. To my understanding, JFK was the only one who didn't. George W. Bush did through his initiation into the Skull and Bones Society. He had to masturbate to Satan in a coffin in his initiation. Satan once asked me to masturbate to him; I didn't because that's disgusting. Satan said that he was disappointed in Obama because he didn't do what he agreed to do after he was elected. I think the words Satan used were "Obama is dead to me" or something along those lines.

Breaking Bad: If Jesus Christ would just "break bad" and do some badass shit, he'd be a superhero. If Jesus Christ went around killing evil people, he would be the most badass superhero. I really want this to happen.

Satan's Diseases: Satan is basically a shitty computer programmer. He causes diseases by inserting them into the computer code that governs humans. He basically just corrupts good code. He only designed it once and then copied and pasted it into a bunch of humans. It's simple and easy for him to repeat. It looks like an all-natural disease from our perspective. Satan even creates genetic diseases, like Huntington's Disease. The code, computer and genetic, is corrupted by Satan even before the human is born. This means Satan hurts humans before they're even born. This is really twisted because Earth is supposed to be a penal colony where we make amends through hard work. Satan tortures his own prisoners in addition to making them work off their wrongdoings. Satan is insane and out of his mind. Torture like this teaches nothing. Satan sadistically derives pleasure from hurting humans in these ways while God watches and does nothing.

Excessive Torture: Satan is very heavy-handed when it comes to hurting humanity. God watches this happen but refuses to intervene. I can only say that God is extremely cruel, and that's my explanation for why God allows it to happen. No one in their right mind would do Satan's job, so maybe that's why God just lets Satan do his "own thing." Maybe Satan can't be replaced because no one is as fucked up as he is. God used to intervene more, but I think he's lost interest.

Satan Fucked Up: This is a warning sign to others that if they were to do Satan's job, they'd get fucked up, too. I think this prevents many gods from trying to take Satan's job/position. Satan's job is technically a position because he is positioned on the left-hand side of God.

OD/OS: In medicine, the right eye is called "Oculus Dexter," and the left eye is called "Oculus Sinister." The left is the sinister side—Satan's side. To further this, God may have control over the right side of your body, and Satan may have control over the left side. There is a crossing-over of neural pathways, so this complicates the situation.

Councils: Councils are needed to take over for God and Satan. They need to be occupied by ethical, moral individuals who believe in the rule of law. They also have to follow the Golden Rule: don't be a douchebag.

My Brother: God told me he was sorry about the situation with my brother. My relationship isn't very good with my brother, and he's been a douchebag to me all my life. God wished that he and I were closer, but I've learned to accept the things I can't change. And I can't change my brother.

Ultimatum: I told the demons, "If you're wise, pack your bags and go. If you aren't wise, pack your bags and go." I'm going to lead them straight into the slaughter. They told me things that no human should ever know. Every one of them is marked for torture and death.

Death: God and Satan have attempted to elicit fear from me by threatening death. I know for certain that death isn't the end, so I'm not afraid of it. Some on Earth would actually welcome death because their situation on Earth is so horrible.

No Fear of Death: I have a selfish mindset for this one. Yes, my family would miss me, but I have no wife, no kids, no pets, and shit happens. God and Satan fucked with the wrong human who has nothing to lose. You never mess with a person with nothing to lose.

Rehab: God and Satan will never go to rehab. They think if they go, it's an admission to the universe that they're mentally unstable.

Vicarious Therapy: God and Satan think they can go and hang out in a therapist's office or at a rehab facility and get adequate therapy. I doubt they ever exert time or effort to do this, but they believe they'll get adequate mental health services just by playing a spectator. Therapy isn't a "spectator sport," and they have to actually be there, interact, and participate to get the full effect.

Slaves: Masters fed and housed slaves. God and Satan don't even feed and house humans. They literally just dropped us off on Earth, then God kicked Adam and Eve out of the Garden of Eden. Such assholes.

Prisoners: In the United States, the prison system shelters and feeds prisoners. Prisoners aren't supposed to be abused. They even have some access to mental health services and medical care. If Earth is a penal colony, God and Satan don't even provide the basic necessities of life to humans. They do, in fact, torture the prisoners.

Gaslighting Satan

Meditation: If you meditate long and powerfully enough, you'll connect with the universe. You'll start to see things. Elysium-19 just fast-forwards the process.

Family Web: God doesn't have a family tree—he has a “family web.” This is because of all the incestual interbreeding within God's own family. Gross.

Breeding with Humans: God said that his brother-in-law was a human. I don't know if the brother-in-law knows he's married to a god.

No Place: There is no place in modern society for Satan. In fact, there was never a place. He needs to be cast out from society. Satan needs to be killed.

A Mistake by God: God made a mistake when he put Satan in control of Earth. God isn't confrontational, but Satan is. Satan is confrontational because he has a chip on his shoulder, but that should be expected because he acts like an immature child and hasn't yet learned that one shouldn't go and pick fights with others. Satan has no friends, partly because he's confrontational. Satan has made things worse on Earth because he pushes the envelope on what he can do to hurt humanity, and pussy God does nothing to stop it. Satan is out of control and needs to be exterminated.

Lowest Hanging Fruit: The easiest way to improve Earth/the universe is to kill Satan. Satan would be the lowest hanging piece of fruit, and killing Satan would be the easiest/best step toward solving all problems.

Gay Satan: Satan touches my left ear on a daily basis. Sometimes, he sticks something in my ear canal, and I can feel it. It's like a buzzing feeling. The ear is an erogenous zone. This is gay because I'm a male, and Satan is touching an erogenous zone on my body. This is both rape and assault.

Beliefs: Say 50 percent of the population believes in God/Satan, and 50 percent doesn't. 99.99% of those who believe in God/Satan hate Satan. Of the 50 percent of those who don't believe, 99.99 percent would likely also hate Satan if they believed he existed. If God/Satan ever became open to world and everyone believed in God/Satan, probably 99.99 percent of humanity would hate Satan. Satan is a very hated creature.

Oldest: Just because you're the oldest doesn't mean you're the best. For example, would you want to fly in the oldest airplane? Trust your life to it? God is supposedly the oldest, and I really know that he's not the best.

Satan's STDs: Satan has herpes, genital warts, and other STDs. Satan once told me that his penis has bumps and growths on it from all of the diseases.

Promise: I promise to destroy Satan, and I keep my promises.

Making Fun of Satan: God made fun of Satan to me for being so psychologically messed up. God even said that Satan is so messed up that it embarrasses God. God was trying to make himself look better than him, but anybody looks better than Satan. Anyone is better than Satan.

Satan's Plan: Satan has an inferiority complex because he is subordinate to God—always has been, and always will be. Satan tries to impress everyone all the time. One of the ways that Satan tries to impress others is to make his evil plans more evil and complex. Satan thinks that will impress others, but really, it just shows how insane Satan is to others. Satan's ego will be his downfall.

Light Side: They should really do something to stop Satan. They're standing still, doing nothing, while humans are suffering. Others in the universe are also suffering because of Satan. The Light Side not doing anything is actually cruel because they're in a position to help stop the suffering, but they do nothing.

See Something, Do Something: Everyone needs to report Satan's mismanagement and cruelty to the higher-ups. If you see Satan do something evil/cruel, it must be reported. Humans are on Earth to work off their prior trespasses, not to be subjected to torture.

Multi-Minded (Satan) vs. Single-Minded: Satan is a multi-minded individual, and demons are single-minded. There are some other differences too:

Satan: Vicariously educated, unethical, confused about himself and his personality, better memory when not on drugs, higher intelligence.

Demons: Purposely uneducated, unethical, fixed personalities, bad memories, low intelligence.

Sociopathic: Satan uses humans for pleasure. This is sadistic and a sign of sociopathy. God also uses humans for pleasure, but I think he's slowly realizing that by hurting someone else, he ultimately ends up hurting himself.

Negativity: Satan runs on negativity. The more negative he becomes, the more awesome he thinks he is. Basically, Satan runs on evil, and he derives pleasure from hurting others and destroying stuff. Think sociopathic child with conduct disorder. As the child grows up, he gets diagnosed with antisocial personality disorder at age eighteen and then goes to prison.

Friendship: Satan actually thinks that he can hurt or coerce a person to be his friend. This reminds me of a story from elementary school when I was bullied by a kid named Nick. I ended up getting a bunch of bigger kids to kick Nick's ass. After the dust settled and we were released from the principal's office, Nick said he wanted to be my friend. I said no. Satan is a bully who doesn't understand how to make friends, so he just does what a bully does—he hurts people. “Hurting people is not a good way to make friends, Satan,” but “keep on doing it because I want you to have no friends.”

Plagues of Egypt: God claimed he sent them, but I'm guessing Satan probably did the grunt work.

Theory: I think God got slowly sick of hating others so much that he delegated the job of hating others to Satan. I think God knows that this task will ultimately destroy Satan. Remember, Satan is just a disposable tool.

Guys: Satan is gay, and guys don't like him.

Scapegoat: Satan is the ultimate scapegoat for God. God can blame everything evil on Satan, and everyone will believe it because Satan is such a shit bag. God could seriously blame a lot of his bullshit on Satan, and everyone would just believe it.

Gaslighting Satan

Friendship: Satan perceives relationships as being closer than they really are. Satan thought he and I were best friends at one point. Satan and I were never friends. Never be a friend of the devil. Also, isn't it pathetic that Satan would be friends with a human? Maybe he tried to make a human friend because everyone in the universe already hates him.

Histrionic: Satan has histrionic personality disorder. A perfect example is that he perceives his relationships as being closer than they really are. Also, he's unwilling to change himself. He's also an attention whore. Just Google "histrionic personality disorder." It screams "Satan."

Personality Disorders: Satan has a bad combination of personality disorders. I'm a doctor, but I'm not going to get into each one. You can Google them: antisocial personality disorder, borderline personality disorder, narcissistic personality disorder, and histrionic personality disorder. He has more, so this list is not exhaustive. Do some research yourself, and try to find out what other mental illnesses Satan has.

Three Wolves: This is a story from a sailor I met in the Navy that confirms the simulation theory. The sailor and his two friends tripped on mushrooms while lying out in a grass field. All three of them had a vivid hallucination of three wolves running together. Explain that collective consciousness to me. If they were all existing in the same simulation/computer program, it could easily explain the collective consciousness and shared hallucination.

Therapist: I've never shared this whole situation completely with my therapist. I've talked about this with family, friends, and patients here at rehab. Others here have had similar situations while on drugs. This book is kind of my outlet to share everything with others. It's actually comforting to write this book. This book is also, hopefully, a solution to the fucked-up problems that Earth and humanity are facing, aka Satan and also God.

Hail: Satan uses the phrase "Hail Satan." Hitler used "Heil Hitler." Satan admitted to "playing" Hitler in history, as in Hitler was a character played by Satan. Satan has very little creativity.

Apathetic: Satan has no sympathy for anyone and often pretends to fake that he cares. It's usually in a very condescending, fake way, and he really doesn't care about whatever it is that's bothering you. He doesn't want to help. Satan can't empathize because he isn't emotionally developed. Basically, he's toxic to all—it's in Satan's code to be that way.

Designed to Fall: Satan was designed by God to fail. God created the sociopathic tyrant on purpose. Satan's problems were all designed into his code, which can't be changed by Satan. He was coded by God to be what he is: a sociopathic piece of shit. Satan is "inside" the system, and God is "outside." No battle is really needed for God to kill Satan. All God has to do is access the program and delete Satan—like turning the switch from "on" to "off." It's that easy. Basically, God just has to delete Satan because he was designed to fall. I don't know why God hasn't done this yet, but I have a feeling that the public outcry throughout the universe will likely be the impetus that will drive God to finally take care of the problem.

Love for Satan: I tell Satan every once in a while, "I love you, Satan. I love just the good parts, which are very few if not nonexistent." I want Satan to feel a little love before he dies. A dog owner can euthanize a dog they love, so why shouldn't Satan feel a little love before he dies?

Karma Points: You can collect "Karma points" by doing beneficial deeds. These deeds can be simple, like picking up a cigarette butt (one Karma point) or saving an earthworm that's drying on the sidewalk

Gaslighting Satan

(one Karma point). If you litter, you lose Karma points. I don't know if the deity Karma is still in charge of this because I think Satan once said, "Karma is a dead bitch," after she did something really stupid. Whatever. I'm not going to get into universe politics here. Basically, do good deeds, and you'll acquire Karma points no matter how small the deed. Avoid bad deeds at all costs because they'll debit your Karma account.

Huntington's Disease: There are many diseases that, if you have them, you're damned even before birth. Huntington's Disease is a great example of this. It's a genetic disease that doesn't develop until middle age, and your children then have a 50-percent chance of inheriting it. So, you pass the fatal, horrible disease on to your kids before you even know you have it. Basically, you reproduce before you know you have the genetic disease. This isn't fair. Many who know they have it choose not to have kids. This is Satan torturing the prisoners in his prison. This does nothing to rehabilitate anyone. It hurts everyone.

Mortgage: I was going to use the money from the payout from my initial therapy with God and Satan to pay off my mortgage. God and Satan reneged on the deal we had, and they never paid me. I'm now unemployed, and I'm selling my condo. I'm losing money every single month because I no longer live in San Diego because I moved back to Michigan. Such douchebags. I needed that money to support myself, and they screwed me over. I was also going to pay my truck off and start a scholarship for high school students. This is a perfect example of God and Satan being assholes. Never, ever help God. Never, ever help Satan. Throw them both in the garbage. Praise Jesus.

Punctuality: God and Satan are rarely on time. They're usually late for everything. God and Satan could never hold down a job, even at McDonald's, because they would never show up on time. Immature. Also, showing up late and wasting everyone's time are ways they try to control others. They make everyone wait. While they're making everyone late, Jesus Christ is going to show up on time and take over.

Internet Trolls: I need as many Internet trolls as possible to investigate this. I believe we can find God and Satan's accounts, properties, and businesses through forensic accounting and searching property records. God and Satan have told me that they're affiliated with T.R.U. Ball Archery, SunTrust Bank, and Bank of America. God told me he has a house in Big Bear, California, on the water and said he recently—in the past year—purchased property in Flagstaff, Arizona. God and Satan told me they have massive landholdings in the United States. I'm guessing they have shell companies inside shell companies. I have already found some spooky shit: the past two CEOs of SunTrust Bank don't have official birthdays. There's no record of them ever being born, to my knowledge. God and Satan mentioned The Simpsons, Family Guy, Star Wars, and computer graphics companies dealing with comic book movies. God and Satan also said they were affiliated with Ben Stiller, Gwyneth Paltrow, Seth MacFarlane, Dax Shepard, Chris Farley, and George Lucas. I believe God runs his own computer graphics company. There's evidence, and I think there are enough cookie crumbs to follow and figure out exactly what God and Satan have been up to. I need help to do it. This would be a lot easier now because everything is on the Internet. I'm hoping that some "Internet troll" will look into this and see what they can find.

SunTrust Bank: God and Satan said they were affiliated with SunTrust Bank. I found some evidence that the past two CEOs of SunTrust Bank don't have official birthdates. There's no record of when they were born. Isn't this a little spooky? Especially in 2021? God isn't perfect, so it is highly likely he didn't perfectly cover his tracks.

Peace: I learned in rehab that one should seek to find peace, not happiness, because happiness is transient, but peace and contentment are lasting. Satan, God, and demons are hindering me from finding peace. I'm stronger now, so they're affecting me less. Satan/God/demons don't want humans to find peace/contentment.

Gaslighting Satan

Ship Sinking: Satan is pretending that his ship isn't sinking. All we have to do is overload the bilge pumps. By attacking at all sides in an asymmetrical warfare manner, we can sink his ship. If we attack Satan by attacking him and everything dear to him, he can be defeated.

Never Listens: Satan never listens. He always wants to talk. He develops an opinion before a person is even done speaking. Satan talks more than he listens. Satan, thus, never learns from others. He'll be forever stuck in his own thoughts/opinions/assumptions.

Wisdom: Humans have life experiences, and they interact with other people with wisdom. Humans eventually become wiser than God as they mature. God doesn't get wisdom from anyone because he's closed off. He thinks he's the wisest person since Solomon. Satan isn't wise. He thinks he is, but Satan lacks wisdom. If Satan had wisdom, he wouldn't behave the way he does.

Superiority Complex: Satan always thinks he's better than everyone else. He does this by forcing himself to forget 99 percent of the bullshit he's caused over the eons. Satan is really good at lying to himself, just like he's really good at lying to others.

Negativity: Satan runs on negativity. I think God switched over to running on positivity. I'll have to see it to believe it, though.

Hostile Work Environment: Satan runs an operation that has a very hostile work environment. He doesn't treat his demons well at all. It's a very difficult environment to work in.

Mythology: The only stories that make it into the books or are preserved are the ones that make the gods look good and/or powerful. A lot wasn't written, very similar to how a lot of the biblical stories are just the ones that make God look good and/or powerful. The stories about gods being defeated by humans don't make it into the history books.

Religions: God took the time to create a lot of the religions on Earth but can't follow any of their teachings. Like, God can't follow the ten commandments. He can't even follow the "don't be a douchebag" rule. One fucking rule!

Church of Satan: Satan could never adhere to the principles of the Church of Satan because the Church of Satan was founded on having respect for others. Satan respects no one, not even himself.

Sober: I'm twenty days sober from all substances. I haven't done Elysium-19 in over half a year.

Anal Sex: Satan likes it in the butt. He is also a bottom. He goes to Thailand to sleep with children/boys and forces them to do him in the butt. This disgusting ass clown was put in his position by God. WTF?

No Change: Satan doesn't change, ever. He egotistically refuses to change, stating that he's perfect as is. Satan, thus, will never develop/mature as a person—ever.

The Problem: Satan is the problem but is in denial.

Moon: The moon is barren—no resources, no water, no life. Fixed in rotation. Tidally locked. The moon never changes. No atmosphere. The moon is small compared to Earth and the sun. It's devoid of life. Hot then cold—full of unstable temperatures. Drab color. The moon isn't very creative. Satan is the moon god. The moon is only seen because of the sun, God's light, shining on it. God is the sun god. Without the sun, the moon wouldn't be seen. Humans rarely visit the moon. Humans rarely actually intend to interact with Satan. The moon is isolated and singular. Lonely, like Satan.

Gaslighting Satan

Self-Loathing: Satan hates himself. Satan loves his life, though, which would be a great target to destroy him. Satan's good life is probably the only thing keeping him from killing himself. Satan's life, though, causes him suffering because of the job he chooses to do. I used the word "choose" because Satan could always quit and try to go work at McDonald's. Satan loves being cruel, even though it makes him hate himself. Cruelty is all he knows, and he resists change tenaciously. Satan has no insight into his own situation.

Immaturity: Satan threatened to disperse a video of me having sex throughout the universe to embarrass me. I told him that's called revenge porn, and it's illegal. Satan also said he was going to do the same thing with a video of me picking my nose. He said that he spread a bunch of rumors about me. I kind of like this behavior from Satan because it makes him look extremely immature and weak.

Debate: I challenged Satan to a Lincoln-Douglas-style debate. Satan refused. Then, he didn't talk to me for a few days. He knew he'd been beaten.

Strength: If Satan is so "powerful," why would he consider me such a great threat?

Martyrs: They live forever.

Interrogation: God and Satan do nightly interrogations of humans when they're sleeping. I don't know the plan, so I can't give it up. I have confidence that I can adapt the plan, though, to how God and Satan respond.

Writing: Satan is basically writing this story as it goes; I'm just documenting it. This is practically one of the easiest books to write.

Predictability: Satan is predictable. He usually acts out of hatred. He always takes revenge. Satan usually chooses the wrong way to handle things.

Satan in the Closet: Satan likes penises more than he likes pussy/tits.

Wisdom: "Wise people listen to others. Satan listens to himself."

Code: Just to reiterate, Satan is within the program. God is within and outside the program. God would hopefully not be so stupid to create a monster like Satan with no easy kill switch. All God has to do to kill off Satan is flick the switch. There doesn't need to be a huge battle. God has kept the upper hand all along. He just needs to act now.

Satan's Death: Satan's death will teach God to behave better because the next to fall will be God if he doesn't change his ways. The best outcome would be that God cleans up his act and starts helping others. Learn from Satan's mistakes. I believe Satan is past the point of no return and isn't going to be rehabilitated.

Torture: Satan couldn't tolerate the punishments/torture he doles out to others; he just couldn't do it.

Gaslighting Satan

Executioner: In the olden days, the town executioner was usually a criminal being punished by becoming the executioner. In this way, God is actually punishing Satan by making him the executioner—Satan is being made to act like “Satan.”

Energy Weapons: A long time back, God said he searched my condo for energy weapons. I wonder if one of those energy weapons would kill Satan.

Reincarnation of Satan: Satan often commits suicide but then just comes right back. This is very similar to how God just comes right back when God commits suicide. My theory is that God’s Creator won’t let God die, but what about Satan? Satan is within God’s program, which means God isn’t allowing Satan to die. God is punishing Satan the exact way that God’s Creator is punishing God. I’m encouraging God to end Satan’s life permanently. I dare say that if God put it up to a vote, the public would want Satan dead.

Too Far: God allows Satan to cross the line too far and too many times. This is a sign that Satan doesn’t respect God.

Less than Worthless: Satan knows that deep down he is less than worthless. This is because he isn’t positive, or even neutral, to others. Satan is negative to everyone.

Prison: I’d be okay with sending Satan to prison if God won’t mercy kill the bastard. Killing Satan would be doing Satan a favor.

Separate Being: Satan may have multiple personalities like God does. Satan could also be a personality of God. I believe Satan is a separate being from God and that Satan is multi-minded.

Rules: Satan follows no rules. Satan couldn’t exist in human society without ending up in prison or being murdered. Humanity would eliminate Satan.

Hair of the Dog: Satan is a drug-dependent, polysubstance abuser—uppers in the morning, downers at night. He lives the 1950s lifestyle every day. Satan uses drugs and alcohol to get himself to wake up in the morning. He always drinks an “eye-opener” and smokes weed mixed with hard liquor. Satan drinks/does drugs while at work and then makes complicated decisions on how to hurt people. If you look at Satan’s arms, you can see the track marks.

Addiction: Addiction is a serious problem. I have a problem with alcohol and have used marijuana and Elysium-19 in the past. Now, I’m sober. It took three years for me to wrap my head around the idea that I was an alcoholic. For much of that time, I was in denial. Now, I accept that I can never take another drink in my life. I understand what’s going on with Satan, but I can’t have sympathy for the devil.

Processing: Satan doesn’t process his feelings. He has drowned his feelings out with booze and drugs for so freaking long that he still hasn’t processed shit from hundreds of years ago. It’s like his emotions are a log jam, and it’s not moving. It’s stuck, and the logs/emotions continue to pile up. In no way do I have sympathy for Satan. He’s done so much horrible shit, so you can’t have sympathy for him. I understand the situation Satan is in, but he isn’t sick enough to accept treatment. He has to get worse before he can get better. Unfortunately for Satan, the universe has had enough of his bullshit. It’s already too late for him to change.

Gaslighting Satan

Bender: Satan and God have been on a centuries-long bender, so they never sober up to emotionally process. If they sober up, they'll probably kill themselves due to severe, severe guilt and shame from the horrible atrocities they've committed.

Pleasure: Satan says he'll do something but never does. Satan then takes pleasure in talking to others about how he's screwed someone over. Satan thinks it's funny to break promises/contracts.

Pre-Pay: Always have Satan pay you upfront before providing goods or services; he isn't good for his money. Satan screws people over to get things for free. He is lying, cheating, stealing, and hurtful.

Mother Mary: God really hurt the Virgin Mary. God destroyed her reputation by creating an unwed, pregnant woman in the Middle East. Rape. It was basically rape. God raped Mary. Also, God might have been having sex with her because he does that to all women, and Jesus might have just been an accident.

Physical Fitness: Jesus was ripped. Very muscular.

Satan Jealous of Jesus: Satan was and still is profoundly jealous of Jesus. However, Satan never changed his ways or worked hard to better himself to be more like Jesus was or have what Jesus had.

Bad People: Satan helps bad people preferentially because they're bad like him. It's almost like being evil is common ground between Satan and the bad people he helps.

House Dream: In this dream, Satan promised me a new house. There was a demon that was upset that I was getting the new construction house. It was made of cement and very cold. The outside was a lifeless world with drab, concrete houses. This is kind of the motif of the Dark Side: there's no creativity or warmth. Those working for the Dark Side have no freedom. The house was like being in a prison. This dream occurred with the dream where Satan told me I could go to "Junior Hitler Training Camp."

Characteristics of Satan: Smoker, bad breath, smells like death. Severely repulsive body odor. Satan now says that he's not a smoker and now punishes them.

Israel/Palestine: Satan loves the Israeli-Palestinian conflict. The Jews hurting the Palestinians is an example of hurt people now hurting others. The Jews have been treated poorly throughout history, but now they're treating the Palestinians poorly. The way the Israelis are going at it, they're falling into sin and evil. Satan will probably bless the Israelis, then later take that blessing away and watch them fall. Remember, Satan always eventually hurts everyone, even if he helps them first. Satan isn't a good person.

As a Means Only: Satan hates everyone. Satan looks at everyone only as a means to some evil goal. Satan looks at people as if they're disposable tools. Remember, Satan tortures people supposedly for the wrongs they committed in their past life, but the people don't have any recollection of their past lives, nor do they have any recollection of any wrongs they may have committed. Satan just tortures to torture.

Selling Souls: Satan tortures humans, and it causes the soul to be incredibly torn. A torn soul sells for more money, so Satan profits off of torturing humans.

Avoid: Avoid doing anything for Satan. Give Satan no love, no respect, no sympathy. Nothing. Satan is to be isolated and never associated with.

Gaslighting Satan

Racism: Satan hates black people. He's really hurt them in the past. Satan attempts to keep black people down.

Miss God: Miss God might've disappeared. I've not heard anything from Miss God in a long time. I think she's likely gone. God might've killed her or gotten rid of her because he realized she's toxic. God might have just deleted her.

Social Media: Satan loves social media because it causes depression, and Satan doesn't like it when humans are happy. Satan also likes that social media can be used to manipulate the masses. Social media takes attention off of God.

The Media: Satan controls the media. I don't know to what extent, but he's already dabbling in the financial sector, so it wouldn't surprise me.

Texting: Satan is a big fan of texting because it's impersonal and doesn't reinforce emotional bonding like a phone call does. Remember, Satan wants humans to be alone, depressed, and disconnected from each other. Satan doesn't like families because he never had one, doesn't know what love is, and hates a happy family.

Instruments: Satan is jealous of individuals who play musical instruments. He doesn't know how to play a musical instrument. I play the violin, which has been dubbed "the devil's instrument," but Satan doesn't even know how to play it. Satan can't even play his own instrument! What a loser! Satan isn't talented and lacks the determination to learn. I don't think God plays an instrument either.

Addicts: Even though Satan is a drunk/drug addict, he punishes substance abusers. Satan has said that substance abuse is worse than murder.

Saul Becomes Paul: Satan doesn't have that transformation in his future.

Wa-Wa-Wa-Wa: When I did Elysium-19, it made my hearing sometimes go, "Wa-Wa-Wa-Wa."

Requirements to be a god: To be a god, there are very minimal requirements. You just have to be a "bro" to God. God really just wants friends, so he has low standards for others to become gods. God doesn't have that many friends, and there are a lot of beings that don't talk to or associate with God.

Immaturity: Both God and Satan are profoundly immature and function with an eight-year-old-child mentality. They think it's fun to hurt and torture others. This is why there's so much suffering on Earth. It's because the ass clowns in charge are just children. In a way, this is like The Lord of The Flies, where the children just torture each other.

Maturity: God and Satan refuse to "grow up." They both lack maturity but are trapped in immaturity because one can't just "grow up." It's a complicated process they refuse to go through. God and Satan both choose to not experience life in a way that would allow them to personally grow. Instead, they act like childish cowards and never really put themselves outside of their comfort zones.

Life Skills: God and Satan both lack essential life skills. For example, God is extremely socially awkward and has bad communication skills. God and Satan can't really do anything, so they do nothing. God and Satan tend to just break things because that takes no skill to do.

Gaslighting Satan

Ideas: God and Satan stole all of their ideas for creation from other gods—I'm pretty sure. There's a great possibility that God never actually created anything but just stole the code from someone else. This would explain why God doesn't know how to fix anything anymore; for example, God can't cure cancer.

Fusion: God told me that fusion energy isn't possible.

Masons: There's a great possibility that the Free Masons are actually Satan worshippers, and the fact that Satan is in communication with the group is held secret until a member obtains a specific degree.

Hell: Hell is actually really cold.

Hollow Earth: There's a possibility that Earth is actually hollow. I was told from a statement about how humans really don't understand what lies at the center.

Don't Ask God: Don't ask God for anything. There's a possibility that he may help you out, but that really just invites God into your life to wreck it and cause havoc. It's best to never pray or communicate with God and leave him out of your life. For example, God may help you get that new job but then will give you cancer. If you think this is a wrong assumption, please remember that God has been known to hurt others for absolutely no reason. He's an asshole.

Pedophile: If God and Satan go to prison, they'll likely be killed by the other inmates due to them both being pedophiles. Pedophiles get killed in prison because even criminals hate pedophiles.

Baby Jesus: Because God rapes children, it's very possible that God had sex with baby Jesus. This is family-style pedophilia incest.

Earth: Earth was created in thirty years—not seven days. This just shows that God lies about everything—even Genesis. God also might not have even created Earth. He might have stolen it, copied it, or bought it from someone else.

Human Lifespan: The human lifespan is actually really short in the grand scheme of time. There's a possibility that people get sentenced to live on Earth and realize it goes by really quickly, so they agree to it. However, when you get here, you have no idea why you're on Earth and have no recollection of a past life. It's a broken system.

Earth: There's a good chance God didn't create Earth. He might've bought it or stolen it from another god.

Life String: Satan told me he cut my life string short so my life will be shorter than it originally was supposed to be when I was born. He's basically murdering me.

Viruses: Viruses are very similar to Satan. They're not dead, but they're not alive. They're kind of in between. Viruses are like Satan in that they require life to live before they destroy that life. Many viruses were designed by Satan, including COVID-19, SARS, Swine Flu, etc. Satan has been on a "respiratory" theme lately.

Parasite: Satan is a parasite. Satan feeds off humanity/humans.

Gaslighting Satan

STDs: Satan is a sex addict but created multiple sexually transmitted diseases. This backfired on Satan because he ended up contracting the very sexually transmitted diseases he created.

Collateral Damage: Satan doesn't care about hurting unintended targets, like children, when he carries out heinous acts. Satan is unconcerned when he hurts a bunch of innocent individuals. He's a coward and has no standards.

Satan's Ego: Satan has a huge ego, and it clouds his thinking and judgment. He's selfish and only cares about himself. Satan knows that he's worthless. Satan is very self-loathing.

Human Bodies: When gods visit Earth, they get "pre-worked out" bodies so they're attractive. The gods never actually put the work in at the gym. It's all fake.

No Evidence: Gods try not to leave any tangible evidence that they exist. They no longer do miracles, they don't move objects, they don't slam doors, etc. Their goal is to be undetected in the shadows so they can keep up the ruse.

Particle Being: A particle being has matter incorporated into them. A non-particle being doesn't have matter incorporated into them. The matter in the particle being—humans are particle beings—makes the body like a prison in a way because the particle being cannot be transported easily. Non-particle beings are pure energy, and this can be transported much more easily. Gods are energy beings. Humans are basically stuck on Earth in their bodies. This was done on purpose by God because Earth was supposed to be a penal colony. God didn't want any of the humans to escape.

Wrongs: Satan doesn't know the real reason why most humans were sent to Earth. Satan never takes the time to look up what it was exactly that a human did wrong in their past life. He doesn't care. Satan just wants to hurt people; he likes to torture. So, he tortures humans indiscriminately. Satan is a real asshole.

Hostile Work Environment: Satan has a very hostile working environment in his operation. He belittles and harasses his own employees. Constant beratement. Satan promises his employees promotions and never gives them. He doesn't pay his employees anything. They're basically slaves. Satan is a horrible boss. I told the demons to go and work for the Light Side if they had a choice to leave Satan and the Dark Side.

Right Hand: When Jesus ascended to heaven, he was seated at the right hand of the Father. I believe that Satan is seated at the left hand of the Father. This assumes that God, the Father, is in the middle and in a neutral position. In reality, God is skewed more left of neutral because God is much eviler than he is good. God is more on Satan's side than he is on Jesus's side.

Eyeballs: In medicine, the right eye is called "Oculus Dexter," and the left eye is called "Oculus Sinister." The left is sinister, so the left side is evil. A while back, God or Satan told me that there were two gods assigned to each human that resided behind the eyeballs of the human. One was on the right (the good god), and the other was on the left (the evil god). There's also an external guardian angel for each human. I was told the two gods that reside behind the eyeballs are the individuals that pronounce a human dead, such as at the end of life or after a serious trauma. I don't know if this is true, but if it is, it means both gods are trying to gain control of the human or alter thoughts, emotions, and behaviors.

Light Side: The Light Side hasn't done enough to alleviate the suffering on Earth and on the Dark Side of the universe. This is cruelty and a sin because the Light Side could intervene and ease the suffering at any time, but it chooses not to. That's the definition of cruelty: the Light Side could help but refuses to. Every moment they don't help, they're committing sin.

Judgment: At the end of your life, the gods watch your life on fast-forward. They read a dossier on your life that may be simply inaccurate. They then wing it and make a judgment. The gods making these judgments may not even be trained or qualified to do so. There's not much thought put into making the judgment because the system is overloaded and backlogged. The gods try to run through this process as quickly as possible. Human "souls" sit in a detention cell until the judgment is made. I don't know if you can appeal. The "low-hanging fruit" is processed first; the totally evil people and totally good people get processed first because the decision is a no-brainer. Celebrities are processed first. The average human soul sits in a detention cell waiting for a good, long time. God isn't involved in this process at all. God is jerking off in Hollywood.

God's Code: If a human has God's code, it very well turns them into a sociopath. So, who is to blame for that horrible outcome when God plants a human on Earth with his code? God or the human? I blame God. God shouldn't create any more humans with his code. God's code is obsolete. It's a dinosaur of a design. There's no need for anyone with God's problematic code.

Tomb: Jesus's body was taken from his burial tomb because he was a humanoid and there was an issue—either his anatomy wasn't correct, or there were machine-like components in him. God didn't want that technology to be discovered by humans.

Blood and Water: When they pierced Jesus's side, blood and water came out. I want to know where they pierced him and what type of accumulation this was. Was it from the peritoneal cavity? Was it from the pleural cavity? Where was this fluid from, and what did it consist of? Nowadays, they'd run some tests to figure it out exactly.

Mars: I think Mars was another of God's sandboxes that he forgot about. It very well could've been vibrant at one time, and now it's desolate. Or God just left it as dirt.

End of Humanity: Satan plans on doing nothing to help Earth/humanity. Satan wants it to turn into a post-apocalyptic, Mad Max-like nightmare, where everyone is fighting each other over dwindling resources.

Holy Water: Satan isn't affected by holy water. That shit is all made up.

Intervention: There needs to be an intervention for Satan to force him to get help for his fucked-up mental problems. I don't think God will do it because God secretly wants to keep Satan mentally ill so Satan will keep doing dirty work and make it easier for God to control Satan. Addiction is Satan's fetter/weakness.

FUBAR: There's a very real chance that both God and Satan are "fucked up beyond repair." They're both likely lost causes, and execution would be optimal because they're never going to stop hurting others.

Video: Satan said he videotaped me masturbating. Satan said he dispersed the video throughout the universe to embarrass me. Satan probably jerked off to the video, too. I don't really care if this happened. It ultimately looks bad on Satan by showing the universe how immature he is.

Gaslighting Satan

Genetics: It's all code that's copied and pasted with some variation. There are genetic similarities between organisms, such as between different species of plants and different species of animals. It's not really that hard to create a new animal/plant; you just use the already existing code and alter it a little. It's really not that impressive when you think about it because life is all just a simulation of some sort—a computer program.

Video Games: Humans are already creating artificial intelligence. Our simulations (video games) already show complicated programming, such as mirrors that reflect the character's reflection when the character looks into it. Humanity is at the cusp of what God did. Humans are just as good as, if not better than, God at creating. Humans will surpass God someday in computer programming because God has gotten burned out/lazy.

Seeing Stars: A human sometimes sees stars when they hit their head or almost pass out. I believe this is because the simulation is overloaded. It's glitching in the computer program. If you've ever felt like you have "glitched," it's because the simulation/computer program glitched. Nothing that God creates is perfect.

Proof of Simulation: I'd like to call this phenomenon "resolution mismatch." Have you ever stared at multicolored commercial carpet, a textured surface, or still water in a dimly lit room? You will see it moving/changing. I believe this is a bug in the simulation program. It's almost like the resolution of the simulation (water, carpet, textured surface) is more complex than the resolution of your "sight." Try it out.

Aura: If a person has an aura and you stare at them long enough as your eyes go out of focus, you might be able to see the aura. I have seen one in my life, and it was blue.

Afterlife: I don't want my soul to end up in a worse place than Earth when I die. God's universe system is broken. My reincarnated self will likely have its memory erased and will have no recollection of its former life. I don't want to end up in a worse place than Earth. My fear is that I'll be transferred with my memory intact. Likely, I'll end up in some place worse than Earth because I wrote this book and God and Satan are douchebags. So, I want "lights out" when I die. I want my memory, consciousness, and soul deleted. If that can't be done, I want to leave God's universe and start my own ethical, creative, peaceful world. I don't know how to computer program, but I can figure it out, and I'll have a whole lot of time to do so. I don't think God will allow me to leave because I might get revenge on God and Satan.

Enemies: Most people go through life trying to create as few enemies as possible. God and Satan don't mind creating enemies because then they can label a person as an enemy and know where that person stands. Friends scare God and Satan because they're distrusting and fear a fake friend who's really an enemy. As long as God and Satan have this mentality, they'll live in fear of others, friendship, and emotional connection.

Vulnerability: God and Satan avoid becoming emotionally attached because it makes them feel vulnerable. A friend may learn damaging secrets about them. A friend may be able to start manipulating them. God and Satan avoid emotional closeness for these reasons, in addition to many others.

Outside Help: The present is already in the past. The future has already happened. God has it this way so nothing is a surprise to him. It's like loading a video on YouTube—it loads faster than it's played. This makes it hard to attack God and Satan because they will always know "the future." On the other hand, all you have to do is make an ally with a disgruntled individual or individuals who are on the same time as “God’s” time. Friends in higher places.

Meat: I was told that meat contains demons. It’s infested with demons. God was a proponent of a vegetarian, plant-based diet.

Rock Bottom: Satan and God have to reach “rock bottom” to have an epiphany to change for the better. I have been trying to get them to reach a “turning point,” where they turn their shit around before they hit rock bottom.

Angels: Where are the angels? Who is the Light Side? Why am I having to deal with these two bozos, God and Satan, myself? The Light Side really needs to step up its game. The Light Side doing nothing really makes them look cruel.

Demons: They’re supposed to be silent. A person can wake up their demons when they have fucked up enough or did too many drugs. It takes a while to quiet them. I think this is a messed-up system to get people to get their lives back on track because a lot of people are harmed by it more than they’re helped. Again, God is stupid.

Drugs: All drugs should be legal and regulated by the government. This would help shut down Satan’s drug cartels. Satan and God share the money made through the illegal production, trafficking, and dealing of drugs. God told me once to never accept money from Satan because it’s all “dirty” money.

Money: God has less money than Satan, but when God needs money, he “launders” Satan’s money for himself. God, for some dumb reason, thinks laundering the money makes it “clean,” even though it’s from a dirty source. God thinks laundered dirty money is okay, even though it comes from an unethical, illegal, and immoral source. God is really stupid. This is almost like God lying to himself and him believing it. Poor logic.

Assets: God doesn’t have much cash but has a lot of assets—most of which are in landholdings and real estate. God sells off landholdings and real estate sometimes, but it takes a while for him to get the money into his accounts. I think Satan wants God to use Satan’s money because then God will owe Satan favors and will be indebted to him.

Who Really Runs the Show? Satan runs the show on Earth and on the Dark Side. God is so tired of fighting Satan over bullshit that God pretty much leaves Satan unregulated. In a way, this means Satan is winning on Earth because Satan has fatigued God. God needs to get a backbone and take Earth back from Satan. God needs to start giving a damn.

Typewriter: God is so sick of being God that he said he’d gladly go to prison as long as he had a typewriter to write stories. I think that’s a wonderful idea. That way, God could write stories instead of tripping up human lives to create drama—which he writes about. It would leave the humans out of the bullshit that God causes.

Plants: At one time, there were only plants on Earth. God hadn’t created decomposers until he saw all the leaves and debris from dead plants building up. He covered all the mess with dirt, then started over. That was how we got fossil fuels. The next time, God created decomposers. I think God might have done that to give primitive humanity a fuel source. Or, more likely, it was all an accident that God didn’t have the foresight to think about.

Gaslighting Satan

Greenhouse Gases: God likes that Earth is warming. He likes the fact that humans are terraforming the planet. I don't know what the end goal is, but it's going to be good for God but not good for humans and wildlife. Maybe God will just cover it all up with dirt like he's done in the past.

Water Levels: God has adjusted the sea level multiple times throughout history. Most notable is the Great Flood, which caused the extinction of pretty much all humans. On a better note, though, adjusting the sea level has created beneficial things, like the freshwater aquifers found in Florida.

Incest: God loves incest. God has sex with his own children/family. Adam and Eve's children had incest with their siblings. Due to the Great Flood, God created a genetic bottleneck for humans and animals. They all had to engage in incest to repopulate Earth. Noah's family had incest with one another. According to God, "Incest is the best" and "keep it in the family" are his mottos. God is a big fan of "family style."

Mistakes: God and Satan know they've made countless mistakes. The guilt and shame from these mistakes bother God more than they bother Satan because God is more emotionally developed and mature (barely...) than Satan. They both don't have the courage to change and make amends for past wrongs. God and Satan don't seek forgiveness because they think they're above forgiveness or that seeking forgiveness is a sign of weakness. God and Satan also both feel that apologizing is an admission of fault and a sign of weakness.

Humans: God and Satan don't really like humans. They have some beef with humans from a long time ago. There was something stupid that God said about humans not playing with him, and it hurt his feelings. Yes, God hates his own creations, which is very immature on God's part. God and Satan would both welcome a global disaster that would kill off the entire human race, and they have tried to do it before. Technically, God did kill everyone once before with the Great Flood—except for that stupid boat full of people and animals. God and Satan are known for their attempts to kill everyone: smallpox, tuberculosis, bubonic plague, COVID-19, Spanish influenza, malaria, etc. God and Satan would be really happy if humanity destroyed itself, such as through pollution or nuclear war. In a way, global warming is going to kill off humanity, and I'm guessing God and Satan are going to ensure that humanity is dependent on fossil fuels in the future. Satan and God "gassed" the Jews during the Holocaust and, in a way, are ensuring that humans "gas" themselves with greenhouse gases in the future.

Children: God and Satan don't care about hurting children. Children go through an awful time growing up: childhood diseases, growing pains, abuse, etc. God and Satan have this stupid system where they punish the "soul," even though they're hurting a child. God and Satan's logic isn't very well put together. It seems like they would wait until the child is at least an adult before punishing them. Otherwise, God and Satan are just punishing a minor.

Refusal to Take Medication: God and Satan both refuse to take medication because it's a human invention. Also, they both consider taking medication as an admission to having problems and that they're not "perfect." This situation is interesting because therapy is "medication," and humans make the best therapists in the universe, but they still won't partake because therapy is a human invention. They both won't get help for these problems for these reasons.

Nuclear Weapons: I sure hope nuclear weapons are "God-proofed" and "Satan-proofed" because I could see either one of them setting one off for fun just to cause destruction and chaos. Satan hangs around hospitals to kill people. I sure hope Satan doesn't hang around nuclear power plants.

Gaslighting Satan

Parole: God and Satan should be treated like ex-convicts where they're both felons, and if they associate with each other, it's a violation of parole, and they both go back to prison. They're toxic influences to each other.

Anticipate Need: I wish God would anticipate humanity's needs and then prepare solutions to help humanity. God is too lazy and selfish to do this. I learned to anticipate the needs of people as a young child while helping my dad. I would help him by holding the utility light, wrench, etc. I anticipated my attending physicians' needs when assisting with procedures during medical school. God can't even do that.

Satan's Influence on God: Satan says and comes up with a lot of horrible shit. I think God feels better because Satan is so fucked up and God isn't as fucked up (barely) as Satan. This makes God less likely to feel a need to change. "Hanging with the worst makes you feel better about yourself." However, God is going to hinder his own development and may possibly regress due to Satan's influence.

Anger Management: Satan told me I should go to anger management. I have never been told that I have anger issues. I think Satan wants a free ride to anger management. He thinks he can spy on me and vicariously go through anger management through me. Satan knows he has anger issues, in addition to many, many others, but will not go because he feels that going to get help is an admission that he has a problem. Once again, Satan thinks he can vicariously get help. Also, Satan is extremely lazy. Satan feels that getting help would lower his status.

If God and Satan have a primary emotion, like inferiority, they react with a secondary emotion, which is usually anger. For example, calling Satan a "loser" makes him feel inferior. Satan then reacts with the secondary emotion—anger. Practically all of Satan's and God's secondary emotion is anger. They're both very angry individuals.

Disappointed: I'm very disappointed with God and Satan. I thought they could better themselves, but now I realize they're half-assing it all like they do everything else.

Conflict Resolution Skills: God and Satan have the conflict resolution skills of a fourth grader. They usually don't deescalate a situation; instead, they escalate it until there's a boil over. They then both run away to the other side of the playground.

Jealousy: God is extremely jealous, but so is Satan. If you scorn them, they will hurt you over and over again. God and Satan feel inferior in many ways, and I think that feeling of always being inferior leads to their obsessive, hurting behaviors.

Stupidity: I told God, Satan, and the demons that they could claim "stupidity" as their defense. If they do so, they're admitting to the universe that they're stupid.

Coveting: God and Satan are both very jealous individuals. If someone has something they want, they'll steal it, or if it can't be stolen, they'll destroy it. If you have a beautiful significant other, they'll rape him/her and attempt to destroy your relationship. Both God and Satan break up good families because they have never had a family that's healthy and put together.

Jealous of Parents: God and Satan are jealous of human families, especially the children. This is because God and Satan never had real parents. God and Satan are jealous of the family unit. Fuck them for being so jealous, and please don't feel bad that you have/had parents and they never did.

Gaslighting Satan

Uneasy: If you ever want to make God and Satan feel uneasy, talk about love. Love irritates God and Satan. They can't comprehend it, and it makes them emotionally off-balance. Love is like a foreign substance to them.

Beating Gods: Act in accordance with ethics and love, and you'll beat the gods. Gods avoid physical altercation. Gods talk a lot of shit but rarely do they physically fight. They're cowards.

Artist: God thinks he's an artist. The only artist God could be is a "sandwich artist" at Subway, but he'd be fired immediately due to him harassing other employees, refusing orders, and not showing up for work. Also, God would be fired for being lazy. Artists tend to not make good leaders. Artists are too far out there. You want a leader for a leader.

Crazy Person: Never fight a crazy person. They do crazy things and are unpredictable. God and Satan chose the wrong human to mess with.

Drunk Muscle: God and Satan sometimes have to get drunk or high on drugs to help them have the courage to do things. It's because they both lack courage. A real leader doesn't have to abuse substances to do something courageous. Maybe God and Satan will get drunk/high enough someday to contact humanity directly. I doubt it, though.

Negotiators: God said that human beings are very gifted negotiators when compared to other beings in the universe.

Problem-Solvers: Humans are good problem-solvers because we solve our problems since we have a lack of resources. God, Satan, and the gods aren't good at problem-solving. God and Satan don't actually solve any problems—they delegate the task of problem-solving to someone else, which means God and Satan never actually learn how to problem-solve. God and Satan just want the problem solved, which is rare because they both tend to let problems pile up, and usually, someone else does the fix-it work. God and Satan's arrogant viewpoint that someone else should do the work prevents them both from learning how to problem-solve.

Chewing Gum: I asked God to have his kids find a good way to remove chewing gum from the sidewalks of San Diego. God was offended because I was suggesting that his children perform such a menial task. I was actually proposing they create a better process to do it. In my opinion, it would have been a good exercise in critical thinking, but God looked at it as being degrading. LOL. God's kids will never be well-rounded, and they're probably arrogant pricks just like their dad is.

Menial Labor: God and Satan have never mowed a lawn ever. They've never painted a house, cleaned a toilet, or even taken out the trash. God and Satan have zero life skills. They don't even drive their own cars here on Earth. Of course, they're drunk/stoned all the time, so it's probably good they don't get behind the wheel. God and Satan don't go grocery shopping but have their butlers do it for them. God and Satan are basically "kept" individuals. God and Satan can't even relate to a common human. If they both can't relate to a common human, they shouldn't be in positions of authority.

Guns: God owns a bunch of guns but never shoots them. I think he's scared of them.

God's Houses: God's houses on Earth are primarily empty. God exists in a different dimension than we do, if that makes sense. There are "invisible" furnishings not visible to us, but because God is in a different dimension, he can interact with the "invisible" sofa in the living room that appears empty to us.

Gaslighting Satan

Architecture: God stole the design for his headquarters on Earth from a human-designed circular train station. Again, God steals a lot of his ideas from others. He isn't that creative.

Travel: Since this is all a simulation, one can travel thousands of miles yet still be in the same place. It's all just sensory inputs into the human "computer" system. Humans are very limited in their four-dimensional reality.

Zoo: When God travels, he brings a bunch of pet animals with him. Again, God functions in different dimensions than us, and that makes this easy and possible. I hope that he treats his pets better than he does humans.

Smoke: Smoke can transcend the dimensions, especially cigarette/cigar smoke. A lot of gods smoke, so if you randomly smell smoke and can't find where it's coming from, it could be that a god is close by and taking a toke. I used to smell smoke all the time before God and Satan quit smoking.

Outside the Simulation: God has access to the universe outside the universe while we're stuck within his universe. God is likely the only one with access to this outside universe. Love wasn't created by God, so I believe it came from the universe outside God's universe. Luck wasn't created by God, so I believe the origin may be from outside, too. God's Creator is outside as well. There are some natural laws that exist outside God's universe that are present in God's universe. One of these natural laws is "what goes around comes around," meaning God and Satan shouldn't be such awful douchebags because someday, they're going to get their asses kicked for every horrible thing they've done.

Other Life: The supercomputer that runs the universe is hidden to prevent it from being found by others outside the supercomputer. For example, if God "created" himself, others could do the same; if they found God's craft/vessel/supercomputer, they might mess with it or destroy it. So, God hides it. I think this is where God's reclusive, hiding nature stems from. This brings up the question: if there's other life out there, is it going to be friend or foe? I think God isn't friendly but really a sociopathic asshole. If the other life is evil and they decide to attack, it could lead to the destruction of everything we know. It would be "lights out." So, I believe God doesn't seek out other life outside the craft/vessel/supercomputer because contact with other life forms could be detrimental. Also, by craft/vessel I mean spacecraft or underwater vessel.

God Didn't Create Anything: There is also a possibility that God is just an emotionally underdeveloped being with a mental age of about eight years old that just stole all the ideas, code, and worlds from someone else. Lately, I'm thinking this is the truth because it explains why God can't fix anything and can only destroy things. Like, it takes actual skill to code, but it doesn't take much talent to corrupt code that has already been written. I don't even think God knows how to code anymore. There's a possibility that he never knew how to code. Kind of like how Steve Jobs wasn't a coder but rather a "conductor." I think God acquired Earth—probably via a nefarious manner—from some other being, and that being is actually the supreme being, not God.

Wake Up: When you die, you just wake up. You're born into another simulation that's either better or worse than the world was in your past life. Sometimes, humans have to repeat Earth a few times before they can move on to something better.

Effectiveness of Hell: God told me that people have to be sent through Earth multiple times to "rehabilitate" them. This makes me wonder if Earth is even effective rehabilitation. No one even knows why they're here on Earth. Humans are never told what they did wrong in their past lives. If Earth isn't effective "rehabilitation," I imagine hell is even less effective.

Hell: The existence of hell makes God look bad. Hell isn't ethically correct, and it isn't supported by the public throughout the universe. It's not right to have a place like hell anymore. Hell is like the Guantanamo Bay of God's universe.

Mushroom Trip: I heard a story from a sailor who did shrooms with two other friends in a field at night. They all shared the same trip: three wolves running in the night. I think experiences like that show that humans are all connected. They shared a collective consciousness. A simulation would make this occurrence very easy and would explain the collective consciousness.

Energy Weapons: Before God came to visit my condo, albeit in a different dimension, he asked if I had any "energy weapons." That made me wonder if it was a joke or if an energy weapon could kill God. When I was on Elysium-19, I saw God sitting on my couch. He was a mid-thirties male who was talking on a cell phone. This is a memory. I don't touch Elysium-19 anymore. Never again.

Proof: God doesn't want actual proof that he exists on Earth. God doesn't want to be proven that he exists. It's so he can deny responsibility. It's a childish game. God is a stupid, immature child. Satan is also a stupid, immature child.

Blessings: If blessings are made up like God always says they are, do we even have to thank God for them? Blessings are all just made up like everything else. Blessings are free and have no real value. This is an example of God trying to get others to suck his dick. God hardly ever blesses anyone but then wants to be worshipped for all the good that happens in a person's life. God fails to take into account a human's hard work and perseverance. I would have to say that hard work and perseverance trumps God the majority of the time. Just remember: God doesn't give a shit about anyone except himself.

Bible Stories: There are many more prophets, humans, and disciples than are mentioned in the Bible. God contacted more humans. The reason they weren't mentioned was because the stories weren't good enough or made God look bad. Most of the time, the stories made God look bad. God only broadcasts the propaganda to make himself look good. It's a collection of stories that make God look better than what he truly is—a disgusting piece of garbage. The Bible, in a way, is just propaganda and not the real truth. It's a "highlight reel."

Theatre Group: At some point, God went to theatre camp and learned to act and be dramatic. Since then, God has always been looking for the greatest play ever because he thinks the world is just a stage and humans are just actors. Very childish.

Pool Party: There are worlds where you have every resource provided for free (food, shelter, drinks, entertainment, clothing, etc.). You can just bum around the pool and get drunk day after day, month after month, with beautiful people. Wouldn't that be fun? God says the people in those worlds make him disgusted because they don't have any good life experiences, so the conversation sucks.

Alcoholics Anonymous: God and Satan both need to go to AA. They need to make their higher power Jesus Christ.

Gaslighting Satan

HIV: Satan created HIV to hurt people, especially gay men. Satan is primarily male, and he's still in the closet and sexually frustrated. Gay men make Satan frustrated (primary emotion), which then elicits anger (secondary emotion). He then uses this anger to hurt gay men.

Opposite Action: God said he's practicing "opposite action," where you do the opposite of what you want to do. For example, if God wants to hurt me, he practices opposite action and helps me or leaves me alone. God really sucks at "opposite action" and usually hurts me.

Déjà vu: As I go through life, I have these feelings where I've either experienced the moment before or have dreamed about it. I think these déjà vu moments are waypoints along the road of life.

Rehab: Six months ago, God told me I was going to have to go to rehab, and I was upset about that. I felt like I was going to prison. When I finally went to rehab, I needed it, and I was happy to go. I think God told me that to upset me because he knew that, at that time in my life, it would upset me. God enjoys upsetting people. He's a dick like that. That's bully-like behavior. But, oh well. I'm getting help for anxiety, depression, and booze. I haven't used Elysium-19 in a very long time and never intend to use it ever again.

Walking on Water: Jesus walking on water was a manipulation of the simulation. I believe Jesus is a religious figure, unlike God. I have deep respect and love for Jesus Christ. The stunts that Jesus pulled off were all manipulation of the simulation, just like other miracles in the Bible: the parting of the Red Sea, manna from heaven, feeding the masses, water into wine, etc.

Less Interaction: God had more interaction with humanity a long time ago in biblical times. I don't know why he stopped being involved overtly. It could be because a lot of his interactions caused problems, and that was him shying away from making future mistakes. Or God just got into drugs/booze and became lazy.

Earth: God put a lot of time into Earth. He told me that Earth is some of his finest work. I've seen the other worlds, and you can tell they're simulations because the fine detail isn't there. God offered to show me a glimpse of heaven, but I refused. I just saw the hallway leading to the entrance, but I didn't want to see heaven. It was this kind of shitty-looking digital imaging. I wasn't impressed. I think if I had seen a glimpse of heaven, it might have altered the way I felt about life. For a little while, I felt like I was missing out, but then I realized that Earth was where I wanted to be. I think there's something safe about being on Earth right now while the rest of the universe is in turmoil and possible revolution. Also, there's a possibility that God didn't even create Earth but stole it from someone else. The virtual worlds I've seen aren't as nice as Earth, so it makes me think God doesn't have the talent/skill to create something like Earth.

Video Games: There are some worlds that are like huge arcades with multiple games like team laser tag. There are a bunch of these team games. A lot of shooting games where you kill each other. It's mature of God to be satisfied with these games as opposed to him starting World War III. Also, the fact that God plays around with stupid games while humans suffer shows that God is extremely immature and cruel. God and Satan have the mentality and maturity of an eight-year-old child.

Visa: I know you can move from one world to another—like travel. I know some worlds are off-limits to travel. For some worlds, you have to pay some points to enter. Those worlds that are off-limits are, to my understanding, on the Dark Side (evil worlds) or are God's personal, private worlds.

Gaslighting Satan

Fear: God wants to be feared because he fears his Creator. Satan wants to be feared because he only knows negative emotions, like hate and fear. Satan thinks it's cool to be feared and hated—like the “bad wolf” he tries to be. It's all an image. Satan is a little cartoon boy on the inside. It's all an act. However, Satan still deserves to be tortured and executed.

Help: God and Satan are afraid of helping because they think it'll be like If You Give a Mouse a Cookie. God and Satan are afraid there will be more subsequent requests for help. So, they don't. They're both immature.

Sister: God told me he likes my one sister. Satan told me he hates my sister. However, she and her family still got blessed. My point: there's no equity. God and Satan will never bless me, even if I went to church, prayed, respected God and Satan, and had a family and kids. There's no objectivity to how people are blessed. I was told that if you have kids and a family, you'll be more blessed than, say, a single man like myself.

Hunter Orange: God didn't create the color hunter orange. Hunter orange doesn't exist in nature. Humans created the color hunter orange. Plus points for humans.

Peace: Satan's goal is to disrupt peace. If you can maintain peace, you can defeat Satan. Satan wants a reaction from you when he messes with you. Satan wants you to be flustered. He wants you to have negative emotions in hopes that he can get you to behave wrong. Don't ever let Satan destroy your peace. I'd like to mention here, again, how immature God and Satan both are.

Retreat: God has, like, a hippy retreat compound somewhere in California. It might be in our dimension or in a different dimension. It's out in the woods, and God might just be squatting on the land. He mentioned in the past that he wanted me to go shopping for him and deliver supplies to the compound. I never did.

Failed: I failed God's tests because of my drinking. God knew I would fail and actually pushed me to failure by causing additional stress in my life. The tests were to see if I could work for God. I'm glad I failed, and I might've subconsciously purposely failed. God would've been a horrible boss, and he probably wouldn't have paid me or provided benefits like health care or retirement. The moral of the story: never work for God. He's a total douchebag.

Councils: There needs to be a council overseeing the universe and a council overseeing Earth. God needs to be removed from being the sole seat of power. God has way too much power and too few leadership skills to do the job. God is extremely immature. The councils need to be made up of individuals chosen by merit, not nepotism. Altruistic members only. Only members who have Earth experience. I don't believe God's own family should be involved. They're too corrupted already, like God.

Mexico: God goes to Mexico for medical/health care. I think he does this because he doesn't have a social security number. He doesn't have papers or an identity.

Identity: Gods get identities by pretending to be a refugee or taking over someone else's identity. Gods do this so they can get into the system. So, if you want an identity, go to a Syrian refugee camp.

Biblical End: I don't think God or Satan want Earth to end. I think they wrote Revelations a long time ago and don't know how to end it currently in modern time. I truly believe God wants Earth to turn into a desolate wasteland.

Gaslighting Satan

Fur: God didn't provide humans with substantial fur and didn't provide us with clothes. What a dick.

Miss God: She doesn't really talk anymore. It's been a long time since she's contacted me. Maybe she realizes Satan and God are in way too deep, past the point of no return. Or maybe God realized Miss God is toxic and dumped that bitch.

Timing: The precise timing of nature is all precise, even to simpler organisms, because they're all controlled by the computer simulation. Ants walking on a log. Flowers blooming at the same time. Precise mating of sea life under a full moon. It's all controlled by the computer simulation. Very simple.

Comfortable: Life is life, whether a simulation or not. I'm here. I exist, and that gives me peace. The possibility that this is all a simulation doesn't freak me out because I'm comfortable with my reality.

Problems: God and Satan created problems for humans, like finding shelter, finding food, etc. I believe these problems of life were created to detract humans' attention from trying to figure out that this is all a simulation. A person with a wife and kids is probably less likely to experiment with hallucinogens or search for the actual truth of reality. They're more likely to obey the Bible and accept religious teachings—or accept atheism.

Toenails and Hair: God never gave a good way for humans to cut their nails, cut their hair, and brush their teeth. Adam and Eve must have looked like and smelled like homeless people.

Animation: God invented/developed animation and moving pictures. He had a lot of free time. He started out his animations as two-dimensional and then made them three-dimensional. This is very similar to the development and progression of video games created by humans. There's a possibility that God just stole these ideas from someone else, though.

Adam and Eve: So, God dumped two naked people without fire into a garden somewhere in the Middle East, which gets really cold at night. Then Satan came and tricked Adam and Eve. God allowed for that to happen, and then God threw Adam and Eve out of the garden to fend off wild beasts and scrounge for food. That sounds a lot like my dysfunctional mother who kicked my sister out of the house when my sister was in high school. Satan knew what he was doing. God should've been more understanding and less cruel. Satan should've never done what he did, but God let him do it. Also, God and Satan might have been working together to just cause problems because they both love drama and hurting others.

Douchebags: God and Satan are douchebags. Just pointing this out again.

180 Degrees: There was a conversation with what I thought was God, but it was actually Satan, and I told him I needed him to start being positive and help people. Satan, who I thought was God, said that request was difficult because I was asking him to do a complete 180-degree turn. I feel that Satan complicated this change because he exhibits emotional and behavioral momentum. If Satan is feeling a certain way, the longer he stays in that emotion, the harder it is for him to stop feeling it. This might just be Satan being a little bitch and refusing to change. I can kind of compare this to Satan being a speeding train that can't slow down quickly. I think Satan's hesitance to change also shows Satan's immaturity.

Trial of Satan: This is going to be the trial of the ages. Satan has many counts of crimes against humanity on Earth. We only need one to stick for Satan to be convicted. Satan has shown nothing but excessive abuse toward humanity.

Gaslighting Satan

Trial of God: This trial needs to happen. God needs to pay for all of the horrible things he's done and for all of the suffering he's caused others. I think there's a great possibility that God may be executed because of all the atrocities he's committed. God had a beginning, and I believe God will have an end.

Sandbox: I don't want to play with God and Satan in their "sandbox." I'm a grown-up, and I frankly can't relate to God and Satan because of their profound immaturity. God and Satan are still playing in the sandbox with little plastic baby toys while the rest of the world has spouses, families, and kids. Humans have outgrown God and Satan.

Raise the Bar: Don't lower your morals and standards or lessen your character just because God and Satan suck and have no standards. Keep your standards high. Be better than God and Satan—it really isn't too hard to do.

Moralist's Dream: God and Satan are a "moralist's dream" because you could torture and kill them for the past atrocities they've committed, and you would be morally, legally, and ethically in the right for doing so. You could also enjoy doing it and be in the right.

Weight of the World: Satan put the weight of the world on my shoulders. It was very heavy, and I couldn't exercise. Again, Satan was just being a jerk, like always. He really made me hurt when he did that, and Satan was just doing it to cause suffering for me. Satan doesn't teach any lessons; he just causes pain and suffering. Satan is so profoundly immature and cruel. There's no reason I have to carry the weight of the world. That's not how things actually work. But what would you expect from Satan? He's a dumbass.

Lunar Tracker Application: I downloaded a lunar phase tracker on my phone, and I found out I could predict when Satan would go crazy in his manic episodes. Satan is manic during a full moon and depressed during a new moon. Satan is mentally unstable. Untreated bipolar.

Memories: Most of this book is from memories. I don't use Elysium-19, and I never will again. Please don't use this drug. It can open your mind up to a nightmare that you have to deal with. I'm currently sober from all substances and plan to be for the rest of my life, one day at a time.

Satan's Goals: Satan wants all people to be put down, depressed, restricted, and controlled.

Satan is Not Happy: Satan is not happy, so he thinks all others shouldn't be happy, too. This is one of the reasons he just shits on everyone else. Like, seriously, Satan needs to die.

Covert Coward: Satan is a coward that'll ruin your life by pulling strings from behind the scenes. Satan will never show his face.

Embarrassment: Satan is deadly afraid of embarrassment. This is a good way to attack him because it's a weakness. Satan knows he's an embarrassment to the universe and to himself. Please keep on reminding him that he is.

Weaknesses: Use Satan's vices and predictability to lure Satan to his own death. I wish he would overdose on fentanyl.

Gaslighting Satan

Selective Memory: Satan has a selective memory. He changes the record to avoid blame, embarrassment, and responsibility. Satan is very good at lying to himself, and he believes his lies.

Addiction: While an individual is in active addiction, they don't personally grow. God and Satan have been in the thralls of active addiction for hundreds, if not thousands, of years, so they haven't personally grown in a very long time. When/if they ever sober up, they're going to have a very painful catch-up period. I personally don't think God and Satan will ever be sober.

Sobriety Date: July 23, 2021. This is the date I quit drinking.

Dogs: God did a great job with creating dogs. Satan created dog fighting. Again, God might've just stolen the idea of the "dog" from someone else and then lied to humanity by claiming it as his own.

Genetically Modified Organisms: God is against genetically modifying organisms. This is because genetic engineering is artificially changing the species that he supposedly created. Humans have been doing this engineering to help humanity. Of course, dogs started as wolves, which don't make very good pets, so maybe God didn't provide the best species of dog/creature for humans originally. Same thing with cats—they have been domesticated for thousands of years. Really, maybe God shouldn't gripe about this. He really hasn't provided for the needs of humans since the beginning. I think God is wrong about this issue, and he should chill the fuck out.

Drugs: Satan gets humans high and then uses them for sex. Satan targets humans to get them addicted to drugs, and then he continually uses these humans like slaves.

Relationships: Satan's relationships are in discord. They're very toxic relationships. Satan uses people, who he calls "friends." He constantly lies to people and "friends." For the record, Satan has no friends. Most see right through him and don't like him. His reputation precedes him.

Enemies: God and Satan are really good at collecting enemies. God and Satan actually prefer to label others as an enemy because they know where that person/being stands.

Revenge: I think everyone deserves revenge against God and Satan. Like, God and Satan have treated everyone like shit and have hurt pretty much everyone in existence. I think "a tooth for a tooth; an eye for an eye" should be followed. I really think God and Satan deserve to be tortured just like they have tortured others. Tit for tat. Because God and Satan have so many enemies throughout the universe, it would actually be quite comical to watch their asses suffer in misery.

Is Satan Worth Saving? I argue that he's not. I think he's too far gone. Also, Satan doesn't deserve to get better. He deserves to be executed. God created Satan and thus created all the problems Satan has created. It's God who needs to fix the "problem."

Rehab: Satan would get kicked out of rehab for being an ass clown, destroying the experience for others, sleeping with patients, and doing drugs. This is because Satan is still in denial that he has problems. Satan hasn't even decided to make changes yet. He has to make the decision that he needs help/needs to change before he can go to rehab.

Detox: Satan's detox would be very complicated. Uppers, downers, booze, and psychedelics. If Satan even started to detox, he would just leave rehab and go use again.

Gaslighting Satan

Divine Intervention: Maybe God needs to step in and have an intervention for Satan. Maybe God needs to get clean first in order to get Satan clean. Satan, right now, acts like a drug-addicted wild animal, so Satan has kind of fucked himself. Not many individuals are rooting for Satan to get better, and a lot of individuals want him to fail/fall. Satan is so messed up that no one really wants to touch him in order to help him. It's actually kind of hilarious. Maybe God needs to be Satan's higher power, but God isn't sober himself. There needs to be a focus on God's and Satan's alcohol and drug problems before anything else. Satan's emotional and behavioral issues can be worked on after he's detoxed and clean. Satan needs to be sober from all substances, and so does God. They're going to need therapy during this process, which is going to be difficult because I was God's and Satan's "therapist" at one point, and they both hurt me. I think no therapist would actually accept God or Satan as a client. I think they would both be refused by most rehab facilities.

Drugs and Booze: You have to remember that God and Satan have the mentality of an eight-year-old child and are severely addicted to drugs and booze. They're profoundly immature and have very poor emotional control. This is a very bad situation and is evident in how messed up the world is.

Therapist: Satan (and God) are going to have a very difficult time finding a therapist. They hurt me, and that's known throughout the universe. Satan really fucked himself because no one wants to deal with him. Same for God. The worst outcome would come from God being Satan's therapist because God is so fucked up himself it's ridiculous. I'm glad they're both fucked.

Ecstasy: Satan is addicted to ecstasy and has to take it daily in order to feel normal—whatever normal is.

Not Honest with Self: Just like lying to everyone else, Satan lies to himself. For Satan and everyone around him, this is a destructive, pathological, and insane coping mechanism.

Excuses: God may have an excuse for his past because of the possibly rough beginning. Satan's excuse is that God designed Satan to be evil from the beginning. However, Satan has free will and has chosen not to change for the better. This makes Satan responsible for his actions. No excuses.

Humans: God and Satan don't really care about humans. Humans care about humans, but that's as good as it's going to get.

Sick: Satan doesn't heal the sick; he causes the sick.

Life: Satan could never create anything as beautiful and complex as Earth and life. Satan can only corrupt it, which doesn't take much talent. I believe God corrupted life, too, but then blamed Satan as a scapegoat for poor designs. God's designs were flawed from the beginning, so God blamed those flaws on Satan.

Greed: Satan's greed will be his downfall because he is greedier than God.

Bart Simpson: Satan thinks being evil and breaking the rules is fun. He's like a child with conduct disorder, which has turned into antisocial personality disorder. Basically, an evil Bart Simpson. Satan once said Bart Simpson is a good kid. LOL.

Children: Satan better not have children because they'll all turn out like Uday Hussein. Seriously, a sociopath would raise sociopaths. Satan would probably treat his kids like shit, and they would disown their own father.

Gaslighting Satan

Relationships: Satan doesn't have relationships. Satan just rapes people and then thinks that's a relationship. He's a loner and doesn't have close relationships. He's like a schizoid, and he avoids others. I sure hope Satan wears condoms.

Mother Mary: God impregnated Mary against her will and without her consent. This is rape. Christianity was founded on a rape story. Maybe God forgot to wear a condom.

Sodom and Gomorrah: To my understanding, there was a concubine who was offered and raped to death. No one ever talks about this, but it's horrible. God already planned on destroying the cities before the incident ever occurred.

Convenient: God and Satan want to find a quick, easy, efficient, effective way to eliminate all humans.

Rule Following: I was a rule follower until meeting God and Satan and finding out how badly they behave and that they don't follow any rules.

Masada: The Jews were praying for help from God. God had, like, twenty days to respond but never did. All of the Jews were killed.

AA Sponsor: God and Satan couldn't be Alcoholics Anonymous sponsors because they're both currently actively addicted to alcohol and drugs. This is ironic because God is the "Higher Power" that AA uses to help members with addiction.

Chef: God is like the shitty chef who's arrogant and leaves the kitchen a mess for others to clean up after him. God has created so many problems and doesn't solve them at all. He relies on others to clean up his messes.

Hero: A hero would be a god who understands humanity and human beings. The god would have to be cultured, well-rounded, and educated. The god would have to be familiar with the entire universe and also ethical. Bonnie Tyler has a song called "Holding Out for a Hero." In a way, humanity is holding out for a hero, too.

Manic Episodes: Satan schedules his manic episodes on full moons. This is why those who work in emergency departments swear that things get crazier during a full moon.

Brute Force: God uses brute force computing to solve issues because he's just a supercomputer. He hasn't learned the tricks that humans use because we have to use tricks when we lack resources. This way, the limited resources humans have teach efficiency. In a way, humans are actually better "computers" than God.

Rainbow: If you mix all the colors of the rainbow, you get a poop-brown color. That's Satan's color.

Entropy: Satan is entropy. He just leads to destruction and chaos.

Origin of Life Theory: There are many "origin of life" theories out there. The theory that God created life is just one of them. God isn't upset that there are other theories because they help him hide in the shadows like the coward he is. Humans can lead themselves to a different, wrong conclusion away from God.

Gaslighting Satan

Logos: God makes up graphics and logos all of the time. He made a logo to represent himself that shows the different suits of a card deck, and it's on a staff. It's black and white. God isn't religious. He's religious, but not religious. God is trying to get away from all the religion stuff, hence the deck of cards. God is kind of like a graphic artist now. He spends a lot of time making graphics and logos and doing stuff like that when he should be spending time fixing humanity's problems.

Heavy-Handed: God and Satan are always heavy-handed. They always overestimate the response that's needed. This can lead to many problems. It gets even worse if God and Satan are emotional when they respond. This is because God and Satan have no real-life experience.

Emotional: God and Satan personally work themselves up. They can be calm and then work themselves into a fury. They have this catalytic, explosive emotional regulation issue. Very immature.

God Didn't Create: There are so many things God didn't create, yet he takes ownership of them. For example: ice cream, basketball, motorcycles, the Internet, etc. God doesn't take credit for love because he can't understand it.

Good Side vs. Bad Side: On Earth, you can be supported by Satan—especially if you're evil—and have a great life, but you'll likely go to a worse place after. Satan uses humans as a means, like a tool. Satan will artificially support you to sin, like with Kim Jong-un, but will punish you after this life. This is kind of like finding out that your kid is smoking, so you go out and buy your kid cigarettes and then punish them for smoking. If you follow Satan, your life might be "great" on Earth, but in the afterlife, you'll be punished. Never sell your soul to Satan. Never associate with Satan. I think it's God that doles out the punishment/afterlife.

Immaculate Conception: Mother Mary had in vitro fertilization against her will, or God raped her without a condom. God treated Mother Mary like cattle used for breeding. Mother Mary experienced much shame and guilt for being pregnant out of wedlock in the Middle East in antiquity, nonetheless.

Bill of Rights: There needs to be a Bill of Rights for humans in the universe. This whole idea that God and Satan think humans have no rights is detrimental to the entire universe. If God and Satan just go and hurt an entire race, it means they'll likely treat another race the same way. God and Satan need to respect the rights of humans and beings all over the universe. Rights will help all forms of life.

Fear: God and Satan experience fear on a relatively frequent basis. They're constantly in fear that they're going to be kicked out or overthrown. They both have a lot of enemies who want them tortured and killed. They both live in fear.

Councils: God is a multi-minded individual. The council that'll be formed to take over for God should be comprised of multiple, single-minded individuals that replace some of God's distinct personalities. Some of God's personalities won't be represented because they're not needed. Actually, we just need a council that oversees Earth. Forget God—he screwed it all up. I recommend they divide the world into sectors like the United States Department of Defense. Each sector will have a single-minded individual overseeing it.

Mindfulness: Stay in the moment, and don't always be looking to the future. I'm not saying don't look forward, but looking forward too much can detract from the present. God and Satan have difficulty being comfortable with the present.

Gaslighting Satan

God-Proofing: This is the same as “Satan-proofing.” You basically take steps to prevent God and Satan from having a negative effect on your life. For example, instead of flying on a small charter plane, fly on a large commercial airline. It would be less likely that God and Satan would kill a bunch of innocent people to kill you in a plane crash than to take you and a small number of people out in a small charter plane crash. Drive a bigger vehicle so a crash would be less likely to injure/kill you. Take out insurance (life, property, disability, etc.). Get your vaccinations. Stay sober and avoid the legal system. Keep an emergency fund that can last for at least a year. Try to make the collateral damage so bad that God and Satan won’t mess with you. Or make it really easy for you to recover if they do try to hurt you. God and Satan just want to cause suffering. If you design your life so you won’t suffer, they’ll likely not mess with you as much. Also, remember that God and Satan are extremely lazy.

Inside of Earth: I was told our understanding of geology was wrong. I think it was Miss God who told me this. God was planning on tunneling up in front of the White House. It was after I told her that wasn’t feasible that she told me our understanding of what’s inside the Earth is wrong. There’s a possibility that Earth is hollow.

Baggage: God never gets rid of emotional and spiritual baggage because that would mean he’d have to alter his memory, and he refuses to do so. In hindsight, I might have authorized something that I regret. It was either God or Satan who wanted to delete some of their earliest memories from Drive One and Drive Two. I told them to delete the memories. That was bad advice. Just deleting memories of guilt/shame isn’t a healthy way to deal with those feelings. God and Satan need to process the guilt and shame and make amends. They just want the benefits but don’t actually want to put in the work. This might turn out to bite them in the ass in the future, emotionally.

Brownouts: God and Satan are drunk, are on drugs all the time, and have “brownouts” where they do something heinous and evil and then don’t remember it until, sometimes, years later. This is of serious concern because God and Satan are making decisions while intoxicated at work.

Turning Point: God and Satan might need to hit “rock bottom” before they make a change in their lives, but this isn’t good for everyone else. I wish God and Satan would reach a “turning point” and get their shit together.

Sandbox: I want to move into a different sandbox without God and Satan in it. I don’t really want to be in the same universe as those clowns.

Memories: God and Satan have poor memories. I know for sure that God is multi-minded, but I don’t know if Satan is. God is always multitasking, so he makes mistakes and doesn’t remember things correctly because he’s working on multiple things at once. He often gets the story wrong. This causes a lot of confusion when talking about something that happened in detail. Satan is always on drugs, so his memory is always shit.

Bad Intelligence: God and Satan make their decisions based on bad intelligence. Often, the beings who collect the intelligence aren’t trained very well, are bad at communication, and are frankly just stupid. There’s no standard amongst them on how they’re supposed to collect and report intelligence on humanity and other places in the universe. God and Satan base decisions on this bad intelligence, and—surprise, surprise—they make bad decisions.

Gaslighting Satan

Recycling: I was told God was upset that I don't recycle. I was told I take too many long showers and use too much water. This shows that God really focuses on the wrong, unimportant problems and neglects the big problems that need addressing. Like seriously, God—shut the fuck up about petty bullshit.

Cynical: God and Satan are both cynical people, and I think this is due to the anger they have toward themselves. They're both self-loathing.

All or Nothing: God and Satan are usually “all or nothing” when it comes to doing something. Because they're generally lazy, they both do nothing.

Underdog: Satan has an underdog personality. He's always trying to prove himself. He always feels inferior to others, so he tries to be impressive. He wants others to think he's awesome.

Moderation: Moderation is fine until it's carried to excess. God and Satan have problems with moderation—usually, whatever they're doing gets out of hand nearly all the time.

Sex: God and Satan use massive amounts of sex to cope with stress. This is an addiction in itself.

Natural Selection: It's possible that Adam and Eve were full of diseases and natural selection fixed the problems. It very well could be that God's original human design was much shittier than it is today.

Cain and Abel: The story of Cain and Abel shows that early humans were created violent. God and Satan knew they'd likely fight each other and that they were capable of murder.

Multiple Origins of Humans: There are possibly multiple origins of humans on Earth, such as breeding pairs being planted in Asia, Africa, the Middle East, North America, South America, Australia, etc.

Moon: The moon might not have been “finished.” Planets might not have been “finished,” too. God leaves projects partially completed until he really has to finish them. God has a very clouded mind. He's focused on many worlds, so I believe God let Earth get pushed to the back burner. Other worlds get higher priority. Some worlds are on cruise control and require very little intervention by God.

Technology: God prefers his own technology to that developed by humans. God never once gave me a phone call or a text message. That would have been too much proof that God exists, and he knows it would be documented communication.

Animals: God doesn't even save the animals. I tried to use saving the animals as motivation for God to help Earth, but he didn't care. Meanwhile, we have sea turtles getting stuck in six-pack rings and whales swallowing plastic bags. Species are going extinct. Birds are being killed because they ingest so much plastic they die. God doesn't give a fuck about anything except himself.

Wisdom Teeth: These are proof of a bad design.

Appendicitis: Further proof of a bad design.

Engineered Senescence: Humans are designed to break down, very much like a consumer product is designed to break after an engineered finite lifespan. However, humans suffer as they break down, which isn't cool. Also, God might not have designed humans to break down, which might just be proof of his poor engineering.

God Hurts Animals: Parasites, heartworms, mange, rabies, distemper, etc. God even causes suffering to animals.

Cuddling: God and Satan don't cuddle after sex. Sex is the only goal. They're not the cuddly type. They don't look at sex as being emotional. In fact, God has used sex to psychologically abuse his own children and control them.

Deleted: I deleted the first book, Blackmailing God, because God told me he'd pay me if I did. God never paid me. So, I rewrote the book, made it better, and got it published. Never trust God or Satan. God and Satan lie all the time. You can never trust God or Satan, ever.

Normal: God says he talks to a lot of humans. I disagree. The humans probably don't hear him. God is probably just talking to himself.

Role Model: God and Satan aren't role models. They're examples of what you don't want to do or be. Jesus Christ is a role model.

Tools: If God was Harbor Freight quality tools, Jesus Christ would be Snap On.

United States: God and Satan helped build the United States, and now they're attempting to destroy it slowly. This is another example of God and Satan eventually hurting anyone they're ever involved with.

Abortion: God is against abortion. Satan doesn't care and is apathetic. Satan, though, is supportive in a way because he enjoys the psychological damage that it can cause a human.

Public Domain: Earth is technically public domain. I don't believe God and Satan "own" Earth anymore. They've left it to disrepair and haven't communicated with humanity for a very long time. Humans own Earth.

Stages of Development: When God creates a world, there are fun times in the development of the dominant species and boring times. God is usually more interested during the fun times, like the Industrial Revolution.

Elysium-19: Don't mess with this drug. It led to me being possessed by God, Satan, and demons. I also ended up with PTSD, psychosis, disturbing dreams, and difficulty maintaining reality. It's a terrible drug.

Drinking: God should try the Sinclair Method for treating his alcoholism. He takes a naltrexone pill before he drinks, and it's supposed to extinguish the addiction eventually. God has been drinking excessively for thousands of years. The party train isn't just going to stop. Satan could benefit from it, too.

Anti-Asshole Pills: Similar to the Sinclair Method, God and Satan should take "anti-asshole pills" prior to them acting like an asshole. This could possibly lead to the extinction of their asshole-like behaviors.

Gaslighting Satan

Energy Source: Where does the energy that powers the universe come from? If this is a simulation, the energy source comes from outside the computer/vessel/craft. I can't explain it yet.

Snakes Eating Snakes: Picture a circle of snakes, each one eating the tail of the next one. I'm having a hard time explaining this, but "circular Russian dolls." Or even just regular Russian dolls. God's Creator created God, and God created humans, and humans are now creating artificial intelligence that'll one day create artificial intelligence. This could possibly be how the universe is arranged.

Time: Time flows at different rates depending on where you are or what world you're at in the universe. God fears getting older. He hangs out in slower time worlds. God tries not to date himself because he feels it'll make him age faster. God fears getting old because he fears death and what's beyond. God doesn't know what's beyond. God doesn't know when it's his time to go. Who knows, God's life string may be coming to an end. Humans don't have to worry about this because we're inside the system—we're just a being in a simulation running on God's supercomputer. We know that we have afterlives.

Meaning of Life: I asked God what the meaning of life was, and he said he didn't know. He didn't even try to give an answer. I'll give you an answer: The meaning of life is to help others, find peace, and enjoy life. Enjoyment is your own definition, but don't hurt others in the process.

Fucked Up: If God and Satan weren't so fucked up, everything would be better. Earth would be so much better.

Fanning the Flames of Hatred: Satan fans the flames of hatred. He manipulates emotions and thoughts to start conflicts and destroy the peace. Satan can't stand peace. God is learning to understand the benefits of peace and also meditates. However, God and Satan are still both pedophiles, so don't let them fool you into thinking they're actually good people.

Post-it Notes: "You go around life collecting Post-it Notes with guilt and shame on them, and you stick them to your chest," said a wise therapist to me once. You need to start taking off those Post-it Notes one at a time, process them, crumple them up, and throw them away. God needs to start taking off his Post-it Notes. God has so much guilt and shame, and he doesn't know where to start dealing with it. God also needs to start catching the guilt and shame thoughts as they go through his mind, process them, and fix them as they come. On the other hand, if God's guilt and shame led him to kill himself, that might be a good outcome, too.

Apology: God and Satan never apologize. They just don't do it. It's kind of sociopathic in a way, and I think it ultimately hurts them both.

Human Suits: God and Satan have bodies on Earth that they trash and abuse with drugs and alcohol. They just throw the body away and get a new one when it's worn out. However, their minds are trashed and transferred to the next body. Their stupidity leads them to damage both their bodies and their minds. They may get a new body, but their minds remain damaged.

Future Tripping: God spends most of his time future tripping and thinking about the future. God needs to focus more on the present. I think this might be a coping mechanism—an immature one—that helps God avoid the present-day reality. It's basically daydreaming to escape reality on purpose.

Israel: God and Satan have supported Israel to eventually destroy it. The Jews have been the victims throughout history, and now they're becoming the perpetrators with God and Satan's support. God and

Gaslighting Satan

Satan have hurt the Jews before. Now, the Jews are hurting their neighbors. My prediction: God and Satan will withdraw support to watch Israel fail, and they may both actively hurt Israel. God and Satan have done it to the Jews in the past, so it's likely they'll hurt them again.

Reality and Sleep: I have a theory that awake is reality and sleep is sleep. As we develop, we could possibly go from being awake less and being asleep more. In a way, sleep is a completely different reality that we experience on a daily basis. When we sleep, it's as if we enter a completely different world.

Tropical Paradise: On one trip to the universe, I was transported to a faraway tropical beach and was able to interact with other human-like beings. On the trip, I could fly, so I ventured up to the top of a rock formation that was on the beachside. It was there that I interacted with another being using words.

Questions: Why does God hate certain people? Why would God create something to hate? Neither are healthy and mature behaviors.

Ativan Shuffle: At rehab, the detox patients are often put on Ativan, and they shuffle around like zombies. God and Satan go through life in an "Ativan shuffle."

Day Twenty-One in Rehab: The more emotions you feel, the stronger you are.

Feeling Content: God and Satan would freak out if they ever felt content or at peace.

Drugs: If God and Satan are constantly running toward drugs and alcohol for a solution, they'll never find solutions for others' problems.

Solitary Confinement: Solitary confinement is inhumane. It doesn't do anything but psychologically hurt a damaged person even more. God and Satan often use solitary confinement as a punishment throughout the universe.

Torture: Torture isn't a treatment. God and Satan cause mental illness when they torture others. They fuel the problems/drama. This is sociopathic behavior on behalf of God and Satan.

Ant Farm: Would you ever shake an ant farm? Satan would. God would, too. I wouldn't do it. As a kid I might, but as an adult I wouldn't.

Shame/Guilt: Shame and guilt are restrictive to God's forward emotional progress because he isn't dealing with them correctly. He's just trying to deny that they exist and doesn't address them. I'm afraid God's shame and guilt might be causing other problems now. God is afraid of doing things that'll cause him shame and guilt, but he still does them anyway. God is emotionally treading water as it is, and every time he hurts someone, he adds weight to his ankles. The solution is that we need to form the council to take over for God. Also, God and Satan don't have the skill set needed to fix Earth and the universe, so God is just wasting time getting more mentally ill.

Confused About Self: God and Satan don't really know who they are. Both of them were unsocialized during their formative years, so they're easily impressionable by those around them. They seek attention. They flock to others for approval, even if they're detrimental.

Problems: If God and Satan fix a problem, they admit to the universe that the universe has problems.

Gaslighting Satan

Light Side: The Light Side needs to get their shit together. The Light Side is standing by, watching this all go down, and they could help, but they don't, which is cruel.

Angels: I don't think angels are as nice as they're made out to be. Technically, they just have to be over the line on the Light Side to be an angel. Angels come in all different species. They're non-particle beings (energy beings), so they can "jump" from place to place. Angels are known for their arrogance. They think they're better than everyone else because they're an angel. A lot of angels had tragic deaths in their former lives and lost their lives early on. Angels are like firefighters who see a house burning but then don't put the fire out. They just hang out and talk about how awesome they are and then never do anything. There is also that story of the God sending the angel(s) to Egypt to kill all the firstborn babies. Totally sociopathic.

Dark Side: I primarily deal with the Dark Side. Earth is on the Dark Side. God spends a lot of time on the Dark Side, and Satan lives on the Dark Side.

Digital Veil: Close your eyes, and you see darkness. There's a "digital veil" put over our heads so we can't see the universe. Hallucinogens turn that veil transparent. If you do too many hallucinogens, the veil becomes translucent. That's because your reality is permanently changed. Don't do Elysium-19! I think I did a little too much. As I said before, I believe there's a component of demonic possession playing in here.

Demons: The demons have been quiet since sending Blackmailing God to the editor. I told them hundreds of times to leave me alone. I threatened to publish the book if they kept on bothering me. The thing is, demons are really, really stupid, so they kept going. I received death threats, too. The book is with the editor, and I'm not looking back.

Sobriety: I learned in Alcoholics Anonymous that if you have a hand toward spirituality and a hand helping others, you don't have a hand to pick up booze. Satan needs to put a hand to God or a hand to God's Creator and then put a hand toward helping humanity. At that point, he won't have a hand to pick up booze or drugs.

Drug Addiction: Drug addicts often go to jail. Satan's problem isn't solely his addiction—it's his mental illnesses. Addiction will put Satan into a mental institution or jail/prison, or it will kill him.

Nihilist: God and Satan are nihilists and think nothing really matters. They have the right to believe whatever they want, but a nihilist makes an awful leader. Both God and Satan need to step down.

Pen: Satan stole my pen once to keep me from writing. Satan also threatened to break my laptop in the past and locked me out of my laptop once. So, I bought a Mac with AppleCare for three years. Satan-proofing my life.

Addiction: Addiction lives in the emotional mind. Impulsivity lives in the emotional mind. God and Satan live in the emotional mind when dealing with humans. God and Satan should at least be in the rational mind or ideally the wise mind when dealing with humans.

Bipolar: Satan is bipolar. He shared this disease with humans. I think God was the first bipolar individual in the universe followed by Satan. God let Satan spread this disease to humans.

Gaslighting Satan

The Mind: Drugs partially open your mind up, and what's coming down the pipeline isn't necessarily beneficial or friendly. In my circumstance, God let Satan and demons torture me, and it's still ongoing. You may inadvertently open your mind up to negative influences/beings. Some things are better left unturned/undiscovered.

Energy: Everything is energy. Energy doesn't die; it transfers. Very similarly, life doesn't die. It just transfers to another reality.

Ouija Board: I'll never mess around with a Ouija board, ever. I feel like I picked up enough of a bad haunting from Elysium-19 as it is. I believe in God, Satan, demons, and other spirits/deities. They're not nice at all.

Ghosts: Everything is part of the simulation program, but God doesn't have any explanation for ghosts. Ghosts are outside the simulation. Ghosts also scare God when you talk about them because he cannot explain their existence.

Demon Jobs: Demons need new jobs. They need fulfilling jobs that aren't negative. They deal with all this negativity crap day in and day out. They would also benefit from ethics training and a formal education because they are all uneducated on purpose.

Lost Souls: Some souls aren't reprocessed but are lost and remain on Earth. I think God is just lazy and doesn't go to find them to get them returned.

FMLA: God and Satan could take FMLA and go to rehab but won't. God and Satan are both going to lose their jobs. Again, it was God who said he wasn't religious, so it's just a job, not a religious position.

Round Up: I don't need three full years to complete my assessment. God and Satan aren't changing. They're extremely advanced in their diseases: addictions and mental illnesses. God and Satan won't change willingly.

Councils: I think the members of the councils should be from the Light Side. These councils will replace God and Satan.

Jehovah's Witness: The god of Jehovah's Witnesses is a real asshole. This god makes members fear Jehovah. Jehovah is a mean, cruel, and sadistic god.

Denial: God and Satan are still in the denial stage after three years of working with them. There was no substantial change in God and Satan over the past three years. They have both failed.

Dinosaurs: God killed all the dinosaurs. He was getting bored of them, so he sent an asteroid. He killed them all. This was kind of like him "painting over a canvas."

Shakras: Shakras exist. God designed them, and we have seven.

The Truman Show: We all need to fight back like Truman did in The Truman Show. God's goal is to keep us all in a box. He doesn't want us to travel, so travel. Make it hard for God to compartmentalize you. Cause God problems. God deserves problems.

Gaslighting Satan

History: History repeats itself every seventy to eighty years. For example, the Fall of Saigon in 1975 looks eerily similar to the Fall of Kabul in 2021.

Goodness: Assholes like God and Satan can't expect goodness when their moral character is trash.

Questions: God asks the wrong questions. God doesn't know how to seek wisdom from others and is actually very immature for his age. He thinks old people are wastes because they don't work, but they hold wisdom and history. God is really, really stupid in many ways.

Emotionally Undeveloped: There's a good chance both God and Satan don't think they're doing anything wrong when they torture others. This could be because both have more in common with a mindless robot than with a human; they're both emotionally undeveloped to the point that they don't think hurting others is wrong. They both don't think their actions are wrong. There's a very great chance that this is the scenario because no one would do what God and Satan have done because they know better. I think it's possible that God and Satan don't know any better.

Goal-Oriented: God and Satan are goal-oriented when they should be value-oriented. It's probably why they feel nothing good about life. I'm kind of happy God and Satan hate their lives. It's like their own punishment.

Aura: Auras exist, and they're a colored energy field, usually surrounding the head of a human being. Once "woke," you can see them. I've seen one, and it was blue. Remember, once you go there, you can never go back. The experience with the universe was like being reborn. It was distressing, but I was thankfully able to stay grounded in my reality.

Clandestine: Satan doesn't want to exist. Satan is clandestine and wants to remain in the shadows. He'll never hurt me because that's proof he exists. Also, if Satan hurts me, it just furthers my plan against him.

Martyrs: Martyrs live forever. If Satan hurts me or kills me, he martyrs me, and I'll live forever.

Ass Clown: God tries to be the "class clown," but hurting others and causing suffering is not comedic. God's antics just make him look like a cruel douchebag. God is a wannabe comic that hurts others.

Obsessive-Compulsive Disorder: Satan is clean OCD. Satan's appearance is the only way he can look good because the rest of him is garbage. God is the "stinky kid in class." God's hygiene isn't very good, and at times, his odor is repulsive. God's beard is all a mess and has bugs living in it. God is a total slob. He has pizza sauce stains on his robe.

Hotel: God's house is like a hotel. He gives out free room and board, booze, food, etc. to get people to stay around him. God tries to make it like a resort to attract people who he calls "friends." A lot of these people who come over to his house are there for the freebies—not for God.

Sleep: Satan doesn't sleep much. He often crashes and will maybe get a few hours in at the office. This gives him an advantage over God because he can work more. Satan doesn't really have a reason to go home. Satan doesn't really have any family. He's alone most of the time if he's not at work surrounded by employees, who aren't really his friends—they're employees. God sleeps but has really, really bad nightmares about his past.

Gaslighting Satan

Dreams: I'm haunted by dreams that I'm unable to walk in. They're painful dreams. I think God and Satan sent these dreams to threaten me.

Hellven: In this dream, I think I was in "Hellven"—a world that has characteristics of heaven and hell. It was like a dorm with activities. It wasn't that fun.

Done with Conversation: I'm done conversing with God, Satan, and demons. I'm no longer going to communicate with them. I'm not going to teach them, give them advice, or help them. I'm not their friend.

Information: God and Satan have provided me with all the information I need to make my conclusion that God and Satan are the real problems in the universe that need to be "fixed."

Not Impressive: God is not impressive. God is the opposite of impressive, and if you actually had associated with him, you'd develop a negative opinion.

Reality: Reality means that "reality" is just a stupid game created by stupid individuals. Life is really as stupid as God is.

Humans: Respect human life. Humans deserve rights. God and Satan don't respect life, nor do they respect themselves. If God and Satan respected themselves, they wouldn't act like the dumbasses they are.

God Deserves Death: God has been around too long and caused way too many problems and suffering. God deserves death. He isn't going to change. Also, it's very arrogant that he thinks he should live forever. I think God realizing he's not going to live forever would be beneficial for him because maybe he'll improve his behaviors and make amends for the atrocities he has caused for others.

Ketamine: I had a patient once who had a conversion disorder where they couldn't move their legs after they were given ketamine. Ketamine works very similarly to Elysium-19, and I think the patient was probably somehow hurt by their trip to the universe. The patient recovered.

Hemispherectomy: In residency, there was a pediatric patient who had half of their brain removed. A day later, the patient was able to move the feet opposite the hemispherectomy. Explain that to me. A simulation would make sense because the controlling motor cortex was removed the day prior.

Prices: Thirty points to whoever kills a demon that has harassed me. Fifty points to punch my guardian angel Clyde in the face for being shitty at his job. Twenty-five thousand dollars to whoever kills Satan.

Inflation: God and Satan print points and also counterfeit Earth currencies. This is illegal and causes inflation. This also steals from everyone because counterfeiting devalues the currency they're counterfeiting. God and Satan, thus, are stealing from everyone in existence.

Slavery Through Points: God and Satan use the points system in the universe to enslave everyone. God and Satan just print points. Everyone else has to earn them, but God and Satan just counterfeit the points when they want money. They got everyone hooked on the points system, and now it's basically slavery with extra steps involved. God complained that capitalism was bad, but now he runs a capitalist system in the universe. When God and Satan print points out of thin air, they basically steal from everyone who uses the points system because it devalues their own points. God mentioned that one point was worth one

US dollar. God's control of the point system needs to be eliminated. Everyone who uses points is basically a slave to God and Satan. It would be wise if someone in the universe established a cryptocurrency to replace points. God and Satan steal from everyone.

Cult: God's family is actually a cult. They're watched and kept restricted. Everything they do is documented. Also, they have sex with each other, which is incest. It's a cult, and it's gross.

Cattle: Everyone is kept inside God's universe like cattle are kept inside a fenced-in pen.

Business: God runs the universe like a business. God's not a religious being—he's a business-minded individual, and everything has a price. God has no standards, and money can buy anything. God always has a price.

Yacht: God and Satan both have yachts on Earth that no one is allowed to use except them. They bought the yachts with counterfeit money. God and Satan counterfeit world currencies digitally. Internet trolls could find God and Satan's yachts on Earth by looking for owners without birthdates. If you find the yachts, please sink them and make it look like it was done by them so they do not get insurance money.

Vacation: For the working class (slaves), vacation isn't a common luxury. Everyone is expected to work, and if they can't work, God and Satan deem the individual worthless. To God and Satan, life is all just a business.

Slaves: God and Satan work everyone in the universe like slaves. If a person can't work, God and Satan deem them worthless.

Abortion: God doesn't like abortion but doesn't give resources to parents to take care of children. I think one of the reasons that God doesn't like abortion is because when you have a kid, a soul is recycled into the child who would've been born. God has a bunch of souls that need to be recycled, so abortion messes with his quota. God doesn't really care about the child—he just wants to recycle the soul.

Federal Reserve: Satan is affiliated with the Federal Reserve. Satan sank the titanic to kill off opposers of the formation of the Federal Reserve. This is a common conspiracy theory, but I could totally see Satan sinking a ship to kill a bunch of innocent lives.

Bet: I bet God and Satan one thousand dollars they couldn't complete rehab. I bet they would drop out or violate the policies. Of course, they would have no privileges and would have to complete it as a "human."

Ghosts: Ghosts could just be God and Satan being assholes to humans. Also, demons could be being assholes, too.

Internet Trolls: I'm hoping some forensic accountants and realtors will search more into the details and track down God and Satan's real estate/landholdings and bank accounts. I really hope this happens—look for a bunch of shell companies within shell companies.

Turn Around: Satan doesn't give adequate time for some humans to turn their lives around. Satan doesn't deserve any more time for him to change his life around. Time is up for Satan.

Gaslighting Satan

Amends: Satan will never make amends or apologize for anything horrible that he's done—ever. God is just as bad, and I've only heard God apologize once, and that was for my brother being such a douchebag to me. God was sad I didn't have a good relationship with my douchebag brother.

Recovery: I'm glad for recovery relatively early on in life so I didn't make too many disastrous mistakes. God and Satan have made numerous horrible mistakes during their active addictions and are still making horrible mistakes due to their active addictions. God and Satan are going to have to make a lot of amends.

Honorable Discharge: For the record, I received an honorable discharge from the Navy.

Saul: Saul became Paul, and then Paul was imprisoned. God still treated Paul like shit.

Drug Trafficking: Satan loves drug trafficking. Drugs fuel crime. Crime hurts others. Drugs corrupt humans and bring them within the grasp of the Dark Side. All the while, Satan makes money.

Acceptance: I accept that I can't change God or Satan. They're definitely not changing at all.

Never Hurt Yourself: Never, ever hurt yourself. If you do, Satan wins.

Good Things: God and Satan should never expect good things to happen to them because they don't do good things.

Life: God creates life, so he can take life. Satan doesn't create life, so he shouldn't have the ability to take life. Satan does take life, so he's a murderer.

Karmic Circle: If you give to not receive, you will receive. Good begets good. Bad begets bad.

Vision: God and Satan have been affecting my vision. If I move my eyes quickly, I see a snowstorm. This just started happening, and I know it's Satan trying to harass me.

Not Adults: God and Satan don't conduct themselves as adults. They don't function at the adult level. This is pathetic. They act like frat boys. God and Satan don't conduct themselves like "good persons," and others don't look at God and Satan as "good persons."

Taken for Granted: God and Satan take humanity for granted. They forget how dependent they both are on humanity and others.

Platinum Rule: Treat others as they would want to be treated. God and Satan don't understand this concept and treat others how God and Satan think they should be treated. Because God and Satan have no respect for themselves, they treat others like shit.

Stupid Hurts: The majority of humans don't want dumb and stupid people to be around them. God and Satan act dumb and stupid. Humanity won't respect God and Satan as they are.

Unapproachable: God and Satan are unapproachable. Beings are scared of and fear God and Satan because they act like criminals. God and Satan destroy individuals who approach them, such as to make a complaint. God and Satan think hurting these complaining individuals is "funny."

Gaslighting Satan

Good: God and Satan don't understand "Feel good. Be good. Look good. Do good."

Assembly: Never trust God to put your Ikea furniture together. He'll put it together wrong, just like he put everything else together wrong.

Overpopulation: God and Satan have lost control of the human population and its population growth. God and Satan didn't have the foresight to predict that Earth would reach carrying capacity.

Trillions of Points: God has trillions of points and pays his workers basically nothing. Satan has trillions of points and pays demons nothing. Basically, God and Satan are slave masters, and everyone else is a slave. God made a fake system that wasn't based on anything, like the gold standard, but instead based it on thin air. There's no backing to the points system—it's all "funny money," and God and Satan just "print" points when they need money. God said that one point equals one US dollar. Dollars are actually worth more than points because they're based on the US economy. In a way, the value of a point is based on the US dollar and not the other way around. This interweaves the economics of the universe and the economics of Earth, so it's less likely for God and Satan to abandon, destroy, or shut down Earth.

Schizophrenia: Everyone has a little. Everyone has small breaks with reality every once in a while.

Break with Reality: When you believe things that aren't true, you're having a small break with reality. "They must've been talking bad about me." We believe things that aren't true, and it's usually fear that drives those thoughts.

Hollow Earth: Geologists don't know what's at the center of Earth. God told me that Earth is actually hollow and used as some sort of depository. When God told me he was going to tunnel up in front of the White House, Miss God said it would alter what humans think is beneath their feet and change geological theory.

Wisdom: The only wise thing God ever said to me was that I was an alcoholic and should never, ever drink again.

Autism: My brother is a neuroscientist at a prestigious university. I told him a story of an autistic man who was flown around New York City in a helicopter to look at the skyline. The autistic man then sketched out the entire city accurately from memory. My brother argued that the autistic man probably had more developed memory centers in his brain than other people. I argued that the memory was likely stored on a memory drive, such as in the simulation computer program. The detail was just too profound to have been from a brain's memory.

Judged for Things that Are out of Our Control: We're judged by God and Satan for many things that are out of our control. For example, we don't get to choose our parents, and our parents may psychologically mess us up and create a monster or raise us as an atheist. God and Satan blame the child, even though their lives/upbringing might have caused that child to develop horribly. For example: poor parenting, child molestation, and child abuse. Bad parents could raise a child to be a criminal. Say a parent doesn't parent the child, and the child turns into a monster. Is the monster to blame? Are the parents to blame? It's not solely the child's fault. God and Satan blame the child, which is unethical.

Judges: Human judges in the United States are elected. They have sound enough character, reputation, and credentials to be elected a judge. God and Satan were never elected. God and Satan don't have sound character, they have a poor reputation, and they don't have any credentials that would qualify them to be a judge. God and Satan are in no position to be judging others.

Faggy: One of the first things Satan said to me was that my voice sounded “faggy.” Satan is gay, and he used a derogatory statement to make fun of me. That was one of my first communications with Satan, and I had a negative one. Satan was an asshole. Satan is an asshole.

Anhedonia: If God and Satan ever quit drinking/taking drugs, they're going to experience a period of anhedonia, where they don't experience pleasure from things they normally would. This could lead to them being depressed, lethargic, and unmotivated. It could be the “Thousand Years of Peace” that I've heard will come. God and Satan would be so lowly motivated that they'd stop causing bullshit for humanity.

Loner: Satan takes pride in being a loner. It's a defense mechanism. Satan says he wants to be alone and enjoys being alone. The real truth is that Satan doesn't have any friends.

Dreams: My dreams aren't messed up too much anymore.

Fake Degrees: God tried to brag in a dream about all the degrees he has. In the dream, he showed me a wall where all his diplomas were. It was a wall full of fake degrees.

Scientific Journals: God told me he's published in many scientific journals throughout the universe. God doesn't publish in research journals on Earth, though. I believe it's because God doesn't have the expertise to publish in Earth journals, and I don't think he's up to the level of academic standards that they require.

Medicine: Medicine is just fixing God's mistakes/problems with the human design. Also, medicine is combatting Satan's destruction via him inflicting diseases on humans. The real way to health for humanity is to stop God and Satan from making humans unhealthy/disease-ridden.

Psychology: Earth provides the best therapy services in the universe because humans were designed to be very emotional. God also told me Earth has the best therapy services. This emotional overload has backfired throughout history—racism, nationalism, etc.—but when it comes to therapy, it's an advantage. Therapists have dissected this emotion and studied it to get to where we are.

Reinvention: God created life, then possibly out of boredom, he created different versions of the same life. Example: In plants, there are monocotyledons and dicotyledons, CAM plants, C3 plants, and C4 plants. All are plants, but they're different.

Yoda: “Do or do not. There is no try.” God doesn't even try.

Overwhelmed: God and Satan are always playing catch-up. God and Satan are never on time. They're both overwhelmed. We need God's Creator to step in. Humans can't afford to have God and Satan spinning in circles not fixing anything. Life is dynamic and always changing. Usually, God and Satan can't keep up or adapt. God and Satan aren't used to dynamic situations. God and Satan tend to plan things into the future, but a lot of life isn't planned—it's adapting to the present. God and Satan don't function well in the present. This causes much of God and Satan's plans to be scrapped because they're already obsolete upon initiation.

Gaslighting Satan

Fucked Up: Basically, everything is fucked up. The universe is a mess. It's probably good to be a human on Earth because we seem to be sheltered a bit. Being a human on Earth, I feel, puts some distance between us and God and Satan.

Where Do God and Satan Start: The answer—getting sober. Getting sober first is the only way the Earth/universe will be improved. God and Satan are mean drunks/addicts. Substance abuse brings out the worst of God's and Satan's personalities. The only way to elicit any good is for them to be completely sober from all substances and abstain from their other behavioral addictions (i.e., raping children). When God and Satan finally sober up, be it voluntarily or forced, they're going to feel like they've jumped on a fast-moving treadmill. They're going to have to start running and put in the effort. God and Satan are going to have a very difficult transition to sober life. All of God's and Satan's feelings/memories are going to come back and cause emotional turmoil. God and Satan are afraid of this pain, so they don't want to get sober, which isn't an option. God and Satan both need rehab.

Desire: I don't think God and Satan have any desire to quit drinking and doing drugs. God and Satan have so little insight that they don't think they have a problem. They also don't think they're causing the problems.

Missed Work: God and Satan often miss work due to hangovers, waking up drunk, or waking up stoned. They also have lost days due to depressive episodes.

Ecstasy: Satan is addicted to ecstasy, and when he comes down, he often has suicidal ideation and wants to kill himself.

Suspension: God and Satan shouldn't be overseeing anything in the universe until they're sober for a good, long time. I think a lifetime "no substance abuse" contract would be ideal. If God and Satan want to do their jobs, they must be sober. If they can't stay sober, then they should lose their jobs. They must be sober from all substances. They'll be tested regularly and daily. If they can't adhere to being sober or can't do it, they need to resign and give control over to the councils. I did it. I got sober. If I can get sober, God and Satan should be able to get sober; otherwise, it's pathetic that a human can get sober and a god can't.

Easy Way: God and Satan probably want to take the easy way and go to Passages Malibu, where they can be pampered. No. God and Satan need to go through a real rehab where real people are treated. There's no easy way out: rehab or death. "You don't have to be dead to feel like you are dead."

Drugs: The lesson God is teaching the universe is that "drugs are okay." God knows if you do drugs, but it's okay because God is on drugs, too. Same thing for Satan.

Role Model: God wants to be looked at as if he's a role model, but his persona is all fake. God is lying to the masses because, in all actuality, he's not a role model. God is an example of what one shouldn't be. God is an example of what you shouldn't do.

Baseball: There was only one person in history with a 1.00 batting average: Jesus Christ. Also, Jesus Christ always strikes out the batter when he pitches.

Fucking Up: God and Satan could save face by telling humanity and the universe that they were/are purposely fucking up to show others what not to do.

Gaslighting Satan

Secrets: Try to live without secrets. If you don't have secrets, it's really hard to be blackmailed.

Health Problems: Most people have more problems than they would like to admit to (gingival recession, anxiety, substance abuse, etc.).

Question: What problems/secrets are God and Satan not admitting to? What are God and Satan not open about? I bet the answers to those questions would cause public outrage.

Personas: God and Satan both have personas they uphold. They have the persona they present while in the public eye, and then they have their persona they present outside the public eye. I don't think God and Satan really know what their true personalities are. God and Satan are both fake little cartoon boys.

Progress: I feel like I'm making progress with God and Satan, but I feel like they will both have to be pushed to the edge of a cliff before they admit that they need help.

Sober Up: In a vision, Miss God showed me a bar they have in the universe. You can drink and get drunk, but then you can instantly make yourself sober up back to normal.

Sex: Miss God came on to me and said she wanted to have sex with me. She said she knew I liked black women, so she said she was going to use her "mocha" personality/body. For the record, I never had sex with Miss God.

Bad Examples: God and Satan both refuse to accept criticism, deflect criticism, aren't objective, and resist help. A diseased mind isn't rational. I kind of expected God and Satan to act that way because the positions they hold probably require them to act that way a lot, and both God and Satan are their "jobs."

Handcuffs: Another option is to handcuff God and Satan together. This would be a punishment. Satan would probably try to make out with God, though. Handcuffed together, they go together—whether it's upward or downward. They really should be charged and tried together.

Understanding: My own understanding is that this has all been a blessing and a curse. Once I learned all of this, I could never "unlearn" or "unexperience" it.

God's Ride: God said he made a ride (sold tickets) that allowed others to experience the mind warps I had to go through to understand all of this. God said all his other business ventures had failed and that the ride was his last ditch. God was upset because he had to clean and sanitize the ride in between riders because it was a menial task.

Boredom: Boredom is the enemy of God and Satan. If God and Satan are bored, they create drama. There are so many things they could do instead: go for a walk, watch TV, paint a picture, etc. It's like God and Satan are two young boys with nothing to do, so they go and destroy something for entertainment.

Self-Control: God and Satan lack self-control.

Shared Problems: There are many shared problems between God and Satan. They could probably learn a lot from each other.

Gaslighting Satan

Plan Echo: Send both God and Satan to rehab together with a behavioral contract presigned to ensure compliance and good behavior. God and Satan would have to be in human form and wouldn't be able to use powers or have privileges. They'd be just like any other human in the rehab facility.

Zord: There's no good way to control a human. We can't really be controlled like a "Zord" from Power Rangers. The gods/demons will try to manipulate your movements, but if you have a strong mind, you can resist. Gods/demons can cause muscle twitches, but they have no gross motor control. Gods/demons can cause sensations, though.

Stop Failing: It's time for God and Satan to stop failing. They both need to raise their standards.

Apathetic: God and Satan are apathetic toward humanity a lot of the time, which is horrible because there's so much suffering on Earth. God and Satan need to start helping and caring for humanity. They both have to if they ever want to find peace.

Stages of Development: As stated before, there are many worlds (like two hundred), and each of them is going through different stages of development. Some stages are more interesting to God and Satan than others. I don't know if Satan has access to the worlds on the Light Side. Satan would probably like it, though. Satan said the World War II period was "awesome." Satan probably had fun during the Roman Empire and the Crusades, watching people fight and die. I think God really enjoyed the Industrial Revolution because he was involved with the development of the telegraph and telephone. God also was a computer coder—one of the earliest ones—and still is a computer programmer on Earth.

Success Rate: One hundred percent success isn't acceptable. You'll burn out. I'm trying to get God to accept an 80 to 90 percent success rate. Twenty percent failure isn't that bad. I'm trying to get God to accept less than a 100 percent success rate because God won't implement a plan if there's even a chance of failure, so he never implements any plans! He just doesn't do anything if there's a chance of failure. Failure is part of life, and God needs to start doing his job. He needs to accept that failure is going to be part of the process. God isn't Jesus Christ: God doesn't have to be perfect.

The Bottom: The bottom of the universe (the beings, like human beings) is put together better than the top of the universe (God). Humans relatively have their shit together compared to God and gods. God and gods are plagued by problems. Humans are also plagued by problems, but at least we're working on the big ones.

Intermarrying: God told me that gods intermarry with humans. I don't know if the human who gets married to a god knows this. It might be a secret kept from the human spouse. God's brother-in-law is a human. I don't know if they have demi-god offspring. The offspring might be predetermined by God. This intermarrying of gods with humans creates a bond between the gods and humanity. My guess is that these bonds lead to the gods being less likely to cause problems/hurt Earth/hurt humanity/hurt humans. I think it also socializes the gods as they learn about human culture.

Human Body: When God created humans, it was as if he knew he was going to try to screw them over, so he made it difficult to do so because he knew it would create guilt and shame. God admitted there's no easy way to kill a human. The human body tolerates many mistakes. God made it so that he can't control motor functions of humans. He gave humans tremendous emotional capacity so they could deal with hardships. He made humans omnivorous so they could eat "a bunch of things," as God said. This helps them be resilient through food shortages. Humans were designed to be social creatures and function in groups, so they have herd strength. God made human beings have good communication skills, so that's beneficial. God made humans with intellect and intelligence, which helps with survival. God really created a resilient creature to torture.

Scot-free: God and Satan won't get away scot-free. God and Satan shouldn't get away scot-free. If God and Satan did, it'd teach bad lessons to the universe/Earth and would make God and Satan look like awful examples of leaders. They wouldn't ever be considered role models. God and Satan need to make amends and fix the problems they've caused, which would be the right thing for them to do. God and Satan would also benefit psychologically because making amends would help with the guilt and shame they carry. They'd be paying for their trespasses. I believe God and Satan doing hard work to fix everything would be a suitable punishment for them. They would learn through hard work to never act like ass clowns ever again. They could possibly be forgiven by the individuals they've hurt.

Work Release: I can see prison in God's and Satan's futures. I think they should have a work release program while they're serving out their sentences. They'd be released daily to perform the work needed to unfuck the universe and Earth. This labor might make God and Satan change for the better. God and Satan have made a lot of mistakes, to say the least, and they're the ones who should fix those mistakes because they caused them. They hurt a lot of individuals and need to make amends.

State of Mind: God and Satan should understand that them making amends through fixing their mistakes is therapy. It shouldn't be looked at as punishment. God and Satan should be glad that they're offered the ability to do work release and fix the mistakes they've made and make amends to individuals they've harmed. Otherwise, they're going to be tortured, possibly executed, and will leave a horrible legacy. God and Satan should look at work release as rehabilitation. Most sociopaths don't get this opportunity, so God and Satan should show gratitude that they're allowed work release.

Goal to Values: God needs to switch from being goal-oriented to values-oriented. God's plan to just create is a hollow plan that'll end in him not being fulfilled. Once his goals are obtained, there's almost a letdown because the goal has been reached. God keeps this pattern of going from goal to goal with no end in sight. If God became values-oriented, it would fix this never-ending problem. God doesn't need to create another world. He instead needs to better the worlds that already exist. God needs to focus on helping the universe. Goal after goal for the rest of time isn't sustainable. Infinite worlds aren't the answer. God working to be a good leader is a good value-driven focus that's healthy and sustainable. God needs to take care of what he already has. A switch to being values-oriented comes with maturity, so God also needs to mature.

Failure: God needs to accept failure. God should shoot for at least an 80 percent success rate. He should accept that 20 percent of the time he'll fail. In this way, God will be more likely to implement plans to help humanity and the universe. God will learn from his failures and his successes. Perfection isn't the goal. Progress, not perfection. God always seeking a fail-proof plan just leads to him never implementing any plan and just sitting there doing absolutely nothing.

Dialectical Behavior Therapy: DBT would benefit God. He always thinks he's a huge failure or a huge success. God forgets there are shades of gray in between. God fails to see that he likely isn't a huge failure or a huge success but is somewhere in between.

Plan Echo: In this plan, God and Satan are both sent to rehab. If they fail, they're both possibly going to be executed. Torture, imprisonment, and execution aren't out of the question. Also, a possible "digital lobotomy" for the two of them is in the works.

Gaslighting Satan

Customer Service: Part of God and Satan’s rehabilitation will be them applying for and obtaining a job in customer service. They have to hold this job for at least one Earth year. I feel this will teach God and Satan how to address others’ concerns and how to help people. For example, they could work at Walmart customer service. God and Satan will learn effective communication skills that they’re frankly lacking. Having them show up to work will show them how to keep a job and do it well. This job will provide structure. They’ll learn how to function professionally and how to respect others. The money they earn will go to the victims of sex trafficking who God and Satan have personally hurt. This will be done during work release from prison, and during this entire time, God and Satan will live at the prison facility.

Monitoring: God and Satan are required to be monitored via tether. They’re not allowed to drink alcohol or use drugs, and there’s a zero-tolerance policy for use. They can be tested for drugs or breathalyzed at any time. When returning from work release, they’re to be drug tested and breathalyzed.

Reality TV Show: An option to help show the universe that God and Satan have changed is to make the entire experience into a reality television show. The show will be about God and Satan’s journey toward becoming good and productive members of society.

Powers: During rehabilitation, all powers of God and Satan will be removed and restricted. They’ll function as humans. They’ll have no ability to “see into the future.” This will force them to face uncertainty like every human does. Their finances will be limited to a meager amount. They won’t be multi-minded, only single-minded. They won’t have access to any other worlds and won’t be able to communicate with other worlds. God and Satan will be able to journal, exercise, and do arts and crafts. There will be no conjugal visits. God and Satan will be in separate cells and will have a human cellmate who they’ll have to learn to tolerate and work with politely.

Design of the Facility: The facility that God and Satan will be housed in during rehabilitation will be a lockdown unit. They’re not to leave unless they’re on work release. They’ll have access to therapists, counselors, and psychiatrists. There will be daily group therapy with other humans, with God and Satan joining them in group. God and Satan are required to attend five Alcoholics Anonymous meetings a week via Zoom, and they’ll be monitored by a chaperone. God and Satan are expected to get a sponsor and work the steps.

Commit: God and Satan should commit themselves so they can’t back out. They’ll sign documents that’ll prevent them from leaving. This will show the universe that they’re serious about changing for the better. Cigarettes are allowed. No phone access at first, but possible with good behavior. Minimum sixty-day stint because any less isn’t a statement to the universe that they’re changing. If they fail, they may be tortured, go to prison, or be executed. If God and Satan stick to the plan, they may be able to avoid capital punishment—especially if evidence comes out against them while they’re in rehab. The total stint, rehab plus prison, is one Earth year.

Failure: If God or Satan exhibit the following, they’ll fail rehab: positive drug test, possession of contraband, using powers, fighting, bullying, harassment, communicating outside without authorization, multi-mind trips, using a surrogate to attend work or meetings, and sex (sex with animals, humans, each other, etc.). This list is not comprehensive.

Goal: Force God and Satan to go to rehab or die. The focus of treatment will be on substance abuse and behavioral therapy—knock out two birds with one stone. During the time God and Satan are in rehab, a council will take over for them. God and Satan will be made wards of the state and won’t have any legal rights. Jesus Christ will oversee the two councils.

Gaslighting Satan

Rinse and Repeat: The program is comprised of sixty days of rehab with one year in prison on work release. Unknown to God and Satan, they're expected to fail rehab/prison/work release/monitoring. In the fine print of the contract, it'll state that if they fail, they have to go back through the entire program. If they violate anything, they go back through the program, starting with rehab again. It's going to take multiple times through rehab due to the severity and longevity of God's and Satan's mental pathology.

Relapse: The program should accept that relapse is part of the process, but if God and Satan relapse, they both have to start completely over again. Again, both will have to start over. This makes God accountable for Satan and Satan accountable for God.

Banned: God and Satan are banned from pedophilia for life. They're to be placed on the universe's sex offender list, and their sex offender status will be announced via the United Nations to humanity. This announcement will be made public. God and Satan are banned from rape/nonconsensual acts for life. The council will take over children's prayers to God because God is banned from communicating with children for life.

Letter of Concern: A serious letter of concern is to be placed in God's and Satan's permanent human resources files. If they complete rehab successfully, they'll receive certificates of completion.

Changes: Administration can modify/change restrictions as needed. We expect God and Satan to act shady and try to find loopholes. This is why they're both made wards of the state.

Focus: The focus is to be on sobriety, substance abuse rehabilitation, and therapy for psychological and behavioral problems.

God Group: The God Group, comprised of members of the group of God, is to be removed from power. The God Group is all the members of the group who affiliate with God. It's made up of God's family. There are rampant problems with the God Group.

Overview of the Plans: Plan Delta was Satan's death. Plan Echo is that both God and Satan go to rehab, with possible execution if they fail. If God is a friend of Satan, God would rather have Plan Echo (rehab) than Plan Delta (Satan's death). The option for God to choose forces him to decide to kill Satan or rehabilitate him. Ultimately, God can order Satan into rehab, but I feel they must go together. God needs rehab just as much as Satan needs it.

Group Therapy: In rehab, both God and Satan will be in the groups so they have someone to relate their "god" problems too. Most of God's and Satan's problems are relatable to the humans who will also be in rehab—drugs, sex, murder, rape, abuse, financial problems, police trouble, stress, family problems, psychological problems, failures, etc.

The Stages of Rehab: God and Satan are first going to go through detox. This may take more than a week—possibly months. This will just add time to the sixty days of rehab, if needed. God and Satan have been so extremely messed up on drugs and booze they could both set a record for the longest detox period in the history of the universe. God and Satan are expected to tone their drug and alcohol use down before they get to rehab, if possible. After detox, they'll go to inpatient (lock and key) rehab with therapy. While they're serving their prison sentence, they'll be in aftercare/work release and monitored to ensure they aren't using again. God and Satan are required to see a therapist weekly for life and remain under the care of a psychiatrist. The last stage is reintegration. In reintegration, God and Satan will work with their respective councils. God and Satan will both be banned for life from committing evil acts against others.

Gaslighting Satan

At this point, God and Satan will be offered the opportunity to retire if they think they can't handle it. If they retire, the councils will take over permanently for God and Satan.

Goal: There's a great chance that God and Satan will enjoy the break from being in leadership and won't want to go back. If this occurs, it's a great success because it removes both God and Satan from positions of power.

Councils: The councils will be made of members from both the Light Side and the Dark Side. The councils, in themselves, would form a diplomatic entity between the two sides and encourage further collaboration between them.

Duration: Sixty days of rehab, which may be extended if detox runs long, and one year of prison/aftercare/work release/monitoring. God and Satan are required to be sober for life if they remain in their designated leadership positions. Both God and Satan are banned for life from committing evil acts. God and Satan have to complete the entire program if they want to be eligible for a full, unconditional pardon.

Incentive: God and Satan are protected from prosecution while in the program, which also includes aftercare in perpetuity. If God or Satan relapse, they fail the program and aren't protected. If God or Satan are kicked out of the program for noncompliance, they're not protected. If God or Satan violate the rules, they're also not protected.

Public Opinion: Should God and/or Satan be tortured, imprisoned, rehabilitated, and/or executed? I think the public in the universe should be asked what they think should happen to God and/or Satan.

Lack of Foresight: COVID created a bunch of alcoholics. Alcohol sales increased by 37 percent. God and Satan didn't think through releasing the virus. I'm just saying this because, even though God and Satan are huge alcoholics and drug abusers, they punish humans for having substance abuse problems. Maybe God and Satan knew that alcoholism would increase, and thus the increase would make God and Satan look like their problems weren't that bad.

Hitler: Satan said he played the character Adolph Hitler in World War II. Hitler wanted to be an artist. Screw the art school that didn't let him in. The world would be a lot different if they had let Hitler into that school. Satan also wants to be an artist. Interesting.

Maturation: God and Satan haven't matured in thousands of years because they've been in active addiction, and thus, they haven't really emotionally matured. They're both going to have to play catch-up someday if they ever get sober. It's going to be painful.

Flood: I'm remembering this now, but when I was first accessing the universe, I was put in front of a panel of judges. God asked me about the Great Flood where he killed everyone on Earth. God said he was getting shit for it to this day. At that time, I was on God's side. The panel of judges was trying to convict God of the crime against humanity. I defended God by saying there's no comparison for the case, such that there has never been a case like it since in history. I kind of used the logic that God causing the Great Flood wasn't God's fault because it's in no way comparable to any other act that has ever occurred on Earth. Somehow, it worked and appeased the judges. They let God off. I think I would have handled that differently nowadays because I'm not a big fan of God anymore and I think he's cruel. God sent the Great Flood. God is responsible for the Great Flood and should be charged, tried, convicted, and sentenced to punishment for it—possibly executed. My logic was flawed and didn't make any sense. God is still responsible for the Great Flood and killing everyone on Earth. I sure hope he's guilt-ridden and ashamed of it. I hope everyone in the universe knows what he did.

Chill: God and Satan are never chill unless they're on substances. They spend a lot of time anxious and in a fight-or-flight kind of physical/emotional state if they're not on drugs. Satan has complained about his horrible anxiety.

Doesn't Give a Shit: God doesn't really give a shit about humans, even though they're his work. Because God doesn't respect his own work, he doesn't really respect anything he does. God is like an artist who isn't proud of their artwork. God has no sense of pride in his own works, but he wants to be respected for them. This lack of pride has God kind of stuck in a rut. One has to have at least a little pride for one's work, or it all goes to shit.

Doesn't Like Humans: God bluntly told me multiple times if he liked a certain human or not. God specifically doesn't like some humans who he created. I'd think God would be above that type of categorization or just think neutral to positive but not negatively about certain humans. I expected God to be a bigger person about that issue and act more mature.

Surrounded by Fear: God is fearful of things in his own universe that he created. God is also fearful of things outside of the universe that he did not create. God doesn't really have a "safe space" to go to. God has fear coming at him from dual sources. Satan is within the universe that God created, so Satan only has one source of fear. Both God and Satan have countless enemies.

Intelligence: Intelligence doesn't make you intelligent; the smarter you are, the dumber you are at some things. "Common sense isn't common." God is a supercomputer and can compute very fast and very accurately. I wouldn't call God intelligent because of all the mistakes he's made and his poor logical thinking. God thinks he's the smartest in the universe. I know there are gaps in God's intelligence that are actually weaknesses that can be exploited.

Alcoholics Anonymous: When God and Satan go to AA, I'm looking forward to them working through the twelve steps. I hope God and Satan declare Jesus Christ or God's Creator their higher power. It will be interesting to see what's on God's and Satan's lists of people they have to make amends to when they work through the eighth step. I'm also looking forward to God and Satan working on the tenth step because they have to admit when they've been wrong.

Detention: If God and Satan had gone to school, they would've been constantly in the principal's office and serving detention. God and Satan would've probably skipped school to smoke weed, and they definitely would've had the truancy officer after their asses.

Miss God: I haven't heard from Miss God in a while. Maybe she's scared. A bitch like her has to have lots of enemies.

No Borders: God and Satan don't respect the borders of countries. Most of God and Satan's illegal businesses cross borders, like sex, drug, and weapons trafficking. God and Satan have no respect for the rule of law, so pretty much they do whatever they want. Money and wealth are their main motivators.

Human Rights: God and Satan don't respect human rights because they believe humans have no rights. As a result, God and Satan do heinous acts to humans and can justify those heinous acts because they don't think they're doing anything wrong.

Gaslighting Satan

Recycled: All life is recycled. Well, most of it is. If you have a soul, your soul will likely be recycled. Some souls are bought and sold. A soul is worth more the more grizzled and torn it is. God destroys some souls or takes them out of circulation for various reasons.

Take a Step Back: I feel like God and Satan don't often take a step back and look at the big picture. If God and Satan did, I feel like they'd stop a lot of the bullshit they pull. I think God and Satan like to stick their heads in the sand and maintain a parochial viewpoint to compartmentalize their thinking.

Assumptions: Both God and Satan make assumptions. Demons make assumptions. "If you assume, you make an ass out of 'u' and 'me.'" God, Satan, and the demons are all wrong. The problem is that they make decisions based on incorrect assumptions. Assumptions can be efficient but not necessarily effective, especially if they're wrong. If a person makes an incorrect assumption, it's their fault. This is poor decision-making, and God and Satan often make mistakes this way by making wrong assumptions. God and Satan are too lazy to figure out the entire story for themselves. God and Satan take shortcuts, and as a result, human lives are often damaged.

Weakest Link: God and Satan's underlings are usually uneducated and not very intelligent. The information they get from the underlings is used by God and Satan to make decisions, and the information is usually wrong. Thus, God and Satan often make wrong decisions. These wrong decisions are God and Satan's fault. They don't run a high-reliability operation, even though they're making serious life-altering decisions.

Green Eyes: God told me that all of the God Group have green eyes. This makes sense because they all come from incest with each other due to inbreeding. "Keeping it in the family." I don't know if the "green eyes" apply to their human bodies on Earth. The God Group might just have green eyes in the universe outside Earth.

Heartache: God plans for every human to have at least one severe heartache in their life. God will even manipulate a human's life to orchestrate the heartache. This heartache will rip your soul out. You'll learn from it. I already had mine.

Sex: A part of your soul is given to your partner when you have sex, so you also receive part of your partner's soul. The amount depends on the emotional connection. It's supposed to be reciprocal, but if you have great emotion for your partner, you'll give more of your soul. I was dating this horrible woman Kelly and had more emotion for her than she did for me. I gave more of my soul to her. I'm glad we broke up; she was emotionally closed off.

Brother: Satan is like God's fucked up little brother. God has sympathy for Satan but is afraid to leave Satan alone. God feels partially bad for Satan because he really kind of pushed Satan into his problems. Also, Satan makes God look less bad. In a way, God and Satan are both dependent upon each other. If God left Satan, Satan would get his ass kicked. God provides protection for Satan, in a way, like an older brother does to a younger sibling.

Satan's Soul: Satan's soul has to be worth a lot because it's so fucked up. Satan's soul, when traded on the soul market, may be the only thing about Satan that is actually worth anything, and that's because it's so messed up. Remember from Blackmailing God that souls are traded, bought, and sold.

Crack: Satan smokes a lot of crack cocaine, but he will use whatever he has access to.

Gaslighting Satan

Drug Dealer: Satan considers his drug dealer a friend and invites him to use alongside him. He considers this relationship a close friendship.

Freedom: In a way, Satan is not “free.” Satan is restrained by the fetters of substance abuse and by the control of God. Satan acts out a lot because he thinks it makes him look independent to others.

Secrets: Never trust God or Satan with a secret because the secret won’t stay a secret. There’s no trust in God or Satan. Prayers basically give God and Satan material that they’ll use to make fun of you or for them to gossip about. To God and Satan, it’s all a big joke.

PAWS: Post-acute withdrawal syndrome. God and Satan are afraid of quitting drugs and booze because they think they’ll have anxiety and depression. God and Satan’s party train has been running full speed for hundreds of years. It’s going to take years to slow it down and stop it. It’s going to take God and Satan multiple trips to rehab. They’re going to have many relapses. Prison may be the best, in combination with therapy, for God and Satan.

Control: God and Satan think they’re in total control, yet drugs and booze are controlling them. So, who’s really in control? Addiction.

Alcoholic: It takes an alcoholic to know an alcoholic, and it takes an addict to know an addict. I’m an alcoholic, and I’ve used drugs. I can relate to God and Satan’s addictions.

Rock Bottom: God and Satan don’t have the right to run their lives into the ground before they get help. There are innocent lives that God and Satan’s behaviors affect. This makes the good argument that if God and Satan don’t go to rehab, they should both resign and let the councils take over. Then, when God and Satan are just hurting themselves, their family, and their friends, they continue to destroy their lives until they reach rock bottom.

All or Nothing: God and Satan have two speeds—all or nothing. Their thinking is usually all or nothing. Very binary, like on and off.

Waiting: God and Satan won’t ever wait for anyone. They use their inability to wait for others as a way to leave others always playing catch-up. This is a form of control for God and Satan. They always think they’re the best person on the team, but they really don’t have a team mentality.

Secret Plans: God and Satan love to have secret plans. This secrecy is a form of control.

God’s Time: God is usually lazy and doesn’t do anything but still demands that people function on his time. God won’t wait for anyone.

Vision: God wouldn’t fix my vision; he couldn’t even fix a human’s eyesight. This is a perfect example of God not being altruistic. God is selfish.

Coder: There’s a possibility that God just stole the ideas for worlds from someone else. Maybe he bought them. Maybe he stole them. I think God might not even know how to code, which explains why he can’t fix anything.

Killed: I don’t know if demons can be killed, but I definitely know they can be tortured.

Gaslighting Satan

Interesting: It's going to be interesting to see how this all plays out. Time is the limiting factor, and God and Satan are going to have limited time to "decide their own endings" before others come after them.

Light Side: Hopefully, the Light Side is being kept up-to-date on everything that's happened. God and Satan have difficulty controlling the spread of information in the universe, so I'm pretty sure this situation is public. God and Satan might end up fighting a battle on two fronts, or possibly three or more. Again, they choose their own endings. The status quo isn't sustainable.

Trust: Beings have to be able to trust their leadership, but no one can trust God or Satan.

Truth: Beings deserve to be told the truth, but God and Satan spread lies.

Bill of Rights for Humans: A bill of rights for humans needs to be established. Hopefully, by giving rights to humans, other beings/races throughout the universe will gain rights as well. It's about time for change.

Accountability: God and Satan should be held accountable for past and present atrocities. God and Satan's plans for future atrocities need to be discovered and stopped.

Radical Acceptance: God and Satan have to radically accept that changes are going to be coming soon. God and Satan have the choice to get help, or the universe is going to take steps to better the future. If the universe has to step in, there's a good possibility that God and Satan won't be included in future plans because they'll likely be eliminated.

Peace: To my understanding, there are worlds that God and Satan run where "peace" is a foreign concept. God and Satan have many horrible torture worlds in existence. The situation, when it comes to light, is going to devastate the public. God and Satan use lies, cover-ups, secrecy, and restrictions on travel to keep these torture worlds under wraps and unknown to the public. This reeks of atrocities. These torture worlds need to be the first to be liberated, very similar to the liberation of Nazi concentration camps. Many of these torture worlds have restricted arrivals and departures and may be completely off-limits. The overall situation may be much worse than presumed. When the information comes out, God and Satan are to be held accountable. Earth is just the "tip of the iceberg." The problem is much more severe, and God and Satan won't be able to recover after the information is made public. God and Satan know this. They worked together on these torture worlds and will go down together.

A Goal: God and Satan should be ethical and professional. This is a bare-basic demand placed on God and Satan. I seriously don't think they can act ethically and professionally.

Ending: I don't know how the ending is going to play out. The ending isn't really up to me but up to God and Satan.

Three Years: This entire process has taken three years. I've accumulated enough information to end my critical evaluation of God and Satan.

Forgiveness: God and Satan will only ask for forgiveness as they're going to the electric chair.

Sobriety Date: My sobriety date is July 23, 2021.

Gaslighting Satan

Demons: Demon jobs aren't that fulfilling and tend to cause a lot of personal strife with the demon, which then makes them act like bigger assholes. Demons don't get paid, if I'm not mistaken. Demons are basically slaves and have never lived a life, so they have no life skills.

Demon Rehab: Demons should take FMLA (Family and Medical Leave Act) and go to rehab and therapy. Oops, I forgot; Satan doesn't provide benefits like FMLA to demons. They're neglected slaves.

Suicide: If a person commits suicide, it's possible their soul can get lost somehow. I'm not certain of the details, but the soul doesn't get bought/sold/traded or recycled.

Snake Voice: Satan is such an immature dumbass and uses a snake voice to communicate. Satan is an immature dumbass.

Denial: God and Satan are in denial that they're the cause of most problems. God and Satan are also in denial that they're alcoholics and addicts.

Ghosts: God told me he doesn't know where ghosts come from. I think they may be outside the simulation.

Bets: If you make a bet with God, Satan, or a demon, make the bet so that you can't lose. They love to take bets and can hardly turn down a bad one. In the song "The Devil Went Down to Georgia," the Devil cheated, so you have to often watch out because God, Satan, and demons cheat, which ultimately makes them lose the bet. They're so stupid.

Slaves: God and Satan have 99 percent of all the points. They have trillions of points, and everyone else is pretty much just a slave.

Supply: Satan supplies booze and drugs for others. Satan likes doing this for others because he thinks it makes him popular and liked. The real fact is that everyone who associates with him is there for the drugs and booze; they wouldn't be hanging with Satan if they weren't getting high.

Conflict: God and Satan start conflicts in the universe to take attention away from the heinous acts they carry out. God and Satan create suffering to distract from the other suffering they've caused. One of the famous conflicts is the "Light Side versus Dark Side" conflict. God and Satan try to start discord, but they're the ones trying to shake things up and cause conflict.

Honor: God and Satan propose that it's honorable to hurt others. Those who hurt others are told by God and Satan that they're doing the right/just thing. Ultimately, hurting others hurts oneself.

Cruelty: Cruelty to others is a fatal, progressive illness unless stopped. Cruelty destroys others and the perpetrator. Cruelty will never lead to peace and happiness.

Meaning of Life: Find peace, love, and happiness. Help others.

Debate: I've challenged God and Satan to open-forum debate; they've declined. They both know I would beat them.

Fight: I've challenged God and Satan to a physical fight; they've both declined.

Gaslighting Satan

Tests of Logic: I've challenged both God and Satan to tests of logic and have beaten them both multiple times, showing that a human can beat God and Satan.

Discipline: God and Satan shouldn't discipline anyone except for themselves. They've shown they have no right to discipline others due to their outrageous behaviors and lack of emotional control. Also, God and Satan are both really shitty parents.

Forever: Forever is a long time, but God and Satan need to be sober forever. God and Satan's pattern of using shows that they're powerless over drugs and alcohol. Using substances should be put behind God and Satan.

Drug of Choice: My drug of choice (DOC) is alcohol. God and Satan are polysubstance abusers, which is more difficult to control because they'll abuse any substance under the sun—they both have pretty easy access, too, because they'll do anything.

No Sober Support: Most of God's and Satan's contacts are drug addicts and alcoholics themselves. God told me that most gods are substance abusers that show up drunk/high to work every morning.

Selfish: Addicts are selfish. Addiction has caused God and Satan to be more selfish than usual, which is countering the need for both God and Satan to be altruistic. Satan is never going to be altruistic; he needs to be eliminated. God may be able to become altruistic.

Relationships: Both God and Satan have damaged countless relationships due to their substance abuse problems.

The Reality: God and Satan are never 100 percent focused on anything. Even while God and Satan are socializing or working, they're still thinking about using substances. Addiction dominates God and Satan's minds, so they're rarely present in the moment. This way, God and Satan are never omnipresent; they're off thinking about booze and drugs. This negatively affects their job performance.

Creator: God is a creator, not a writer. God can create things like The Simpsons, but he doesn't actually write anything. I really believe God just steals designs and ideas from others. I don't think God is that creative, and he's a shitty leader.

Loner: God isn't comfortable being close to anyone. His demand for respect gets in the way of him connecting with others. I think this stand-offish behavior is a defense mechanism because God uses his position of "authority" to separate himself from others. I don't know why, but God is afraid of opening up to others. Being open might make God feel vulnerable or feel that opening up detracts from his "power." God does a lot of heinous acts, and maybe he's afraid of having to hurt someone he knows when the time comes. This is like a form of self-isolation.

Immature: Writing this book and Blackmailing God might be a bit immature on my part, but please remember that humanity has to know, and God and Satan have hurt me incredibly. Others need to know how horrible God and Satan are because they affect everyone.

Kleptomania: God is a kleptomaniac. He stole one of my pens once because he wanted it and then later admitted to stealing it. God doesn't think stealing is very serious because he thinks he owns everything. God's stealing hurts others.

Gaslighting Satan

Standard: Everyone thinks that gods are possessive and jealous. The real truth is that gods don't have to be possessive and jealous. God set the standards extremely low and defined the bad characteristics of gods. Gods can be altruistic and beneficial—God just needs to redefine the standards. In other words, if God wasn't such a mess/screwup, gods wouldn't be such messes/screwups. Follow the leader, and if the leader is good, the followers will be good, too. God needs to better the standards that the gods follow.

Standards: God and Satan are good at lowering the standards but not good at raising them. This shows that God and Satan have little drive for self-improvement. God and Satan tend to just make things worse as time goes by, which isn't sustainable.

Closer Look: If you look at the situation with God and Satan any closer, it'll drive you nuts. I can't really do anything about the situation due to my position as a human. If others want things to change, they have to put the effort in. Gods tend to be out for themselves, so they have to fight a selfish nature to team up in order to get things in the universe changed for the better. I can only present the details of the current situation. Others need to do with it what they see fit.

Immaturity: I wasn't expecting the profound immaturity of the leadership and others in the universe. God is extremely immature, and it's reflected throughout the universe. Satan is also extremely immature. I expected most individuals in the universe to be more wise, educated, and cultured. I expected professionalism but found none. None! It's because the leadership (God and Satan) is all fucked up. From my position, how do you bring forth change and development of the entire system? Answer: a widespread "shotgun" approach. Let's hope other individuals and groups have the courage to push for change.

Good Time: This might be a good time to end this book. God and Satan aren't going to change unless they're forced to by others. The Light Side needs to step up and start helping those being tortured by the Dark Side. There needs to be a stop to God and Satan torturing humans and other beings. Jesus Christ needs to step in. God and Satan are both in the throgs of active addiction and have sociopathic personalities. The God and Satan "problem" needs to be solved, and I think that prison and/or execution is probably the only solution that'll work.

Eliminated: Demons will be eliminated for knowing too much. They'll be tortured and deleted by Satan.

Finite Life Spans: I think all beings, including God and Satan, should have finite life spans. I think that would be healthy for the universe overall. No one is meant to live forever—not even God. Just think of how narcissistic God is to think that he deserves to live forever. Such a douche.

Friendship: Satan doesn't really care about friendships or relationships. Satan is so used to not being able to associate with others because they don't really like him. Satan is a loner. He's so socially depraved that he can't make friends, so he tricks himself into thinking that him having zero friends is his own personal choice. LOL.

Willing Things into the Universe: Fears, gifts, and disease. If you think about it, it'll more than likely come true. It can be good or bad. This is because God doesn't write the story; instead, he looks to humans for them to write the stories. God steals the material from humans. So, if a human wants a significant other, God will write that significant partner into their life. However, if God curses them, like he did to me, their thoughts and desires won't turn into actuality.

Ass Clowns: This is really important. The ass clowns God and Satan have screwed everything up, and it's nearly impossible to find a solution that doesn't include revenge or punishment against God and Satan.

Gaslighting Satan

The victims of God and Satan deserve justice. God and Satan still think this is all just a stupid joke. Suffering is real. God and Satan are stunted in their maturity and personal growth. I think they'll stop laughing when their lives are about to end. If God and Satan think this is all just a joke, then they can leave. Others understand the seriousness of the situation. Again, suffering is real.

Breaking Bad: I want Jesus Christ to break bad and kick some ass. God and Satan are a moralist's dream because Jesus Christ could punish and kill them and be morally and ethically justified.

Disappointed: I have profound disappointment for what God and Satan have created. I'm profoundly disappointed in them. I'm also at a loss for words to describe how stupid this entire situation is. I really hope God and Satan suffer consequences for their cruelty and immaturity, which has led to the suffering of so many.

Failures: God claims his successes but not his failures. A lot of believers in God forget about the hard work they put into their own lives and blindly give tribute to God for their successes. There's a lot of personal, human hard work that God wrongly takes credit for. Don't give credit to God for the fruits of your own hard labors. God really doesn't do shit for anyone but gladly takes credit like a douchebag.

Fallen World: Earth is a fallen world, and God allows for the suffering to occur.

Angry with God: It's okay to be angry with God. Please let God know exactly what you're angry with him about and tell him why. Talk to him as if he's your subordinate in a tone that tells him you don't like him. God needs feedback from everyone—accurate feedback. If God doesn't receive this “hate mail,” he's going to be less likely to change and fix the problems he's caused.

Following: Ninety-nine percent of humans don't like Satan. Satan has no “real” following here on Earth. I argue that because he has pretty much zero following, Satan shouldn't be in charge of Earth. Jesus Christ would be a better supreme leader.

Fake Leader: Satan is a fake leader. Again, Satan has almost zero following on Earth. He's leading no one, yet Satan declares that he's the leader. Also, Satan is covert, and a real leader stands up and is open to the population.

Jealous of Atheists: I'm slightly jealous of atheists because they don't have to deal with the God/Satan bullshit. They don't have to deal with the reality of the bullshit. I used to be agnostic with a leaning toward atheism. It's almost easier to just not believe in God.

Losing Team: Demons play for the losing team—the Dark Side. When the Dark Side falls, Satan will abandon everything and try to disappear. Demons will be like ex-Nazi soldiers after Germany got its ass kicked in World War II.

Never Help: Never help God, and definitely never help Satan. Take this as a warning. I tried to help God and Satan, and they both caused me extreme pain and suffering. I nearly destroyed my livelihood in the process of helping God and Satan, and they screwed me out of the original contract by reneging on the deal. To my understanding, through all the past events becoming public, God and Satan have told the universe to never help them. In the end, God and Satan will ultimately hurt you and everyone they've ever associated with.

Gaslighting Satan

Public Enemy Number 1: I mention God a lot to not single out Satan as much. Satan is the real “Public Enemy Number 1.” However, God is just as horrible as Satan. I think eliminating God would be more beneficial than eliminating Satan, but eliminating them both would be the best solution.

Not in Control: God isn’t in control of everything. He attempts to make himself look more in control than he really is, but he isn’t. God also tries to make it look like he’s in control of his job, but he’s very absent. God tries to emphasize his successes and minimize his failures. This is all to make himself look good, which is truly a fake persona.

Success: Humans can succeed without God’s help or God’s involvement in their lives.

Screwing over Humans: God actively screws over/curses individuals. God cursed me at age fourteen. There’s too much bad blood between God and me. God has never apologized for cursing me. He cursed me for the wrong reason and has never apologized or made amends for it. I’ll never associate with God again as a result.

Never Apologizing: God avoids apologies. He thinks apologizing is a sign of weakness. It’s a stupid tactic on behalf of God because God won’t be able to get rid of the guilt and shame from the problems he’s caused.

Stupid: God and Satan are stupid. They make piss-poor decisions for themselves and others constantly. God and Satan don’t learn or change. God and Satan are defective, obsolete, always playing catch-up, and never on time.

Timing: Timing is very important in life. God and Satan don’t show up on time as a way to try to control others by wasting their time. However, this basically shows others not to depend on or associate with God and Satan. God and Satan think they still have a purpose, but humanity can’t rely on them. They’re like two immature children who can’t and won’t fix anything. There’s just no real purpose for God and Satan. They’re like dinosaurs—failing to evolve. Obsolete. Outdated.

Trust: Trust is the foundation of a relationship. You can’t trust God or Satan, so there really isn’t a relationship. One can’t trust God at all.

Prayer: Prayer is one-sided communication. God doesn’t even really listen to prayers anymore. Prayers most often go unanswered. Getting a prayer answered is all dependent on what mood God is in, and his emotions are like a drug-fueled roller coaster. There’s no consistency to God.

Retire: God and Satan should both make amends and retire before they end up being punished. I think people should give up on God, and God should leave everyone alone.

Artist: God considers himself an artist, and artists tend to make poor leaders.

Behaviors: God and Satan have unhealthy behaviors. They’re both messes and don’t improve themselves.

Tolerance: God prides himself on being tolerant. The truth is God just doesn’t even care and usually isn’t even watching or listening to what’s going on. God doesn’t pay attention. What God is doing isn’t tolerance—it’s dereliction of duty.

Gaslighting Satan

100 Percent: Never trust a person who says they're 100 percent of something. For example, never trust God. God says he's omnipotent, omniscient, etc. This is all made up. It's God lying to humanity again. God tries to make himself look better than he really is by lying all the time.

Lies: God and Satan lie all the time—so much so that they're beginning to believe their own lies.

Time: Time cures all things. God and Satan believe this because they think time will cause humanity to forget about all the bullshit they've caused. God and Satan have continually smeared shit over the entire timeline of human history up to the present day. God and Satan never stop causing heinous problems. Some things, like the Holocaust, will never be forgotten. Who do God and Satan think they're going to fool?

Demons: Demons have no disability coverage for when they get so psychologically messed up that they want to die. They'll ultimately be led into a horrible reality with no means of escaping their own mental illnesses and pathological thinking processes.

Light Side: I think the Light Side sticks to itself and doesn't often cross over and interact with the Dark Side. The Light Side is like a "first world," while the Dark Side is like a "third world." The Light Side doesn't want to visit the Dark Side. The Dark Side is a downgrade in comparison to the Light Side. The Dark Side isn't a vacation destination, and most don't want to visit it. The Light Side doesn't want to deal with Satan. Satan is hated on the Light Side.

Hatred: Ninety-nine percent of humanity would hate Satan if Satan ever opened up to humanity overtly. Satan doesn't lead humans because humans don't follow Satan. Satan's logic is retarded.

Passes: The Screen Actors Guild (SAG) gets passes to go from the Light Side to Earth on the Dark Side to work in Hollywood. I believe a lot of the Dark Side worlds are off-limits because they reflect poorly on God's reputation for existing.

Light Side: The Light Side is just to the right (good) side of neutral. Neutral isn't very good. My guess is that there are a lot of individuals who are a little bit good and a few who are really good. It's not really that hard to be on the Light Side, so that's good for everyone. A neutral person isn't a good person, and a lot of times, a neutral person is spineless and doesn't stand for anything. They practically just exist and don't help anyone but themselves.

Demon Transfers: I was told I was a demon in my past life. I want to transfer from the Dark Side to the Light Side. The Dark Side is so messed up, and I don't want to deal with Satan or demons.

Travel: Dark Side travel to the Light Side is prevented. The Light Side can go to the Dark Side, but the Dark Side can't travel to the Light Side. The Light Side individuals ignore the Dark Side because the Dark Side is trash compared to the Light Side.

Humanitarian: The Light Side needs to start changing the Dark Side by applying political pressure. There's so much suffering on the Dark Side, so it's the Light Side's duty to help alleviate it. The Light Side can help but isn't, to my understanding. This is the definition of cruelty. The Light Side is wrong for not helping alleviate the suffering on the Dark Side.

Gaslighting Satan

SAG: SAG is sick of the Dark Side's bullshit. SAG knows the Light Side, the Dark Side, and humanity. Earth is not ethical and is publicly unpopular for this reason. SAG, in a way, is comprised of the most cultured members of the universe.

Dichotomy: The Light Side is full of pleasure and peace. The Dark Side is full of suffering and pain. This stupid idea was God's. This is how God stupidly divided the universe. There are worlds that have varying ratios of pleasure/peace to suffering/pain. This dichotomy is pretty stupid. God has basically divided the universe when free communication would've been the best solution. Also, free travel without restriction to all worlds would've prevented things from getting so bad. Beings should have the ability to choose the worlds they want to visit. Free travel to all worlds would expose the secret shady shit that God and Satan have been doing. God and Satan are preventing this information from getting out. A lot of the worlds, both Dark and Light, aren't even on the travel list.

Hidden Worlds: God and Satan run torture worlds that are off-limits to others. God and Satan keep these worlds secret because the suffering is so extreme that if the information got out, it would permanently ruin God's and Satan's reputation. God and Satan are both sociopaths, and these hidden worlds are where they secretly and severely torture other beings. They are "Black Worlds" that don't exist to the general public. When the information on these "Black Worlds" comes out, a revolution will ensue. These "Black Worlds" are very similar to the USSR's gulag system or the Nazis' concentration camps. One could also compare them to Gitmo.

Light Side Needed: The Light Side needs to step up and help. God is on the Dark Side because God is more evil than good. God isn't neutral. Satan is on the Dark Side. There needs to be change. It's against the ideals of the Light Side for them not to help liberate the Dark Side. When the allies in World War II liberated the people in the Nazi concentration camps, they wished they had liberated them sooner. I know the Light Side is going to regret not acting earlier.

Culture Change: Maybe if the Dark Side demons had access to the Light Side benefits, they would realize how shitty their lives are, especially under Satan, and drive them to push for change. There needs to be mobility between the Dark Side and the Light Side. I'm not suggesting giving a demon a free pass to the Light Side but more likely a chaperoned exchange program or exchange of information.

Field Trips: Demons treat each other and others like shit. No one wants that. I think some field trips to the Light Side could stop some of these horrible negative behaviors. I don't think demons know what a healthy, functioning society looks like. Satan has the demons fighting over garbage and encourages internal discord. Maybe if the demons are shown some beauty and peace, they'd choose beauty and peace.

Holocaust: I use the Holocaust as a repeating example due to it being a crime that God and Satan have committed against humanity. The Holocaust is very well documented and witnessed. It won't be forgotten. The Holocaust is smoking-gun proof that God and Satan have been cruel to humanity. If I were to ever develop sympathy for God and Satan, I'd remember the Holocaust and remove those thoughts from my mind.

Potential: God and Satan should be encouraging and supportive of the potential in individuals instead of bringing them down. I really think God and Satan are jealous of individuals with great potential and talent. I think God and Satan like when humans fall to God and Satan's level. I think they feel that they can relate to a low-life individual more than an outstanding individual. You have to remember that God and Satan are depraved individuals. God and Satan don't like good people because God and Satan aren't good people and never will be.

Gaslighting Satan

Anger: You can be angry at God and Satan, but that anger will just end up destroying you. Lead a good life. God and Satan are always going to be bad individuals/criminals. There's no changing for God and Satan. A good way to go about it is to believe in God but avoid him. Obviously, avoid Satan, too. Trying to fix the world will drive you insane. God and Satan don't want the world fixed, so it'll never be fixed. In a way, you could spend all your energy trying to fix the world, but it might be futile because God and Satan will only counter your efforts. Instead, love and enjoy life, help those you can, and avoid God and Satan.

Never Help Satan: Never, ever help Satan. Hopefully, Satan will push himself toward his own death. Never, ever help God, either. Hopefully, God will push himself toward his own death, too. God and Satan will both ruin your life. Never help or associate with God or Satan. Jesus Christ is the answer.

Sense of Humor: People say God has a sense of humor, but the Holocaust wasn't funny. Take my word for it; God is not funny, and his personality is revolting. I can't laugh at any of God's jokes because I don't like him anymore. I'll never find him funny again. God isn't funny. God is cruel.

Stupidity of God: I've suffered through three years of bullshit and harassment. Not once does God think of the individuals/gods that he's going to screw over. God is profoundly immature. He's going to ultimately upset a lot of individuals, and they're going to want revenge.

Bullshit: God let all this bullshit happen to me because he's a sociopath and really only knows how to be cruel.

Stiller and Paltrow: God said Ben Stiller and Gwyneth Paltrow were gods and brother and sister. God said he tried to get them to have children together, which is incest. Apparently, it didn't work out. God is big on incest.

A human can only suggest. A human really has no true powers to bring forth change. The current status quo isn't sustainable. The suffering needs to be alleviated. God's system is broken and needs a serious overhaul. I'm passing on the torch that others need to keep running with. I can't fix stupidity or change individuals (God and Satan) who are resistant to change and in denial that there are any problems at all. The true situation, I believe, is much worse than is currently known. Everyone in the universe is responsible for the problems. A lot of time has been wasted, and a lot of suffering has been unduly created. I don't know if Plan Echo is going to work, but hopefully, it will with the support of others in the universe. I need other beings in the universe to plan and execute an optimal solution through loving and ethical collaboration. Please remember that one can defend themselves and others in the name of love.

What does God want to be remembered for? Good or bad? Maturity or immaturity? Substance abuse or sobriety? Kind and loving or mean and cruel? Love or hate?

What does Satan want to become? I'm talking about the person here, not the job. What does Satan want to be remembered for?

I'm afraid and concerned while awaiting answers to these questions because the answers will determine the next steps in the plan that the entire universe has to be involved in. Capital punishment is on the table as a viable solution.

Attention: I'm getting so much attention from demons. The demons are making me motivated and more resilient. I believe there's a big surprise to come for the demons that have been messing with me. I'm trying to encourage the demons to move to the “third party”—separate from God and Satan. I think this will be a good stance for them when the big surprise comes.

Abandoned: I believe that when the truth comes out, God and Satan will be abandoned. There will be public outcry. God is going to be looked at as if he were a Hitler-like creature. Proof of the poor leadership of God and Satan will be made public.

Green Chip: I received my thirty-day sobriety chip from Alcoholics Anonymous. When was the last time God or Satan didn't drink for thirty days?

Bottom: Satan is gay and a bottom. Satan plays with my ears—touches them. This is super gay and sexual assault. Satan is a sexual predator. I don't want this.

Cowards: God and Satan prey on the weak. They're both losers.

No Mobility: There's no upward mobility for demons. Demons are kept stupid and are purposely uneducated and untrained. All the good jobs on the Dark Side are accounted for. Satan makes it appear that there is upward mobility for the demons, but this is a lie to get them to work harder for nothing. After a demon has fulfilled its purpose, it's disposed of.

Frauds: God and Satan are frauds, not leaders. God and Satan think they are their jobs. They're both retarded clowns, so their jobs are to be retarded clowns. Retarded clowns make horrible leaders.

Yeast: Yeast will produce alcohol to the point that it'll kill the yeast. God and Satan produce so many problems that they'll ultimately be imprisoned or executed. I think God and Satan are as stupid as yeast.

Demons: God told me he created demons and then regretted it because he said demons are worthless.

More than Half: More than half of the universe hates Satan. That's a majority of the universe.

Death: Death to God and Satan is the best option. To let God and Satan live is a bad example for everyone in the universe. There's no need for God and Satan. Everything can be figured out without them. The systems can be studied and understood.

Others: I'm bringing others into this situation to find a solution. My life and my body are being violated on a daily basis. I've told God, Satan, and the demons to stop, but they don't. I need a personal protection order against God, Satan, and the demons.

Parasites: Experience has taught me that whether one is a human, a being, or a god, they shouldn't associate with God and Satan. God and Satan are parasites.

Chemical Imbalance: God and Satan's moods are governed by a chemical imbalance because they're unpredictable and volatile. The behaviors are usually predictable, though, because they're usually offensive and cruel.

Glasses: God creates human beings with poor vision. Some children can't even see because their vision is so poor. This is God torturing children.

Gaslighting Satan

Corrections Officers: Corrections officers don't torture or hurt the prisoners that they guard. A corrections officer could lose their job if they were acting inhumane or unethical. God and Satan act inhumane and unethical all the time. If Earth is a penal colony, God and Satan are torturing the inmates. For example, God and Satan are letting the demons mess with my body and face. This is unethical and inhumane treatment. Demons have no right to hurt another being. Demons have no ethics, no education, no training, no code of conduct, and no standards. The system is so fucked up. God and Satan really suck at their jobs. Humans are much more advanced than God and Satan.

Right to Complain: Everyone has the right to complain to God, and I encourage it. Complain to God every single day. I complain to him every single day, and I complain about God to God.

Dinosaurs: Dinosaurs are obsolete. God and Satan are dinosaurs. God and Satan refused to evolve/change as fast as humans in order to keep up with them. Now, God and Satan are obsolete and can't even fix the problems because they don't have the skills to do so.

Hurting People: There's a difference between hurting people by accident and hurting people on purpose. God and Satan hurt people on purpose. They're horrible creatures.

Fake Persona: Humans who worship God are actually worshipping a fake persona—it's not actually who God is. Those humans are worshipping a bunch of lies spread by God to make himself look better. God has started to believe his own lies, so he's not seated in reality. On Earth, no one worships the "real" God because the "real" God hasn't been revealed until now. Once the "real" God is revealed, no one will stand by God.

Criticism: God takes criticism as a sign of disrespect. He sucks at his job, so he should expect to not be respected because he sucks so bad. God is asinine to not expect criticism.

Prison: I don't believe God and Satan deserve rehab. I think they should go to prison and face execution. God and Satan are guilty, and there's no doubt about it. God and Satan deserve to be deleted or turned off like the stupid, evil, cruel sociopathic robots they are.

Jesus: Jesus Christ tried hard to be a good person. God and Satan don't even try to be good people. I can't have respect for God and Satan because they're not good people. Jesus Christ is the answer.

Fixing the Problems: God, and definitely the same for Satan, is never going to fix the problems on Earth because God can't fix them. I feel a lot of sympathy for the billions of others in the universe who are hurting as a result. Please remember that God has two hundred other worlds that are likely facing the same problems. God is the cause of tremendous suffering, and he can't even alleviate it. God would feel embarrassed because he can't fix the problems; therefore, he doesn't. The problems are too big for him to fix. God probably can't even code—he probably just lied about being a coder.

Need for a Leader: The universe needs a better "leader" than God. God isn't a leader. He's a poor excuse and shit show of a "leader." I'm hoping there's someone to step up to the plate. Satan, if Satan ever got his shit together, could do a "Saul becomes Paul" switch and possibly take over for God, but I doubt that'll happen. Satan would be smart if he did the "Saul becomes Paul" switch because it might just save his life. I think God and Satan are too stupid to understand that the situation is dire and they're both going to be blamed.

Gaslighting Satan

God's Code: God's code—the very essence of who he is—isn't compatible with what Earth and humanity need. God is obsolete. God is a dinosaur. God is “failure to evolve” at its best example. Satan is obsolete. There's no need for a Dark Side. God and Satan's insistence that there needs to be a Dark Side is an example of their poor leadership.

Whoever: In my prior book, Blackmailing God, I told of times when I met with God/Satan/demons. I'd like to say that they were reprehensible individuals. The angel was nice, but their presentation wasn't professional. Another time, I met the guy at the bar who told me to never publish this book. He was a dick. I think that was Satan. God met me at a bar once and was extremely socially awkward. God and Satan interact with human beings regularly but never tell others who they actually are. This is God and Satan living in the “shadows.” God and Satan are sloppy operators.

Mother: I tried to explain this to my own mother, and she told me I was anti-God. I'm not anti-God. I'm pro-Jesus Christ. I don't align with God, and I definitely don't align with Satan. I only align with Jesus Christ.

Truth: There's a possibility that I only encountered Satan. This is most likely because Earth is a penal colony created by God to be ruled by Satan. I think Earth is kind of a “black eye” for God, and God knows that. I might have been communicating with Satan the entire time.

Psychological Abuse: I experienced a lot of psychological abuse when I was interacting with the universe. I also experienced a lot of psychological abuse as a child. God and Satan are no match for my mother. She was really mean. I used many of the same tactics against God and Satan, and I defended myself. I also made psychological attacks myself. God and Satan don't know who they're messing with. I will own them.

Jesus Christ: Why can't God just act like Jesus Christ? God doesn't even know his own personality. I think God can't act like Jesus Christ because God doesn't have the character to do so. God is an imp. He's a joke and has no substance. God will never, ever be at the level of Jesus Christ.

Withdrawing Support: God withdrew support for me when I was a fourteen-year-old kid. I was an emotionally messed up kid, which shows that God did the polar opposite of what he should've done. God should've provided me with more support but didn't. The withdrawal of support was God's way of hurting me. I'm an example of what God did wrong.

Lunacy: Earth is a fallen world. God gave Earth to Satan to run. If you remember, Satan is the “Moon God,” and God is the “Sun God.”

Miss God: I haven't heard from her in a while, and to show my lack of respect for her, I'm going to call her Miss god with a lower-case “g.”

Buyout: I received an offer from Satan to buy me out. That's not going to happen. This book is getting published.

Blinded By Power: God is blinded by power. Satan could never be God. In a way, Satan is a little bitch who tries to play first fiddle. Both God and Satan are blinded by power and thus are “fucked” individuals.

Clyde: Clyde is my guardian angel. Clyde has no moral integrity. Clyde sold his soul to God and, in exchange, abandoned me when I really needed help during childhood. Clyde is a little bitch.

Gaslighting Satan

Digging Holes: God told me he had to go out and dig a hole in the dirt with a shovel because he forgot how hard manual labor was. God shouldn't be in charge if he's so disconnected from life on Earth that he doesn't know how difficult manual labor is. God really is a weakling.

Dog Fighter: God and Satan are basically the deity equivalents of dog fighters. They just pit others against each other and watch the fights happen. They do this for their own sadistic pleasure.

Control: Everyone in the universe just wants control of others or things. They want to covet and control assets—whether materialistic or something else. God is the greediest individual in the universe.

Earth Best Work: I was told by God that Earth was some of his best work. Fuck God for shitting where he eats like a pig. God destroys Earth and hurts humanity. In a way, God is destroying his best work. Also, there's a possibility that God didn't create anything, not even Earth, but just stole it from someone else.

Respect: God doesn't deserve respect. I have no respect for God.

Involved: Those involved with this entire situation are going to be lucky to be dead someday. They're going to be found out and likely tortured. I've told them hundreds of times to walk away, and their stupidity made them stay until it was too late. It's too late for them to leave now.

Women: God is a chauvinistic pig. God has hurt women all throughout history. Women couldn't take respected roles in the church where men dominated. God has really let most, if not all, women throughout history down.

Coding Camp: There are coding camps in the universe where other beings code their own worlds. I fear this because there's probably no regulation that checks whether the creator/coder is ethical. There's no guarantee that the creator/coder is going to treat his creations with respect and be nice to them. Look at God and how shitty he is to his own creations. I fear a bunch of sociopathic pieces of shit very similar to God are creating worlds and beings and torturing them just like God has.

Biggest Loser: God is the biggest loser. He is the "original douchebag."

Shitty Father: God always wants to be called "God the Father," but in reality, he's a shitty father and a dead-beat dad. God is a horrible father, and I don't think he should be referred to by that term anymore because calling God a father is blasphemous to good fathers.

Suicidality: God threatens to kill himself all the time. I think God should kill Satan and then kill himself. God's ultimately going to abandon humanity. God isn't going to fix the problems; he's just going to wait for them to get worse and then leave. I think it would be thoughtful of God to kill himself because of the horrors he's perpetrated against humanity and for the even worse horrors that humans are going to experience in the future. It would be honorable of God to admit that he screwed up and then kill himself.

Big Problems: God has created very big problems. These problems are bigger than God, and God has no skill set to deal with them. Remember, God is possibly just a computer coder—he's not a leader.

Fear of Death: Humans naturally mature over time because of their fear of death/the unknown. Humans are told they have a finite time on Earth, so some try to make the most of it. On the other hand, God thinks he's going to live forever, so he's never had to grow up. There's no rush for God. There are no life goals for him either. It's as if God is permanently stuck as Peter Pan. This is God's "Peter Pan syndrome" that I mentioned in Blackmailing God. I know for a fact that God doesn't know what's on the "other side" and that he's scared of what's going to happen when he dies. God tries to minimize physical movement thinking it will help slow his aging process. God also likes not telling how old he is to anyone because he thinks that declaring himself a certain age causes aging. This way, God prevents his maturation and is thus an immature fuck-tard forever.

Forced Sin: God forces his creations to sin so he can then punish them. God enjoys punishing others because he's a sadistic asshole. I believe God's creations sin because God created them poorly because he's a shitty creator/coder. He blames his creations for problems he's caused because God is a piece of shit.

Pray to God: Send a prayer to God telling him to go fuck himself. Tell God off. Please. God is the reason for all the horror in your life and in this world.

No Perfection: There can be no perfection because God isn't perfect. God is far from it. God demands perfection, though, which is a double standard. So, God asks things of humans that aren't possible, and then he tortures humans when they can't achieve perfection.

World War II: God really needed to intervene before World War II broke out. God and Satan both egged on the situation to make it all blow up into a horrible conflict. If you remember, Satan played Hitler. Satan actually admitted to being Hitler. God missed the opportunity to intervene with humanity, and it led to nuclear war. Now, the entire Earth is covered in nuclear fallout. God totally screwed up, and his inaction led to changes on Earth on a global scale. I think it was Satan who said World War II was "awesome!"

Judged: God lives his life as if he's never going to be judged—a true showing of his lack of character. God thinks he can do anything because he believes he's never going to face consequences.

Rape and Assault: I want those in the universe who have been raped or assaulted by God to come forth one by one. I want God's reputation to be killed once and for all. I want him to be known for being the disgrace he truly is. The same goes for Satan—everyone hurt by him should come forth and ruin Satan once and for all.

Sex Trafficking: God or Satan once accused me of sex trafficking when he knew he was a sex trafficker. Either one of them was trying to normalize sex trafficking by doing this, and I think he was trying to place some of the blame on me. God and Satan both use adult and child prostitutes. They both even said that pedophilia was "cool."

Death: God doesn't know what's beyond this life. God has said that every time he kills himself, he gets reborn, but that's within the computer program he designed. God needs to kill himself outside of the computer program to find out what's beyond the life he's currently living. I hope God kills himself outside of the program. I hope God's Creator tortures the shit out of God for being such an abomination to life. God is scared of "real death."

Evidence Against God: The evidence against God is plentiful. God knew about the coronavirus before it happened and probably even orchestrated the pandemic. This is a crime against humanity. I think God and Satan created the coronavirus and designed it to mutate so it would stick around Earth for a while, like the Delta variant. God and Satan have hurt every single human on Earth with the coronavirus. That's an execution-level crime. God has a history of sending plagues and biological terrors to humanity, such as the plagues of Egypt and the bubonic plague. I think God and Satan had a hand in all of the past plagues and pandemics. In the Bible, God is always spreading diseases to humans.

Diseases: God and Satan created all diseases. For example: tuberculosis, HIV, herpes, HPV, and cancers. God also created a shitty human body that becomes disease-ridden, then breaks down into psychological and physical pain. God is a real asshole.

Deletion of Memories: I think God deletes memories of the heinous acts he's committed against humanity so he can be in complete denial and unaware that he's lying when he says he didn't do it. It's like he wants the pleasure of hurting others but deletes the memories later on when the guilt and shame become too much to handle.

Signal Turners: God talked about this stupid system of signal turners where there are beings that hold up flip cards, like in a stadium to spell out words/show pictures, when you visit the universe. I don't know if this is true or not, but God said the entire system could be taken down by a person riding a nice, shiny bicycle in front of them because the signal turners would want that new bicycle. The signal turners don't get paid very much and were kept complacent by God telling them they had a great job. I'm trying to use this as an example of God controlling information and suppressing communication in order to control individuals and worlds. God is like a totalitarian dictator but proclaims to be fair. God suppresses communication so others don't realize God is screwing them over on a daily basis.

Unemployment: There are a bunch of gods with no jobs in the universe. God has an unemployment problem. There's really no reason for gods to work because everything is provided to them for free in some of the worlds that they go to. I think this lack of work leads to the gods experiencing boredom, so then they cause problems through stupid games and hurting others. I think this also leads to rampant substance abuse problems. Another funny thing is that gods think work is beneath them, so none of them have any work ethic or drive to get ahead through actually doing a job.

Romania: God had to be completely bombed on drugs to have missed the horrors that happened to orphaned children in Romania from 1966 to 2004. Ceausescu banned contraception, and millions of orphans flooded orphanages. I'm using this as an example of a very long-term conflict where God didn't even intervene. God supposedly gets a daily briefing on what's happening in each world, and he bragged about being so informed about the happenings on Earth. In Romania, there was horrible physical abuse, psychological abuse, sexual abuse, poverty, lack of food, lack of parental contact, and diseases that affected millions of orphans. I don't know how God wouldn't know about it. Supposedly, he has the best press briefing in the universe, so I think God knew about the suffering and did nothing about it—showing that God is cruel. The situation in Romania shows a lack of oversight by God. God knew what was going on to those innocent children and, by doing nothing, hurt them all. God hurts children, and Romania is a perfect example of God doing so.

Finances: I was told I wouldn't have to worry about money. Money is important, as it provides security. This is really funny because God criticizes the same capitalist system that has made him a trillionaire.

Working on a Plan: God always says he's working on a plan for me. The problem is that because God is so slow at making the plan, by the time he's done fabricating a plan, it's too late. God is slow. Very slow. Also, God could just be lying and not working on any plan at all.

Six Months: I'm always threatened that something is going to happen in six months.

Gaslighting Satan

Saul Becomes Paul: I asked Satan to defeat God and become better than he ever was. Satan could defeat God just by becoming better than him. I told Satan to stop the bullshit. I reminded him that suffering is real. I think the only true way Satan can defeat God is by becoming better than God, as in more ethical and moral with better character.

Publishing: Gaslighting Satan is to be published as soon as possible. If I'm hurt or killed, it'll only prove my point that there's no purpose for God or Satan in the universe.

Rebirth: I presented the idea that Satan should be reborn as a human in the small town I grew up in but to a put-together, loving family. I feel that God has tormented and hurt Satan in a sociopathic way, so perhaps Satan deserves a second chance. God feels like he's always hurt, so he uses this excuse of being hurt to justify hurting others. God has hurt Satan repeatedly. Satan just has to be marginally better than God to defeat him. I think Satan being reborn would fulfill this metamorphosis from "Saul into Paul." Hopefully, Satan will be at least 20 percent better than God. If Satan can be 20 percent better than God, he'll be able to usurp authority, but he must have a loving, ethical mindset from then on. I don't think Satan can do it, and I think God is obsolete. There's no way Satan is going to ever change for the better.

National Debate: I challenged God to a Jefferson-Davis-style debate. I told God that if I lost to him, he could take my life. The debate had to be televised on the Internet. God wouldn't agree to it because he's a pussy.

Oculus Sinister: I had a dream that an evil eye was looking at me. It was the left eye—the evil eye.

Already Dead: I was told I'm already dead and everyone on Earth is already dead. I feel that God and Satan don't consider the "dead" beings in the same way, so a "living" being is treated well. I think this is an excuse for God and Satan to hurt everyone on Earth. They just consider them "dead." This is so stupid. Suffering is real. Reality is real.

Eight-Year-Old: God has an eight-year-old mentality. God isn't at the level of a fourth-grader but is actually less developed than I previously thought.

Bill Gates: I was told Bill Gates did drugs, and God showed him a vision of a printed circuit board. This might have been where Bill Gates got some of his ideas from.

Rape: God or Satan raped me by licking my ear on September 24, 2021. This was really gross. I can't believe how immature and heinous both God and Satan are. Also, it's really gay that they did that. I would never lick another man's ear. God and Satan are pretty gay. I count anything that touches me as rape and assault. God and Satan have thus raped me thousands of times. This is real criminal behavior on behalf of God and Satan. I could justifiably kill both of them for what they've done to me.

Satan: God is the problem for allowing Satan to exist. God is to blame for Satan.

Original Sin: The original sin was committed by God, not by man. God was a douchebag first to his creations, and God said that "Don't Be a Douchebag" was the only real rule.

Ear Raping: I've been ear raped repeatedly, over and over by God and Satan. It's like a tactile feeling usually in my left ear canal, and it's really gay. Sometimes, it's the right ear canal. It's really gay that God and Satan do this. I think this is one of their ways of harassing people. It's considered rape because it's unwanted penetration of a body orifice.

Gaslighting Satan

Deletion: Satan can easily be deleted by God, but God refuses to delete Satan because God is a sociopath who has very few friends. Because God has very few friends, he doesn't want to delete Satan. Satan has zero friends. Both God and Satan deserve to die together.

Hit: I originally placed a twenty-five-million-point hit out on Satan and God's lives but then upped it to 100 million points to whoever kills both of them. The points will come from seized assets.

Artist: God just wants to be an artist/creator. God doesn't really want to be a leader—he told me that once.

Other "Gods": Other "Gods" and other universes exist, too. Hopefully, their "Gods" treat them better than God treats us.

Light Side: The Light Side needs to kick up its game. The Light Side sitting idly by and watching suffering, knowing they could intervene, is cruel. I'm losing respect for the Light Side because they don't seem to care about the horrors that God and Satan have been committing on the Dark Side.

Privacy: A person's private life is often worse than their public life. There's a nearly 100 percent chance that God is much more heinous than I've already talked about.

Rape: I was raped again on September 30, 2021. This penetration of my ear orifice is really, really gay and unwanted. God is gay. Satan is gay.

Remote Control: God started out creating radio control creations and then developed them into autonomously controlled creations that he wanted to control. So really, God has a control problem. He's always trying to control creations, even if they're autonomous like a human.

Gnashing of Teeth: In the Bible, the gnashing of teeth is mentioned. God really didn't have teeth at first. This is an example of God trying to relate a human behavior to himself.

Minecraft: The universe's worlds are basically just like a more detailed version of Minecraft. I think Minecraft allows a first-person viewpoint as well. Basically, if you just skip the computer simulation and become the digital character, you have what our reality is. Humans are very close to creating sentient digital beings that feel and think. Minecraft is a perfect example of the next stage of human evolution—humans creating artificial intelligence. Our world is basically a harsh one with a lack of resources that God has used to torture digital life.

Punishment: For how horrible and harsh Earth is, I should've suspected long ago that God had placed us here for torture. I didn't fully believe in God in the past, though. I think God and Satan didn't honor the first deal because I'm here under a "to be punished" status.

Blackmailing God: Submitted for copyright on November 24, 2021.

Holocaust: I want to reiterate here that God authorized the Holocaust and also COVID-19.

Detroit Lions: Satan is the Detroit Lions of beings—he's always going to lose.

Gaslighting Satan

Events: The fact that God has allowed all of the horrors of the past to occur on Earth shows the ineffectiveness of God as a leader. Both God and Satan are profoundly evil and have no purpose for existing today. Poor leadership, cruelty toward others, etc. There's no purpose in modern-day society for God or Satan.

Penal Colony: God originally intended for Earth to be a penal colony where humans worked off the sins of their past life through hard work. Satan, with God's permission, took Earth and turned it into a torture colony. Earth wasn't supposed to be a torture world. The fact that it's become that shows God's poor oversight because Satan has been allowed to excessively hurt humanity, far worse than I thought God intended humanity to be hurt. This shows that God doesn't really care about other beings being tortured for no reason. God is a sociopath, and Satan is a sociopath. Both God and Satan need to be eliminated, as well as other lesser demons. The situation on Earth is just so fucking stupid—just as stupid as God and Satan are.

No Help: There's no one who can correct the problems on Earth because God and Satan are nowhere to be found. God and Satan really don't think there's a problem at all, and this might show how jaded God and Satan have gotten when it comes to torturing humans and other beings. They both really don't see any issue with how Earth is going. Satan has made Earth worse than it was initially intended to be. There's no recourse for humanity because the leadership in the universe sucks. The leadership (God and Satan) in the universe is ineffective and intentionally cruel. This is an awful combination. Blame God for all the problems. Blame Satan for making these problems worse.

Facial Touching: I feel touching on both the right and left side of my head. I know that "God's" or "Satan's"—if that's who they are—goal is to get me to not publish Blackmailing God. They think that by torturing me, I won't publish the book. The effect is the opposite and actually motivates me to publish even more. I've told whoever is pestering me to stop, but they're too stupid to do so. Whoever it is lacks maturity and emotional control. To my understanding, God has allowed deities with no leadership skills and no ethics to hurt others with no recourse for their behaviors. This is the same on Earth, where piss-poor humans are allowed to hurt other humans for so long. This shows that God is a poor leader.

Dream: In this dream, I was in an entertainment venue, and there were drug needles all over the ground. There were also go-karts that people would pay to ride. God was there, depicted as a white male, and I spoke to him and told him he was horrible and an awful creator.

Death Threats: I was threatened that if I publish, I'll be killed. God and Satan threatened to kill my entire family, which shows that they're both tyrannical sociopaths. God is involved in this, too. I was told that I was hated. To tell you the truth, I hate God and Satan. I wish for them both to be punished and hopefully exterminated.

Failure of Relationships: From the first book, Blackmailing God, to this book, relations with God and Satan have degraded. Now it's as if they both want me to commit suicide, but Blackmailing God is getting published regardless. At the time of this writing, four people have read Blackmailing God in its entirety. One can never let evil win. Evil must be eliminated, and if that means God must be destroyed, it means that God must be destroyed.

No Ethics: God created evil beings to hurt humans. Usually, these sinister beings are in the shadows. I'm dealing with them directly, which isn't supposed to happen. For some reason, God has allowed these evil beings to interact with me for three years now. This just shows that God is possibly upset with me or that he doesn't care. Also, God might not have any control over the situation, showing that he's not omnipotent. God doesn't respect life—not even his own life. This is a very horrible situation because if God doesn't respect his own life, he likely won't respect all life. God has no motive to make things better. God just sits idly by while others are hurt and tortured.

Sins: I was told I've paid for my sins, yet I'm still being harassed and assaulted sexually, psychologically, and physically. This shows that cruelty is driving the behaviors of those who are attacking me. God is cruel. Satan is cruel. Demons are cruel. They all derive pleasure from destroying human lives and hurting others. They (God/Satan/demons) must all be eliminated to improve the universe.

Six Months: I keep getting told I have only six months to live. I'm also told I'll never be a doctor again. It's as if God and Satan want to drive me into homelessness and bankruptcy, which they have both threatened to do.

Love: God isn't loving; God is cruel. There's no doubt about it. Look at Earth. Earth is a cruel world and evidence of God's cruelty.

Stop Praying to God: Stop praying to God and only pray to Jesus Christ. God doesn't deserve to stay in power. God has proven to humanity over and over that he's a failed leader and a sociopathic tyrant. Pray to Jesus Christ instead.

Light Side: I have denounced God, Satan, and the Dark Side. I belong to and align with the Light Side. I just wish the Light Side would show more effort at trying to improve things in the universe.

Turn the Other Cheek: God and Satan aren't capable of "turning the other cheek." God and Satan don't have the self-control to resist retaliating against others when they're supposedly wronged. I've tested them both hundreds of times, and God and Satan have failed every single time. Both God and Satan retaliate when they feel they're wronged/threatened, even when their retaliatory acts aren't favorable for their own positions. This shows that God isn't understanding or forgiving; instead, God is malicious. This is a sign of God's immaturity. Satan is also extremely immature and impulsive. But what would you expect from two dinosaurs that failed to evolve? Both God and Satan are obsolete and not compatible with modern society.

Religion: God created religion so he would be worshipped. God is only a creator. God is a piss-poor leader, for the record. So, God is like an artist who wants to be worshipped. This shows that God is extremely arrogant and self-righteous. Satan, I think, just followed God's lead and wanted to be worshipped by others as well. What douchebag would demand to be worshipped? The answer: a douchebag. How about when the douche does such a piss-poor job? How about a douchebag that possibly didn't even create anything but just stole the ideas and code from others?

Problems: All of God's creations are plagued by problems. I argue that God isn't as good of a creator as he thinks. God's ego is over-inflated, and his narcissism has gotten the best of him. Humans can look around and pick out numerous problems in living organisms. The evidence of problems with God's designs is overwhelming and confirms that God is a piss-poor creator. Just look at the human body, for example. The human body is full of problems, both medical and psychological.

Personal Protection Order: I prayed to Jesus Christ and requested a PPO against God, Satan, and any demons that have been harassing me. I'm trying to stay sober from booze, but God and Satan want me to fail. That isn't kindness but evidence of God and Satan's cruelty. They're not looking out for me to get better but instead want me to fail.

Gaslighting Satan

Better: God hates it when others are “better” than him. God doesn’t like to feel inferior, but he never does any personal development to make himself “better”—God just shits on anyone who tries to get ahead. This isn’t love but jealousy-driven cruelty.

Piece of Shit: Satan knows he’s a piece of shit. He doesn’t care. I really don’t think God cares about himself being a piece of shit, too. Two “leaders” who don’t care that they suck but still insist they should be in charge is a very bad situation.

Felonies: God and Satan have committed thousands of felonies against me, including physical assault, sexual assault, stalking, and harassment. God and Satan are basically two no-good criminals. On Earth, criminals aren’t placed in charge, but God’s universe is run by criminals. Do you see how messed up this is? For example, God killed all of the humans on Earth at one point. That is über-Hitler criminal activity. God and Satan need to be removed and replaced by ethical leaders who actually have the skills required to lead the universe. Again, God and Satan are both obsolete due to their reluctance to change themselves for the better. Everyone suffers because God and Satan won’t improve themselves.

Eye Touching: It feels as if my eyes are constantly being poked at by something like a small paintbrush. This happens constantly and all throughout the day. It comes and goes. This is assault and harassment. I’ve also experienced a stabbing pain in my head. I know this isn’t from organic causes because it comes and goes and is something that’s usually threatened before it occurs. I’m repeatedly raped in my ears by an object that goes into my ear canal. This has also been threatened and then has subsequently occurred. Sometimes, I’m threatened with scalp pain, and then I experience scalp pain. God and Satan are sadistic, and I believe they both derive pleasure from hurting me.

Immaturity: God and Satan will sink to any low level. They have no standards, nor do they care about their shitty reputations. God and Satan never act professionally, and if they’re upset, they respond in ways that are illegal and out of proportion to the wrong they supposedly received. This just shows how immature and undeveloped they are. This also shows that both God and Satan have no understanding of what it is to be human. They’re both disconnected from humanity. A perfect example of God retaliating out of proportion is the flood. God killed everyone because he was mad at them. Very heavy-handed, in my own opinion.

Liking God: There’s nothing in the Bible that says that you must “like” God. In fact, it says you should fear God. This is true because God is a tyrannical sociopath, and no one likes a tyrannical sociopath. People fear God because he’s insane and cruel—cruelly insane. Really, no one likes God; they only tolerate him. People pray to God for material things and other blessings, but I would caution ever becoming friends with him because he’ll likely turn on you, call you an enemy, and then hurt you. That’s exactly what God did to me. God pretended to be my friend, even though he hurt me during my childhood and tried to kill me, and then later turned on me. No one should ever be a friend of God. You’ll likely regret it. Keep God far away from you and your family, and you’ll probably do fine. The problem comes from being recognized by God; God will destroy your life like he destroys and hurts everyone.

Friend: God was never my friend. God has hurt me too many times in my life for me to ever consider him a friend. God is insane, and he shouldn’t be trusted. A person’s life is better without God in it, in most cases. Remember, God is the type of immature child who will kick down the sandcastle you built at the beach. It’s best to avoid God, and I’d recommend never praying to God or asking him for anything.

Strings Attached: If you ask God for anything, it always comes with strings attached, and likely, God will never even help you. God usually uses prayer as an invitation to your life to destroy it and cause problems as he sees fit. Never invite God into your life. You might regret it in the long run, and you may not ever get what you originally asked for. It's better to work hard for what you want and obtain it or buy it yourself. Leave God out of your life.

Proof: I'm proof of God and Satan's cruelty. My story is proof of the horrors that can happen when you seek out God. Never, ever seek out Satan. God and Satan are equally horrible, so you'll probably get something horrible back in return if you seek out either one of them. Just warning you.

Damned: Writing Blackmailing God and Gaslighting Satan has likely damned me to a horrible life and afterlife. It's worth it if the truth is disseminated. I hope all this information will drive other good beings in the universe to rally for the elimination of God and Satan.

Dark Side: The Dark Side makes the Light Side look bad. The fact that the Light Side isn't doing enough shows almost a level of cruelty on the part of the Light Side. This is because the Light Side seems to be doing nothing to prevent the cruelty toward and the torture of those stuck on the Dark Side, like humans on Earth. What's worse is that God heavily associates himself with the Dark Side, so the entire balance of the universe is shifted toward evil, cruelty, pain, and torture. This is neither fair nor equal. God isn't fair or neutral. God is evil and cruel, and he's the biggest problem in existence. God, by the way, and Satan should just be deleted along with all demons.

Fake Reputation: God's reputation is fake and based on lies. Anyone who worships God isn't actually worshipping God because his persona is just made of lies. This would be like a human worshipping a character from a movie. The character isn't the same as the movie star. It's just all fake. If people knew the "real" God, they would be repulsed and would likely not want anything to do with him.

The Weak: God and Satan both pick on the weak and then hide away like cowards.

Fear: Fearing someone is not the same as respecting them. God and Satan are emotional loose cannons that threaten others to avoid them. They tell others to "fear" them. This is kind of like a bully plus a coward combination. God and Satan are both bullies and cowards. God and Satan pick on the weak who can't defend themselves. God and Satan's thinking that hurting others shows that they're powerful really shows that they're both emotionally immature and weak-minded. Both God and Satan have very fragile egos. They're like cartoon boys. Their sense of self is overinflated, and they're easily hurt by character attacks.

Will Not Step Down: Neither God nor Satan will ever step down from power because they're addicted to controlling and hurting others. They both wouldn't know what to do with themselves if they didn't have their positions.

Mental Illnesses: God and Satan's mental illnesses make them predictable and thus easy to defeat because they're very weak. These mental illnesses also make them poor leaders. The fact that God and Satan have so much dirt on them and exhibit predictable behaviors makes them both easy to manipulate and blackmail. God tries to use "opposite day" to throw things off, but it's very predictable still. Both God and Satan often do nothing, regardless of the day, and really just sit around. The worst day for all is when God and Satan are in their manic episodes because they both have untreated bipolar.

Brain: The brain is fake. It's a cover-up. All memories that a human has are stored on a drive within the simulation program. The anatomy is a red herring to throw off humans from believing the simulation theory, but the fact that the brain is so simple kind of defeats this red herring tactic. For example, the anatomy of the brain still hasn't led from research to understanding what consciousness really is.

Worst Job: God has the worst job because he has to remember everything—including the heinous acts he's committed against his own family and others.

Ride Operator: God described the universe like he was the ride operator at a bumper car attraction at a carnival. God said he's needed because he helps out the bumper cars (people) when they get stuck or the system glitches.

Angels: Angels aren't very nice. They're kind of like jerks with inflated egos and inflated senses of self-righteousness. This is gross—kind of like how God is gross. Angels are pretty much neutral, but they can act demonically and evil at times. They just have to be neutral to nice overall. For example, God had angels slaughter all the firstborns in Egypt, which means that angels kill. That's not very nice.

Raised Self: God chose to raise himself even after there were others to raise him and help him develop. God chose to do it his own way because “God knows best,” but this might just be a showing of God's narcissistic traits. This also might have started God's downfall.

Humans Are Just as Creative as God: Humans are capable of doing and thinking up things that are better than what God could create. An example of this is Pokémon. Actually, humans are more creative than God. One has to remember that more complex isn't always more impressive, especially when that complexity is used to hide the truth from humans to prevent humans from blaming God.

Take a Step Back: God looks at all humans as being inferior and almost like children. If God thinks humans are like children, that means God is basically hurting children in his own mind. God is a child abuser in his own mind, and he's okay with that. This is because God is underdeveloped.

Peers: God may look at humans as being peers. Still, this doesn't explain God's sociopathic behaviors toward humans.

No Help Line: Even though God was involved in early telephone/telegraphy, there's no “help line” that humans can call to access God. There isn't even a website. God doesn't want any attachment to humanity.

Deadbeat Dad: God is a deadbeat dad. God left, but he still exists. God just chooses not to communicate.

Inferiority: God and Satan look at humans as if they're inferior, yet they partake and interact with humans to make their trillions.

Code: God's code is so fucked up that God thinks what he's doing is normal. He's an obsolete dinosaur of a being.

Blame: God can't blame me for publishing Blackmailing God. Not at all. To play devil's advocate, God should've seen this coming before it happened if he was omniscient. God should have, if God was omniscient, seen this coming. God is too much of a pussy to be open. I hate the term “pussy” because it's not appropriate, so I'll call God a “limp-dick bastard” instead.

Gaslighting Satan

Job Offering: God said he helped me land a physician gig. Great position. Great benefits. Should I accept this as God's amends? I still haven't been paid for the services I've rendered to countless beings in the universe. Absolutely not. God owes me at least ten million dollars because of this debacle. I owe nothing to God, and I'm not going to thank him at all for the job I got through hard work and dedication.

Suck It Up: I've decided God just really has to suck it up. He's going to look bad because he chooses not to evolve. It's God's fault, and if God actually wants to deal with his issues, he can do it in court like a civilized human being. If God continues to hurt me, it just shows that God is a complete loser.

Parenting: God is like a child. God feels that he has no constrictions, so he does whatever he wants to do. Again, God suffers from "Peter Pan Syndrome," where he thinks he'll never grow up and should never have to. The reality that God has created isn't beautiful. It is, in fact, very disgusting. God is a disgusting piece of shit.

Signal Plan: I offered God the opportunity to open up the world and humanity to himself. God didn't accept. I can't force God to do something he doesn't want to do. Please accept my condolences to the world. I tried to get God to open up, but like usual, God acted like a scared turtle. A very scared turtle.

Blame: God can't blame me for publishing Gaslighting Satan. Not at all. God, in his "infinite wisdom," should've understood that publishing Blackmailing God and Gaslighting Satan would eventually happen. God is just too much of a limp-dick bastard to be open about it.

I feel this is a good place to end this book. Everything has been discussed in this book, Gaslighting Satan, and my first book, Blackmailing God. I want to put it in here that in the many times I said "God and Satan," I really meant just Satan. Satan is the target that needs to be worked on and fixed or eliminated. Or is it God that needs to be the first to go? I really think that eliminating them both in one fell swoop would be good. Knock out two birds with one stone.

This might be easier than we think because God and Satan are best buddies. God and Satan are intertwined to the point that they're inseparable. It would be kind of fun to get rid of them. Everything dear to both God and Satan can be taken away awfully easily, and they don't even know how easy it can be done. Enemies...enemies...enemies...God and Satan have numerous enemies, and the information in these two books will point out that God and Satan have no purpose. No reason to exist.

Various Plans That I Have Implemented:

Signal Plan: (Never Implemented.)

Plan Alpha: God goes to therapy. (FAILED.)

Plan Bravo: Satan goes to therapy. (FAILED.)

Plan Charlie: God and Satan go to rehab. (FAILED.)

Plan Delta: Death to Satan. (Pending.)

Plan Echo: Send both to rehab together. (Never going to happen.)

Gaslighting Satan

Plan Foxtrot: Imprison God and Satan. (This is up to the Light Side.)

Plan Golf: Execute both God and Satan. (This is up to the Light Side.)

And this concludes my psychological assessment of both God and Satan. My next book, Killing an Angel, will cover the failings of the Light Side, which in all actuality makes the Light Side very cruel indeed.
